

PRECEDENTS UPSET IN LATE ELECTION

Many Signs and Portents Discredited and Traditions Set at Naught.

OLD COMBINATION REVIVED

South and West Again in Political Saddle—Country Carried Without New York and Maine Falls to Point Out Way.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12. (Special).—Many records were broken in the Presidential election and it means a turning point in American history. Political traditions were upset, precedents nullified, signs and portents discredited.

For the first time since Andrew Jackson, a Democratic President has been re-elected in succession to himself. For the first time a President has been elected without the vote of New York. For the first time Maine went Republican in September and the country Democratic in November.

New Combination Made.
Jackson won the Presidency by a combination of the South and the new West. Wilson has been re-elected by a combination of the Solid South, Ohio and the newer Far West.

The Democratic party has abandoned traditional policies, such as opposition to a protective tariff. The Republican party, unable to unite completely its liberal and conservative factions, is regarded by some leaders as in need of reorganization along new and definite Nationalistic lines.

Party lines were bent and shattered by the complicated issues of the campaign, but mostly in favor of the Democrats. The President received much support from Progressives, yet he also carried that citadel of the Republicans, Utah, one of the two states won by Taft in 1912.

High-Water Mark Exceeded.
In 1912 Wilson was elected with 1,200,000 fewer votes than the Republican and Progressive poll combined. In 1916 he was elected with 400,000 more votes than the Republican and reelected Progressives. Bryan, in 1896, polled a larger popular vote than any Democratic candidate for the Presidency in the history of the country until Wilson, in 1916, exceeded that high-water mark by more than 2,000,000 votes.

In September a Republican landslide swept Maine. Immediately after the passage of the Adamson law, The Republican plurality was 12,000. Two months later the Republican plurality was reduced to less than 6000. In 1912 Taft and Roosevelt together polled 76,600 votes in Maine. Hughes received 6000 fewer votes this year, while Wilson received 13,000 more than in 1912.

The recovery of ground by the Democrats after the September election was remarkable.

Vote in New England Analyzed.
In New Hampshire, a Republican and Progressive strength of 50,000 votes four years ago fell to 42,000 in 1916, while Wilson gained 3000 over 1912. The rebellion against the "Old Guard" was pronounced in this state.

In Vermont Hughes had 7000 fewer votes than Taft and Roosevelt, while Wilson polled 6000 more than in 1912. Massachusetts, where the Progressives and Republicans were still in revolt against Murray Crane, gave Hughes a plurality of 21,000, compared with a margin of 125,000 Taft and Roosevelt had over Wilson. Hughes lost 20,000 and Wilson gained 74,000.

Wilson, in Connecticut, gained 25,000 over his 1912 vote, but Hughes had only 4,000 more than Taft and Roosevelt and won the state by less than 7000. Connecticut, with its great munitions industries, is a center of war prosperity, and with its workers reinforced from other states, the Adamson law was popular.

JEWIS URGED TO ACTION
Oscar S. Straus Favors Beginning of Peace Correspondence.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Establishment of a committee of correspondence to communicate with similar committees in the countries of Europe, so that when the war ends the Jews of the world may bring concerted pressure to bear on the peace congress for granting of Jewish rights in all nations, was suggested by Oscar S. Straus, chairman of the New York Public Service Commission, at the annual convention of the American Jewish committee here today.

The convention, however, took no action.

Aged Kingston Woman
Tells How She Recovered Her Strength.

If the elderly people in Kingston could only realize what Vinol would do for them we would not be able to get enough to supply the demand. Following is a letter received from Mrs. A. E. Carson, of this town. She says:

"I am 69 years of age, and had been ailing for a long time with indigestion. I got run down, was weak, dizzy and could not sleep at night. I consulted two doctors who said I had hardening of the arteries and at my age could not expect to be strong again. My daughter would give me no peace until I tried Vinol, as it had done so much for her. I have taken five bottles and my health and strength have come back, so I am able to do all the housework for my family of four, and I am recommending Vinol to all my friends."

The reason Vinol is so beneficial to old people is because it contains the very elements needed to replace declining strength with renewed vigor, viz., beef and cod liver peptonates, iron and manganese peptonates, glycerophosphates and a mild tonic wine.

We want to ask every elderly person and every weak, run-down or debilitated person in Portland to call at our store and get a bottle of Vinol, with the understanding that we will return your money if it fails to benefit. The Owl Drug Co., Portland; also at the leading drug store in all Oregon towns.

chairman of the American section of the Mexican-American commission meeting at Atlantic City, and will now give the question detailed study.

Appointments to Be Made.
Several important appointments are to be made soon, but some of them may be postponed until Congress convenes. They include the members of the Tariff Commission, the Shipping Board, several Federal Judges and a board to administer the workmen's compensation law for Federal employees.

