

SAVING OF STAIRS NOT CLEARLY SHOWN

Five Consolidation Bills Are Reintroduced - Financial Effects Problematical.

BARRETT STANDS SPONSOR

Indications on Face Are That Some Economies Would Result, but Wide Latitude in Clerical Hire Could Offset This.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Jan. 10. (Special.)—Examination of the five consolidation bills which were reintroduced in the Senate by Senator Barrett yesterday, after holding over from the preceding session, fails to reveal in any definite manner just what effect the bills might have on the state financially if they should become laws.

On the face of them something of a saving would be effected, but a number of the bills give to the boards and commissions that would be newly created such a latitude in hiring clerical stenographers that their salaries and incidental expenses, that it is virtually impossible to determine what the expense would be when the new laws would be in operation.

In addition the bills are more or less indefinite in character and fall in numerous instances on whether certain offices should be abolished, or whether they should remain in existence.

Board to Replace Regents. As an instance, bill No. 17 does away with the board of regents of the various higher educational institutions and establishes the State Board of Higher Curricula and the Board of Tax Commissioners. But it creates an educational board which would be composed of the governor, the superintendent of Public Instruction and three members appointed by the Governor. The three appointive members would receive an honorarium in the aggregate of $450 a year, and the secretary of the board $1800 a year. The salaries and expenses of the board would be apportioned against the several institutions.

Under the present law the secretary of the board of regents of the University of Oregon draws a salary of $3000 a year, while the O. A. C. secretary receives $1000 and the chief clerk $500. The secretary of the board for the University is also financial controller for that institution. Whether the offices mentioned would be abolished or the bills fall to state, so on the face of the bill an additional expense of $2500 would be incurred, or enlarged, at the option of the board.

Expense Latitude Wide. Bill No. 18 merely does away with the two tax commissioners now provided for under the law and creates the office of an expert to assist the Governor, Secretary of State and Treasurer, now ex-officio members of the commission. His salary would be $2000 a year. The commission now has two commissioners who receive $2000 a year each and a secretary receiving $1800 a year. The saving effected under this bill would be $4800 a year, apparently, but the bill also gives latitude by stating that the "salary of all clerks and stenographers to be fixed by the board, and the bill gives wide latitude for additional expense.

Bill No. 18 would create the department of Industrial Insurance, which would handle the duties of Labor Commissioner, Industrial Welfare Commissioner, Industrial Accident Commission and Board of Compensation. The labor inspectors and welfare commissioners receive no salaries at present. The bill would give salaries to a chief inspector and chief inspector of factories and workshops aggregating $5000, as compared to $10,000 now paid for salaries to commissioners under the present law.

The act would consolidate all of the clerical work of the various commissions under the one commission, the saving would be effected in that manner cannot be estimated, as it probably would require much more clerical assistance than the present law. The Industrial Accident Commission, which complains that it is behind in its duties because of a lack of necessary funds, to hire an adequate number of clerks.

Consolidation Is Questioned. Bill No. 20, which consolidates the Desert Land Board and State Land Board, imposes the power and duties of both upon the State Land Board. Such a law automatically would place the State Engineer and the Attorney-General on the State Land Board.

As the State Land Board is created by the constitution and it is to consist of the Governor, Secretary of State and State Treasurer, the constitutionality of this act seems to be gravely in question.

In consolidating the offices of Insurance Commissioner and Corporate Commissioner, bill No. 21 would reduce the salary of the Insurance Commissioner to $5000. The two officials now receive a combined salary of $8000 a year, while the bill would reduce it to $5000.

Bathe Internally And Keep Well! Nature has mightily equipped us all, old and young, to resist disease—but she requires that we give her a chance. We give her no chance if we permit the Lower Intestine to be more or less clogged with accumulated waste. Yet that is a universal condition today, as is proven by the number of laxative drugs that are consumed.

You can help Nature in Nature's most effective way by Internal Bathing and in an easy, non-habit-forming way keep the Intestine as sweet and clean as Nature demands it to be for perfect health and sound defense against contagion. Over half a million keen, bright, healthy people testify to its results.

Mrs. L. B. Logan, of St. Joe, Idaho, writes: "Dear Sir: While you have never solicited my testimonial, I feel it a duty that I owe to you to acknowledge what your treatment has done for me."

"I have suffered more than forty years from the most severe form of bilious headaches. Have generally missed a month during all that time that I did not have a severe attack. The only way I could get relief was to get some purgative to act on the bowels. I could keep on my feet and attend to my daily vocation only by taking an aperient, a laxative or a purgative every day."

"Since coming in touch with your 'J. B. L. Cascade' I have not taken a single dose of medicine, have not had an attack of bilious headache and have never enjoyed such perfect health in my life as I have for the past three months."

Just call at Woodard, Clarke & Co.'s Drug Stores in Portland and request free booklet, "Why Man of Today is Only 50 Per Cent Efficient." The most efficient device for Internal Bathing, the "J. B. L. Cascade," will also be shown and explained to you if you so desire. Adv.

the bill would give the commissioner $3000 and a deputy $2000 a year. The bill, however, provides that "the commissioner shall have all of the clerical assistance which the present Insurance Commissioner now has." When the bill, in its present form, was originally introduced in 1915 the insurance Commissioner also had charge of a uniform system of accounting, and his clerical force was greatly in excess of what he is now permitted to have. The bill repeals and much of his clerical help done away with. As a result, his clerical force is much reduced and it is probable that the bill will enable the commissioner now has could handle the work contemplated under the bill as reintroduced, it is stated here.

MUTUALS' HEARING TUESDAY

Though New Insurance Code Not Yet Introduced, Joint Session Set. STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Jan. 10. (Special.)—A joint meeting of the House and Senate committees on insurance will be held at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning to hear representatives of the mutual insurance companies on the provisions in the new insurance code affecting those organizations.

