"It is the best show ever held in the Northwest," commented Mr. Graham upon returning to the Multnomah Hotel from the show last night. "I don't believe any part of the country produces better stock than the Northwest."

The Seattle Exposition will be a combination of the Land Products Show, which was held for the first time this year, and a livestock show. It was proposed first to exhibit only dairy sattle, but fat stock also will be entered. It is not probable, though, that hogs, sheep and horses will be shown. The Seattle people are trying to in-