Reports that the President has decided on changes in his Cabinet were said tonight by officials to be premature. While it is possible that one or two members may not remain in the President's official family after March 4, officials insist that he has not yet considered the question.

When Mr. Wilson returned tonight he found awaiting him thousands of telegrams and letters congratulating him on his re-election.

NEW YORK GREETES PRESIDENT

Mr. Wilson Passes Hotel in Which Mr. Hughes Is Staying.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—President and Mrs. Wilson passed through this city today on their way from Williamstown, Mass., to Washington. They spent only about half an hour here—long enough to proceed from the naval yacht Mayflower to the Pennsylvania Railroad station. Both at the landing place at Seventy-ninth street and the Hudson River and at the railroad station crowds cheered the President.

The President's automobile became stalled for a moment on a steep hill above the Hudson River landing, and several men pressed forward and shook his hand. Just before his special train left here at 3:34 P. M. he appeared on the back platform and shook hands with several trainmen. One of them shouted: "Thanks for the eight-hour law."

In the President's party were his daughter, Miss Margaret Wilson, and his cousin, Miss Helen Woodrow Bones. On the way from the yacht to the railroad station the President's automobile passed the hotel where Charles E. Hughes is staying.

Colonel E. M. House and Charles E. Crane, of Chicago, president of the Wilson Business Men's League, met Mr. Wilson here. Mr. Crane accompanied the President to Washington.

MOURNERS GET $1 EACH

SEATTLE MAN IS BURIED IN MAUSOLEUM HE BUILT.

Attendants at Funeral of Henry Sharpnack Are Supplied by City Employment Bureau.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 12.—(Special).—One hundred and five men, women and children attended the funeral Saturday afternoon of Henry Sharpnack, 2712 Thirteenth avenue South. After the services at the Crown Hill Cemetery, where the body was placed in a mausoleum built under Sharpnack's direction and painted by his own hands, the 195 received $1 each for their services. There were no tears, according to Manager J. E. Drummy, of the Bonney Watson Company, but each mourner expressed a sincere "thank you" as the silver dollar was placed in his or her hand.

The mourners were supplied by the city free employment bureau, charitable organizations and were designated many instances by Seattle ministers.

Sharpnack's body was placed in a solid concrete mausoleum, about seven feet square, with an aperture 32 inches wide and 28 inches deep provided for the casket. The roof is of imitation shingles, painted red. The door is comprised of two separate inner slabs of concrete and an outer slab of marble on which is carved the gates ajar and the following inscription: "H. Sharpnack, June 25, 1847." A blank to be filled in with the date of his death, November 3, 1916, and:

"The pain of death is past. Labor and sorrow cease. And lifelong warfare closed at last. His soul is now at peace."

The funeral sermon was preached by Rev. W. A. Major, Presbyterian minister.

Sharpnack's will left an estate of $10,000 to relatives and friends.

Sharpnack personally gave orders for the employment of the mourners on October 20 last, 18 months after he had personally selected his casket and made other funeral arrangements.

SUPFRAGIST LEADER WHO WEDS AGAIN, THIS TIME SECRETLY.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—(Special).—The month's romance was suspected by no one. Dolph, or "Jack," as he was known on the campus, was elected varsity yell leader the first of the school year. Thursday he resigned and procured a withdrawal card from the University, saying he had been offered a position with the Firestone Tire & Rubber Company at Akron, O. He left Thursday night. Friday Miss Perringer announced to her fraternity sisters she was going to Portland for the weekend to see the football game. She took most of her clothes, which seemed unusual, but nothing more was thought of it.

Miss Perringer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Perringer, of Pendleton. Her father is a wealthy wheat ranch owner. The young woman is the second Muriel of the cowboy town to have eloped in the past six months.

Miss Perringer came to the university this fall and was pledged to the Gamma Phi Beta Sorority. She came largely influenced by the fact that a youthful beau of several years was also a student in the university. She met Mr. Dolph for the first time when a visitor on the campus last junior week-end.

At that time the tentative engagement of Mr. Dolph to a junior co-ed was announced. A month ago a lovers' quarrel occurred. It was at that time that Mr. Dolph and Miss Perringer began to be seen together. The romance of the two was not taken seriously by their friends.

Mr. Dolph is the son of Mrs. Elias C. Dolph, widow of the late Cyrus A. Dolph, of Portland, and is 23 years old. Miss Perringer will be 19 years old in February.

THREE MEN SAVE TUG
RESCUE IN MIDOCEAN REFUSED; CRAFT TAKEN TO PORT.

