Fielder Jones Cites Incident Between Eddie Plank and Umpire Connolly.

MARSANS MARK FOR EVANS

Cuban Now Playing With St. Louis, According to Browns' Manager, Once Offended Official and Now Must Pay Penalty.

BY HARRY M. GRAYSON.

Fielder A. Jones, manager of the St. Louis American League Club, is a "bear" at telling baseball yarns. The pilot and Walter McCredie, of the Beavers, met yesterday and talked about how long a player remembers a bad decision called on him.

"Eddie Plank never forgets anything, I'll say that for him," said Jones. "You fellows will recall that in the second game of the 1913 world's series between the Athletics and the Giants, Umpire Connolly called Strunk out at home thus costing the Athletics the run which would have won the game for them.

"At the time neither team had scored and as McGraw's men got to Eddie for three runs in the tenth they captured the only game they took in the series. The consensus of opinion was that Strunk was safe. At least I have heard that moving pictures showed this and most of the players except Larry McLean, I believe, claimed that the Philadelphia outfielder was safe at the plate.

"In the heat of last season's campaign Plank was battling the Tigers at Detroit and Connolly was umpiring. It was in a late inning. The Tigers had two on, needed one run to tie and two to win. Bush walked on a fourth ball that Plank kicked about. This filled the bases.

"Up strode the mighty Tyrus Cobb. Plank threw him two balls, Cobb fouled one off and then Eddie slipped over the second strike. Plank was pitching as only Eddie Plank can pitch. He hooked one that he thought was over the outside corner and Connolly howled: 'Ball three!'

"'You burglar,' shouted Plank as he threw his glove on the turf and dashed toward Connolly. 'You robbed me out of a ball game in a world's series and you're still soaking it to me.'

"'Oh! you're getting old,' broke in Cobb. 'Can't see any more and always crying for everything. 'Twas a foot outside. Umpire just like a policeman, he'll call 'em.'

"Plank turned to Cobb. 'You've got a lot o'license to butt in,' he exclaimed. 'You've been in two or three world's series and never have delivered. Why, I never saw you hit a ball at a critical moment in my life. 'Drather throw to you in a jamb than any rank busher.'

"Plank was still paying his respects to Cobb and Connolly and would undoubtedly have been thrown out of the game if I had not told the southpaw that I was running the ball team and sent him back to pitch.

"Cobb grounded out easily to shortstop on the next pitched ball. As he started out to his position in right field passing Plank who was coming to the bench, Eddie shouted: 'Lost de old nerve again, eh? Up once more in a pinch and blew. What a great mighty Ty you are!'

"You fellows take it from me, his last remark cut Cobb to the quick," concluded the St. Louis skipper.

* * *

At this juncture Del Baker, the Sherwood boy who goes to the Seals from Detroit, passed the gathering. "Say, Mac," said Jones. "Look out for that bird next season. He hit so well against us last year that Oscar Stanage adorned the bench while the Tigers bucked us."

* * *

According to Fielder Jones even the best of umpires hold grudges against players. In a game at Washington last season Marsans, the Cuban outfielder of the Browns, hit a ground ball which the Washington second baseman had to field back of the keystone sack. The play at first base was close, but Umpire Billy Evans ruled Marsans out.

"No, no," shouted Marsans as he sped across the sack and at the same time saw Evans waving him out.

"You're out and out of the game and suspended for three days," howled Evans.

At this juncture Jones asked the official: "Say, Bill, don't you ever think of the club and the city we represent when reprimanding players?"

"It's all right to put him out of the game, but nix on the suspending stuff. That hurts me, the team and St. Louis."

Fielder says that Marsans later told him that Evans had it "in for him." It seems that a few years back Evans umpired some games in Cuba. He ruled something against the team with which Marsans was playing and the latter incited a riot that nearly resulted in bodily injury to the umpire. Evans was getting even.

Baseball on the Inside.

BY BILLY EVANS,
American League Umpire.

LARRY LAJOIE has played his last major league game. The passing of Lajoie from the majors will be marked with regret by thousands of fans. Baseball was an art with Lajoie. In playing golf they tell you form is everything. In baseball, Lajoie was the last word as far as form was concerned. He did all things with infinite grace. He seemed to sense where batters would hit the ball, and made the most difficult chances look easy. At touching a runner he was without a peer. Few men in the history of the game could take a high throw from the catcher in the gloved hand, and with the same motion bring it down on the runner. At the bat Larry was the personification of grace. All pitchers looked alike to him, no pitcher was ever able to discover any weakness in his attack.

* * *

Two strikes didn't worry Larry even up to the end of his career. He was almost content to spot the pitcher a couple of strikes. I don't believe Larry ever objected to the calling of the first or second strike. The umpire rarely had a chance to call the third, so the big fellow was never a hard man for the umpire to please at the plate. I have often heard Larry say, "I don't care how you call the first two strikes, but be sure the third one is good before calling me out. I don't mind the first two, but I do like to have my swing at the third."

