

TWO DAYS REMAIN FOR RELIEF GIFTS

Welfare Bureau Calls Attention of Busy Shopper to Winter Needs of Poor.

$15,000 MORE REQUIRED

Appeals Are Overlooked in Rush of Buying for Others, Workers Friend, and Those Who Have Not Yet Aided Are Asked to Hurry.

Have you sent that check to the Public Welfare Bureau yet, which is to make sure the relief of the poor for all the coming year?

If you haven't you are one of that big host of generous people to whom the Public Welfare Bureau, and through it the poor of the whole city, is appealing directly at this time.

The Christmas shopping and holiday rush sometimes drives things out of one's memory and only today and tomorrow left for contributions.

Other contributors have already given about $10,000. There is needed to bring the budget up to what it has been in previous years $15,000 more.

This fund, if retained, means that the public will not be called on again for a full year and that the Public Welfare Bureau will guarantee 100 per cent relief service on the fund.

Following is the list of contributions checked up and announced from the bureau yesterday, and the poor of the city and the bureau wonder if your name is on that list yet:

Table listing names and contribution amounts for the relief fund, including names like 'Previously reported', 'Mrs. J. S. Bell', 'Mrs. J. S. Bell', etc.

FOUR OFFICERS ADVANCED

Rise in Rank Comes to Oregon Naval Militia Men, It Is Announced.

Four officers of the Oregon Naval Militia have received advancements in rank, according to announcement made yesterday by Lieutenant Commander Blair.

The men advanced are: Charles Jack Dyer, from junior lieutenant to senior lieutenant; George Elmer Dow, from junior lieutenant to senior lieutenant; George Henry Jett, from lieutenant junior grade to lieutenant senior grade; and Richard Ignacius Heller, from second lieutenant of marines to first lieutenant of marines.

The four officers must qualify for their new positions by taking a Federal examination in February. Other candidates for advancement will take the examination at that time.

Friedlander's Diamonds advertisement featuring a diamond ring and text: 'BUY Diamonds at this store today, secure in the knowledge that any stone you choose from our immense selection is of the highest quality and brilliance at its price. Friedlander Diamond always is worth its cost.'

TWO STARS ARE BILLED advertisement for Pat Rooney and Marion Bent, featuring a photo of the duo and text: 'The remaining East Side route. This probably will be worked out. Mr. Carver's franchise call for service to nearly all principal parts of the city, including runs to the suburbs, with transfers from one line to another on a 6-cent fare.'

BANKER OUT ON BOND advertisement featuring a photo of a man and text: 'WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Baron Robert E. Oppenheim, London and Paris banker, held up at New York by immigration authorities on the ground that he had been implicated in charges involving moral turpitude, was ordered released today by the Immigration Bureau under a bond of $1000 for three months, pending further investigation.'

JITNEY GUARANTEE GIVEN advertisement with text: 'The Council considered the routes asked for on the West Side and on the East Side north of Belmont street. A number of changes were made in the routes. Only one question remained to be settled, and that was as to operation on Twenty-third street on the West Side. The Council objected to this, while Mr. Carver insisted that it should be granted inasmuch as it is an arterial road. Mr. Carver agreed, however, to investigate so as to determine on some other street if possible.'

BAKER TO HAVE BIG MILL advertisement with text: 'BAKER, Or., Dec. 21.—(Special.)—One of the largest lumber mills in Eastern Oregon, and the largest in Baker, will be erected at once by the Oregon Lumber Company, according to the announcement today of D. C. Eccles, president of the company. He said the mill would cost at least $150,000, and probably more, and will employ 100 men here, besides causing work for many more at logging camps. Contracts for building have already been let and others will be closed this week. The mill will be erected on the site of the one burned in September, and will have a daily capacity of 200,000 feet. It will have the most modern machinery, all driven by direct motors, power for which will be furnished by the company's own turbines, operated by steam.'

Accident Insurance Unsettled advertisement with text: 'The question of a bond for protection in case of accidents was not settled. Mr. Carver has offered three bonds aggregating $25,000. The Council wants $15,000 of this put in one bond to cover one East Side and the West Side line and the other $10,000 to cover the remaining East Side route. This probably will be worked out. Mr. Carver's franchise call for service to nearly all principal parts of the city, including runs to the suburbs, with transfers from one line to another on a 6-cent fare. His franchise calls for all the regulations asked by the City Council of the Jitney Drivers' Union and rejected by that organization as being too severe. As the proposition stands now, the Carver franchise are virtually ready for granting, which means that the other jitneys will be shut out for having failed to obtain a franchise after having been offered one or more. The union has refused a franchise except on its own terms for short runs along streets covered by trolley lines. Another meeting of the Council was set for Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock to approve the Carver franchise finally. It has been rumored for several days that the Jitney Drivers' Union intends to invoke the referendum on these franchises when the time comes, so that they will be held up until the city election next June, when the union proposes to seek a franchise from the voters on more favorable terms than those Mr. Carver is willing to accept.'

BAKER SHOES advertisement featuring a large illustration of a shoe and text: 'Do Your Shopping This Christmas at C. H. Baker's. Baker Footwear as Christmas Gifts will be more than appreciated. If style or size is doubtful a BAKER SHOE ORDER entitles the recipient to his or her own choice of our stock, at the price for which the order is issued. We have a large selection of gifts to pick from.'

MASHER AGAIN JAILED advertisement with text: 'On Burns bridge, the testimony in the first case ran, Mrs. Hill was justified by Vondiskis, who seized her arm. "Come with me," he said. Mrs. Hill belabored him with a silken umbrella. He fled. She followed and summoned her husband, who is a waiter in a North End restaurant. Vondiskis was overtaken and arrested by Patrolmen Barker and Nelson, who charged him with violating the masher's ordinance. Vondiskis mumbled something to the effect that he thought he knew the woman. He was defended by Attorney C. C. Hill. When Judge Langruth imposed the $15 fine, Deputy District Attorney Ryan was sought by Mr. and Mrs. Hill. The result was a warrant for assault and battery.'

GUS VONDISKIS FACES ASSAULT AND BATTERY CHARGE advertisement with text: 'Brief was the liberty of Gus Vondiskis, fined $15 by Municipal Judge Langruth for insulting Mrs. Beattie Hill. His case was heard yesterday, the fine was imposed, and Vondiskis smiled as he started out of the police station. "Hold that man," called Deputy District Attorney Ryan to Police Captain Inakcep. Within three minutes Vondiskis was again in a cell, charged with assault and battery on complaint of Mrs. Hill.'

$1 BILL RAISED TO $10 advertisement with text: 'The Portland Candy Kitchen has cashed something new in $10 bills. This was accepted for. Two men went into the store, 245 Morrison street, at close intervals Wednesday night, and each cashed a $10 bill. Both bills were genuine. A third, with another $10 bill. This excellent psychological ruse got the third bill cashed without close scrutiny. The bill was afterward found to have been raised by passing a cleverly executed naught behind the figure one.'
