INDIANS STARE IN WONDER

Mildly Militant Workers Display Signs Saying, "Mr. President, What Will You Do For Woman Suffrage?"

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Twelve women with suffrage banners stood at the main gates of the White House grounds today inaugurating what leaders of the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage call mildly militant "silent picketing" to force their cause upon President Wilson's attention.

Women Hold Banners.

The women, wearing yellow, purple and white ribbons across their chests, stood three on either side of the gates, over each of which was held a banner inscribed, "Mr. President, What Will You Do For Woman Suffrage?"

Darkness Ends Vigil.

Although 6 o'clock was the hour set for the end of the vigil, when darkness fell the tired women gave up the task at 5:30 and marched back to headquarters with banners flying.

President Too Early for Pickets.

Just before pickets appeared this morning the President went out to golf.

President Wilson returned to the White House from the golf links and smiled as his automobile passed through a gate flanked by the "silent sentinels," who made no demonstration.

Six Comanche Indians from Oklahoma arrived at the White House while the suffragists were on guard. They stopped and viewed them with silent wonder.

NON-UNION MEN'S ROOMS BLOWN UP

BOMB DAMAGES TOLEDO HOTEL HOUSING STRIKEBREAKERS.

Men Employed by Telephone Company, Whose Linemen and Operators Are Out.

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 10.—Four rooms in a downtown hotel where strike-breaking linemen in the employ of the Ohio State Telephone Company are housed were wrecked by a bomb tonight.

The clerk at the hotel said that the room in which the explosion occurred was occupied by C. C. Connors, of Cleveland, a marine engineer, whose boat is tied up here for the Winter. Connors was uninjured. The bomb fell into the room below, which is occupied by two strikebreakers, who were absent at the time. Two rooms on the third floor and two directly beneath them were wrecked. Doors and windows were blown out. Steam and water pipes were broken off and a part of the hotel was flooded.

Every available policeman in the city is working on the case.

The strike of linemen and operators of the Ohio State Telephone Company has been in effect two months.

EAVESDROPPER'S JOB GONE

Secret Sounder Reveals Lobbyists Hired Expert Telegrapher.

SALEM, Or., Jan. 10.—(Special.)—Installation of a secret sounder on the instruments in the Capitol branches of one of the telephone companies here has revealed that during the session of 1915 certain lobbyists obtained the services of an expert telegrapher, whose sole duty was to remain in the lobby of the rotunda and listen to messages going over the wires and transmit the information so gained to his employer.

At least that is the charge made and it is asserted considerable complaint developed from some members of the Legislature that their inside telegraphic information was spreading abroad and as a result the secret sounder was installed.

TEXAS HAS LIQUOR BILLS

Measure in Each House Proposes Submission to Voters.

AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 10.—Although Governor Ferguson in his message to the Legislature today made no mention of prohibition, shortly after conclusion of its reading resolutions looking toward submission of the question to the voters of the state were submitted in both houses.

The woman suffrage question is expected to be brought before the legislative body soon.

ALASKA DRY BILL FAVORED

House Committeeman Says Drastic Measure to Be Reported.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—At a hearing on a drastic prohibition bill for Alaska before the House territories committee it was developed that there are 325 retail liquor dealers and six breweries in the territory.

Chairman Houston indicated the committee would report the bill favorably and that its effect would be to make the territory "bone dry."

SESSION COST TO BE LESS

Members of Ways and Means Committees Agree That Expenses of Legislature Will Be Reduced by Six Per Cent.

STAFF CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Jan. 10.—(Special.)—The 14 members of the two ways and means committees proved to be a unit on the question of economy at their first joint session today when they made their initial onslaught on the budget, and all indicated their intention of seeing that the Legislature remains within the provisions of the 6 per cent limitation amendment. Before the meeting ended they already had cut $6333 from the budget.

Entering an agreement to go through the budget as their first move, endorse those requests which they believe should remain untouched and then make sifting investigation of every other request by the various state activities, the committee placed its final O. K. on only five requests, tentatively adopted seven more, and in discussion of the remainder indicated that the great majority of them will be subjected to the pruning knife. They also entirely eliminated three requests.

Knife Wielded at Start.

The committee showed itself as of no bias for official position. Its first act was to lop $1000 from the estimate of the executive office of a $5000 appropriation to assist in the apprehension of criminals under the prohibition law.

It reached a conclusion, before it had examined the budget at any great length, after a suggestion by Senator Wood, that no stenographer in the state's employ shall receive more than $75 a month. This will affect the salaries of numerous employees at the State Capitol and in offices elsewhere. Chief Clerk Schroeder, of the committee, was instructed to secure from the Secretary of State a complete list of salaries paid to his employees.

Cut in Employees' Pay Considered.

Senator J. C. Smith suggested a cut in the appropriation of the salary for the Governor's private secretary and his suggestion met some favorable echo from other members of the committee. The cut suggested was from $3000 a year to $2400.

As an upshot, communications will be sent by the clerk to the Governor, State Treasurer and other officials and heads of institutions to secure their salary

BLIND CIGAR MAN'S SAD STORY TOLD

TOM LONG'S DOMESTIC TRAGEDY SECRET MANY YEARS.