* * *

I don't believe Lajoie feared any pitcher, but I do know every pitcher had a wholesome fear of Larry. I doubt if any batter was passed more often than Lajoie, the pitcher preferring to pit his skill against some other hitter in the lineup. I once asked Larry what pitcher he had found hardest to hit safely and Larry smilingly replied, "None of them are hard to hit, but all of them are hard to hit safely."

* * *

"I don't believe I ever batted against any pitcher who had more speed than Walter Johnson," said Larry. "Some of the old-timers might have had as much smoke, but I am certain none had more. As to the pitchers with freak deliveries, Jack Chesbro and Ed Walsh were in a class by themselves. I have batted against spit-ball pitchers who had a better break than either, but in no way did they compare with them. Walsh always gave me a lot of trouble, and in all probability he pitched less spit balls to me than to most other batters. Naturally I was always looking for Walsh to slip up his most deceptive spitter, and in a great many such cases he would come right back with a fast one, and have me off my stride. Walsh is the only pitcher I can recall who ever struck me out three times in one game, and seven of those strikes were called. Each called strike was a fast ball, I believe, with me looking for the spit ball.

* * *

"However, for a crafty, intelligent pitcher, I never faced a wiser twirler than Chief Bender. The Indian was surely a master pitcher. He made a study of the art. If a batter had a weakness, the chief soon discovered it, and from that time he made life miserable for that particular batsman. His almost uncanny control made it possible for him to put into execution the knowledge he would gain of the batter's weakness. I know of a certain big league player, and he was a good one, who used to request that he be taken out of the game any time Bender worked. Aside from his great knowledge of pitching, Bender backed it up with plenty of skill. He had a world of speed, a fine curve, and an excellent change of pace. In addition, a club had five infielders in the game with Bender pitching. It would be hard to find a pitcher who had anything on the chief when he was in his prime. Best of all, he had a heart of oak and in a pinch always seemed to do his best work.

OKLAHOMA FIVE WINS

OREGON'S INEXPERIENCED TEAM OUTCLASSED 32 TO 12.

Visitors Arrive Unexpectedly and Defeat Eugene Men, Who Have Just Begun Practice.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Jan. 10.—(Special.)—In the first game of the season the University basketball team was defeated by the Oklahoma State Normal School today by a score of 32 to 12. This was Oregon's first game and as the entire squad is composed of inexperienced men the Oklahoma players had no trouble in keeping the scoring in their favor.

The appearance of the Oklahoma team on the campus was a surprise to the basketball men, as the Oregon players have been working only a few days. Stewart, of Oklahoma, was the star for the visitors, while the Oregon men all played on a par. McGready made three baskets. Cate, one of Oregon's forwards, was taken out of the game after the first 30 minutes of play, due to an injury to his head, which rendered him unconscious.

The Oklahoma lineup: McKittrick, center; Stewart and Wilke, forwards; Lane and McClure, guards; Dotter and Ballard, substitutes.

Oregon's lineup at the start was Sims, center; McCready and Cate, forwards; Hollis Huntington and C. Nelson, guards. Bill Hayward officiated.

DODGE BROTHERS MOTOR CAR

Consult the impression uppermost in your mind and you will find that you think of this car as very carefully and very conscientiously made.

This very general and instinctive feeling is of course a reflection of the actual facts.

People think of the car in this light because of their high opinion of Dodge Brothers as manufacturers.

That good opinion is justified by the performance of the car, by its economy and efficiency, and by the fact that even the first two years' very large production did not develop a single fault.

It will pay you to visit us and examine this car.

The gasoline consumption is unusually low.
The tire mileage is unusually high.

BAR TO BOUTS GONE

Seattle Club Not to Mix Professional and Amateur.

MULTNOMAH MEN OBJECT

Edgar E. Frank Takes Position That Two Classes of Athletes Cannot Appear on Same Card. Official Ruling Asked.

Frank E. Harmar, manager of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club boxing and wrestling teams, was notified last night that the Seattle Athletic club had taken a different stand in the matter of staging amateur bouts in conjunction with the professional affairs slated for Seattle, January 19.

The Northerners sent word to Portland that they were willing to cancel the professional numbers and make the night purely an amateur inter-club programme.

Action Pleases Mr. Frank.

This action by the Seattle Athletic Club was taken on learning that Edgar E. Frank, chairman of the registration committee of the Pacific Northwest Association of the Amateur Athletic Union, had announced that it would be impossible for the amateurs to appear on the same card with the professionals.

The Seattle delegation said last night that they would gladly cancel the professional engagements, but at the same time they declared that professional boxing on the same night with amateur events did not violate any rule of the Amateur Athletic Union.

"I'm glad that the Seattle Athletic Club has taken the stand it has," said Mr. Frank last night, "for it means that there will be no possibility of relationship being discontinued. I have written to Frederick W. Rubien, secretary-treasurer of the Amateur Athletic Union, asking for a final ruling on the matter, but until that time it will be impossible for us to do anything otherwise."

Athletes to Make Trip.