Terrific Weather Encountered by Vigilant Braved by Scot, Irishman and American of Crew.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—The Bremerhaven correspondence of the Central News telegraphs the following remarkable story of the sea:

"One of the most extraordinary voyages ever made across the Atlantic has just been completed by the Vigilant, a small American tug belonging to New York and bound from St. Johns, N. F., for Cardiff. Two days out from St. Johns, which she left a week ago last Sunday, the Vigilant experienced terrific weather, and on the fifth day, when she was off the coast of Newfoundland, she would founder. The Holland-America liner Ryndam picked up the stragglers and proceeded to her assistance.

The captain and 12 of the tug's crew were taken off by the Ryndam, which was bound for Rotterdam, but three men refused to leave. They were the second mate, Robert Ferguson, a Scot; the third mate, Thomas Walsh, an Irishman, and an American fireman named John Smith.

Taking control of the ship, these three men overcame tremendous difficulties and actually succeeded in bringing her within sight of the Irish coast, where they were picked up by a British patrol vessel. Ferguson was locked in the wheel house and the other two in the engine room. The terrific weather prevented them from moving, and they remained at their posts for 39 hours, without food, water or sleep. Several parts of the tug were smashed in the gale, including the funnel, the dynamo in the engine room. This caused the tug to be in total darkness by night, and added to the terror of the situation."

STUDENT OF CRIME DIES
Man Found Dead With Book of Clippings at Seattle.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 12.—(Special).—A student of crime, as evidenced by a complete set of newspaper clippings detailing burglaries and holdups all over the United States, was found dead in his room at the Stadium Apartments, 615½ East Pike street, Sunday afternoon.

Letters indicated he was Charles Arthur Pearce, of Bloomington, Ill., whose mother and other relatives operate the Pearce Millinery Company. Pearce is believed to have died Saturday night. Patrolman Arbogast and Detective Hubbard reported he had fallen face downward from a chair. He lay in a pool of blood, which the coroner decided was from a hemorrhage.

DAYLIGHT SAVING OPPOSED
Railroad Standard Time Committee Adverse to Plan.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—"Daylight saving," the plan tried last summer by several of the European nations involved in war, when the hands of the clock were advanced one hour, will be considered at the semi-annual meeting of the American Railway Association in this city next Wednesday. It was announced tonight.

A report by the committee on standard time, headed by E. B. Thomas, president of the Lehigh Valley Railroad, will oppose the change, it was said.

Suffragist Who Refused Alimony Court Awarded Her and Who Keeps Maiden Name Now Is Bride of Englishman.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—(Special).—Miss Crystal Eastman, who objected to being known as Mrs. Benedict, even when she admitted to a husband, that name, still remains Miss Eastman to her friends, despite the fact that, undaunted by the unhappy termination of her first marriage, she is now in the eyes of convention Mrs. Walter Fuller.

When and where the pair were married remains a mystery among the radical society of Washington Square. From other sources it was learned that Mr. Fuller is an Englishman who came to this country as manager of the Fuller sisters, concert singers.

Miss Eastman, or Mrs. Fuller, is the daughter of a clergyman, Rev. E. E. Eastman, and holds degrees from Vassar, Columbia and the New York University Law School. Eight years ago she came to New York to practice law.

She was married in the city hall in 1911 to Wallace J. Benedict, an insurance man. She divorced him last year and achieved some notoriety by refusing to accept alimony which the court awarded her. She is a suffrage leader, chairman of the Women's peace party, was at one time a demonstrator for an automobile company, and has been for several years a preacher of the doctrine of birth control.

PASCO, Wash., Nov. 12.—(Special).—Mrs. Frank Dewey passed away late last night at the family residence in this city. Mrs. Dewey was a native of Indiana and was born February 4, 1865. In 1892 she went to Spokane, where she was married to Frank Dewey, and the couple resided in Spokane until six years ago, when they moved to Pasco, where Mr. Dewey has been connected with the schools.

Mrs. Dewey had been a patient sufferer for the past 19 years, having been confined to a wheel chair for that period of time. She is survived by a husband and one son, Leslie Dewey, aged 21 years. Funeral services were held at the family residence today.

FIRMER ACTION EXPECTED
Russians Think Wilson Will Show Greater Determination.

PETROGRAD, via London, Nov. 12.—The Russian newspapers comment briefly and reservedly on the reelection of President Wilson, confining themselves in general to the conclusion that a more decisive foreign policy is as much to be expected under Mr. Wilson as it would have been under Mr. Hughes.

The Novoe Vremya looks for a more determined attitude on the part of the American Government toward submarine warfare, "now that President Wilson is no longer pre-occupied with the political campaign."

It adds: "American political history shows that the President usually commits himself to a more definite policy during his second Administration. President Wilson will not now be bound by considerations of political prudence and will show greater freedom of action."