Ex-Wife and 17-Year-Old Daughter Located in Idaho—Struggle for Living Recounted.

During the long, dark years that Tom Long, blind cigar dealer, who died Monday, toiled behind his little stand at the City Hall he kept quietly to himself the burden of a sad story of a domestic tragedy that put him where he met the end a derelict. The story came to light yesterday when Mr. Long's ex-wife and his 17-year-old daughter were located and notified by Mayor Albee of Mr. Long's death.

The tragedy came about 15 years ago, when Mr. Long resided in Idaho Falls, Idaho, a happy and well-to-do business man, with a wife and a daughter. Trouble came between him and his wife and resulted in Mr. Long taking to drink to drown his remorse. He became financially straitened and soon became separated from his family. It was at this time that he was seized with blindness. His name at that time, it is said, was Lillis.

Unwilling to return and to himself on his family, it is said, he quietly recovered himself, quit liquor and came to Portland to get a new start in life under a new name. He got into the City Hall cigar stand and started a winning fight to overcome and forget. He had always hoped for a return of his sight. But his eyes remained dark, and then about a year ago came financial reverses and failure of health. With these things he lost his grip.

The ex-wife, whose name is now Mrs. Mattie Mosley, of Idaho Falls, and the daughter, Miss Margaret Lillis, who is in a convent in Ogden, Utah, were notified yesterday by County Coroner Dammasch.

UTAH DRY BILL INTRODUCED

Measure Would Make Possession of Liquor Misdemeanor.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Jan. 10.—The first bill introduced in the Utah Legislature is a House state-wide prohibition bill of drastic nature.

It would prohibit the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor in Utah after August 1, 1917, and make the possession of intoxicants a misdemeanor.

BLIZZARD FANS WAY OVER NORTH STATES

Chicago Buffeted and Left Shivering.

EAST AND SOUTHEAST IN PATH

Cold Sends Travel Toward Pacific Coast States.

STORM STARTS IN CANADA

Snowy Gale Is From New Source, and White River Records Temperature of 48 Below Zero.

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—(Special.)—Sweeping along with considerable ferocious bluster, a blizzard struck Chicago and the territory west and northwest as far as the Missouri River today.

Heavy snow and high winds had been reported from the West and Northwest early in the day, and the advance wave of the storm hit Chicago shortly before noon. It had been preceded by a gale and lowering temperature.

Snow fall continued all afternoon, but the storm had passed on east and southeast tonight.

Following in its wake, came a cold wave which forecasters say will mean about 10 degrees above zero by morning.

Entire East to Feel Force. The storm, according to Government experts, is of sufficient volume and velocity to extend, with considerable force, to the Middle Atlantic and New England states, and will be felt as far south as the Florida line.

The Government has sent out storm warnings all along the coast, especially for the district between the Virginia Capes and the Upper Maine coast.

The present storm is alluded to as "spurious and a counterfeit," in that it does not bear the stamp of Medicine Hat, the official breeder of blizzards. Instead, it originated in the Canadian provinces much farther east than Medicine Hat.

Lake District Extremely Cold. The area of cold extends north and east from the Missouri River. It is extremely cold in the Lake Superior district. White River reported 43 below zero and Port Arthur and Winnipeg show 26 below.

Iowa, Minnesota, Upper Michigan and the Dakotas are extremely cold and the heavy snow is interfering with transportation in several places. The recent unusually warm days, lasting almost a week, served the good purpose of melting accumulations of ice from walks and streets, so that the present snowfall will not mean additional peril to pedestrians.

One immediate effect of the blizzard was to swell reservations on trains to the Pacific Coast, which have already reached a record figure.

TOWN LOTS TO BE MINED

Part of Site of Sumpter Bought for Placer Mining Purposes.

BAKER, Or., Jan. 10.—(Special.)—Part of the Sumpter town site has been sold for placer mining in the sale of 200 acres of land for the purpose by Henry Spaulding to A. Bodelson, of Sumpter. The land lies in the Powder River Valley, in the northern part and immediately north of the city. The price is estimated to be more than $15,000.

It is believed interests with which Mr. Bodelson is identified intend actual development work soon.

SINNOTT BILL IS REPORTED

House Committee Favors Desert Land Entry Measure.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Jan. 10.—The House public lands committee today favorably reported Representative Sinnott's bill permitting homestead and desert land entry of lands withdrawn for Government irrigation projects, where such lands are not actually used for reclamation purposes.

The bill will make available for entry vast areas now tied up in withdrawal.

BURGLARS' UNION TO AID "Brotherhood" to Provide Funds for Wife-Murderer Suspect.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Jan. 10.—Howard Deveson, in jail here, facing trial for the alleged murder of his wife in a local lodging-house September 21, last, has informed Police Chief J. Parley White that funds for his defense will be furnished by a "burglars' brotherhood," of which he says he is a member.

He still maintains he was engaged in a diamond burglary when his wife was slain.

DUBLIN, Jan. 10.—The military authorities here have suppressed an American moving-picture film depicting Irish historical events, including Robert Emmett's rebellion in 1803.