The inter-club smoker between the Seattle Athletic Club and the Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club representatives, was announced for Seattle a week from tomorrow night. Edward J. O'Connell, boxing and wrestling instructor at Multnomah Club, will take his athletes north as scheduled now that the matter has been adjusted.

SIEBERTS QUITS AGGIE SQUAD

Basketball Player Has Job Which Will Prevent Participation.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Or., Jan. 10.—(Special.)—Ade Sieberts, who was named captain of the All-Pacific Coast and All-Northwest conference basketball teams last Winter, has accepted a position in the booking department of the college here and so will not play on the college basketball squad. This is a blow to the Oregon Aggies.

Sieberts captained the winning Aggies last Winter and was depended on to grab most of the points this campaign from his forward position. While no definite word has been received, it is rumored around the campus that Irs Mix, the 1917 captain, will not be back at school. He was supposed to report for practice last Monday.

If he does not play with the college quintet this year he may be seen wearing a Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club suit.

A letter from George Washington ("Tuffy") Conn, the sensational Aggie halfback, says that he will leave Pasadena, Cal., for Philadelphia within a few days.

ROSEBURG BEATS EUGENE

Lane County Lads Lose by Score of 28 to 21; Game Fast.

EUGENE, Or., Jan. 10.—(Special.)—The Roseburg High School basketball team defeated the Eugene High School players tonight by a score of 28 to 21. Roseburg last night defeated the Oklahoma Normal School team, which today won over the University of Oregon five.

Until the last few minutes of the first half of tonight's game, Eugene was leading. Osburn threw two field goals for Roseburg, giving the visitors a margin which was never overcome.

The two teams lined up as follows:

Eugene: Kay and Hubbard, forwards; Franz, center; Callison and Beach, guards.

Roseburg: Osburn and Trumbo, forwards; Jewett, center; Bemis and Baldwin, guards.

"RAP" MYERS IN COURT

EX-SPOKANE BALLPLAYER DENIES THEFT CHARGE.

Accused Man Pleads Not Guilty At El Paso, Texas, to Robbing Two Men of Rings and Cash.

EL PASO, Tex., Jan. 10.—R. E. Myers, known in the baseball world as "Hap" Myers, pleaded "not guilty" when arraigned today in the District Court here on the charge of robbery.

Myers, who comes from San Francisco, and has played baseball of late years with the Spokane (Northwestern), Boston National, Brooklyn Federal League, and last season with the Miami team, was indicted on two charges. They alleged that on November 20 last he held up one resident here for a $1500 diamond ring and $48 in cash, and another resident for a diamond ring valued at $325.

Trial was set for January 24.

NIXON MAY BE TRADED

ST. PAUL, NEW ORLEANS AND OTHER CLUBS WANT HIM.

Manager McCredie Says That He Is Only Waiting to Receive Satisfactory Proposition.

Billy Nixon may be traded by the Portland Pacific Coast League club soon, Walter McCredie said last night. St. Paul, of the American Association; New Orleans, of the Southern League, and a couple of other clubs want Nixon, and all that remains is for one of them to offer a satisfactory proposition.

Last season it will be remembered that St. Paul dickered for the purchase of Nixon but the deal fell through. Manager McCredie may have something to announce on this deal within a few days. Without Nixon he will have Wille, Southworth and Williams, with another outfielder coming. He wants a man who will be able to play center field so that he can always have Williams handy to shove on first base in case of an emergency.

Walter McCredie says that neither Southworth, Willie nor Nixon can cover enough ground to play center field.

The signed contract of Pitcher "Gus" Helfrich, who comes to the Beavers from the Harrisburg New York State League club, was received at baseball headquarters yesterday. This is the only contract that has been mailed out by the Portland owners to date. Walt McCredie inclosed it when he last wrote the youngster, who is now in Utica, N. Y.

The Portland contracts will be mailed out February 1 and the Beavers will report at their training camp February 28, so that they will be able to get in practice games on March 3 and 4. Boss Walter will name the training site within two days.

Manager McCredie is not sure whether or not Pitcher Johnny Telford, the local semi-professional, will be taken south or not. He may yet take Telford and give him a thorough trial.

Frank Pershing May Quit Athletics.

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Frank Pershing, star track athlete and captain-elect of the 1917 University of Chicago football team, may be obliged to abandon athletics, it was learned today. At the close of the last football season he suffered a physical collapse and his physicians urged a rest in California for at least three months. He is a nephew of Major-General John J. Pershing, commanding the American punitive expedition in Mexico.

Pendleton Horse School Postponed.

PENDLETON, Or., Jan. 10.—(Special.)—The proposed horse school will not be conducted in Pendleton this Spring, according to word received from the extension department of the Oregon Agricultural College. Carl Kennedy, secretary of the state stallion board, was to be in charge of the school here and with his resignation from the board it was felt that it would be impossible to conduct the school at this time. R. D. Hetzel, head of the extension department of the Oregon Agricultural College, says he hopes to locate the school here some time next