The new insurance code has not yet been introduced. It covers every branch of insurance activity in the state.

FRICITION IS IN SIGHT

ADMINISTERING OF RURAL CREDITS LAW DISCUSSED. Shanks Bill Would Provide More New Jobs—Land Board Members Say They Can Administer Funds.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Jan. 10. (Special.)—Considerable friction is promised during the present session before final legislation is enacted providing for details of administration of the rural credits amendment passed at the last general election.

That such is in sight became apparent today when criticism of Senate bill No. 1, introduced by Senator Shanks, developed not only among some members of the State Land Board, but also on the part of C. E. Spence, Master of the State Grange, who had no hesitancy in expressing his views as to what the rural credits legislation should be.

The Shanks bill provides for a commissioner of farm loans at $2400 a year, an examiner at $1500 a year, and one or more clerks to be named by the State Land Board, and compensation for them to be designated by the board.

Some members of the Land Board declare themselves as unequivocally opposed to adding any new salaried positions to administer the rural credits fund, declaring that the force now administering the state school fund can administer them both. They see no need for an examining attorney, a secretary or a clerk, and that the school fund should examine abstracts for school fund loans. They see no need for a commissioner of farm loans, as the board now has an attorney who in the present force working on the state school fund loans. They see no use for appraisers because the Land Board attorneys can act as appraisers, they say.

Mr. Spence declares that all legislation he desires is just enough to get the board in action and to handle the little details of administration up to that board.

"There is no need for duplication of administration expense," said Mr. Spence. "I haven't seen the Shanks bill, but I understand it provides for new offices and 'pickings' for somebody, and such are useless. The legislation should be very simple and give the Land Board the administration of affairs, as was intended by the amendment."

"BUSBODIES" MADE TARGET. Senator Lewis Attacks Practice of "Packing" County Meetings.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Jan. 10. (Special.)—Senator Lewis, of Multnomah County, introduced a bill in the Senate today designed to curb the manipulation of county central committees by busybody politicians. This is not the first time that the bill has been introduced with that end in view.

The practice of "packing" county central committee meetings with proxies and other outside parties, which has been exercised notoriously in the past, is hit by a provision doing away with proxies.

"In the organization, election of officers and transaction of business in all committee deliberations," reads the bill, "no person shall be permitted to participate and proxies shall be prohibited."

Likewise, all officers of the committees properly must be qualified members thereof, which will indeed be a sad thing to see in the future.

One amendment in Senator Lewis' bill requires the County Clerk to notify each committee member of his election by mail, and that the election of officers shall take place within five days of the election. At the same time, the County Clerk must issue notice of retiring committee members to the retiring committee members of each party elected to the secretaries of the respective retiring county committees.

The bill also provides an organizing within five days of their election, as at present, with its resulting grand opportunity for the packing of meetings.

The bill also provides that the organizing shall take place within 10 days of the election. The secretary of the retiring committee must issue notice of retiring committee members to the retiring committee members of each party elected to the secretaries of the respective retiring county committees.

BILL PLANNED FOR WELFARE OF RIVERBOAT

Guard Law Would Eliminate Conflict With Latest Federal Enactments.

CONTEST HELD POSSIBLE

Provision Defining Qualification of Adjutant-General Held by Some to Be Aimed to Displace Present Incumbent.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Jan. 10. (Special.)—A new military code to conform with existing Federal statutes on the subject is under consideration by the joint House and Senate committees on military affairs and probably will find its way into one of the bills in the shape of a military bill within a few days.

The code was drafted by a committee of officers of the Oregon National Guard. It re-enacts most of the existing state laws and makes few changes in the military organizations of the state. It eliminates all sections, however, that conflict with the latest Federal enactments.

An interesting section in the new code that may occasion some discussion when it gets before the House and Senate is that prescribing the qualifications for the Adjutant-General.

White's Disqualification Hinted. In its present form the measure says that the Adjutant-General shall be an officer with the rank of Brigadier-General, who shall have served as a field officer at least six years immediately preceding his appointment.

It is held by some of the members of the committee that this provision is intended to disqualify Adjutant-General George A. White, who has been on the Oregon National Guard since the last six months as Captain of Troop A.

Members of the two committees incidentally, however, the no provision in the code is aimed at General White. They say that current reports that the idea of embarrassing him are absurd.

General White is expected to resign in a few days and probably will appear before the committee.

General's Return Awaited. It is not improbable, however, that some efforts will be made to displace to dislodge General White, but, considering the fact that he has been away on the border serving his country for a number of years, it is not likely that he will be so easily dislodged.

Thomas A. Sweeney, who served as a member of Troop A on the border for several months, has been appointed to the committee tonight and asked for some action that will provide some "substantial encouragement" for the men on the border.

Within a few days, said Sweeney, a bill, backed by "heavy taxpayers," will be introduced in the House providing a day for the men now on the border during the period from September 1 until the present time.

The committee also authorized an investigation of the proposal to provide a medal for the men on the border and officers who served on the border during the past summer.

Commission for Investigation of Proposals for Mergers of Departments and Boards Is Authorized by Senate.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Jan. 10. (Special.)—If the activity of gateway bills in the Senate is to be an indication, this is going to be an exceptionally light session so far as introducing bills is concerned.

The total number of bills introduced in the Senate up to tonight, for instance, is only 37. At the end of the third day in the 1913 session, 57 bills had been introduced.

And most of the Senators are not especially in a bill introducing mood at the present time.

TOURIST FUND ASKED FOR

WASCO MAN TO PRESENT BILL FOR $25,000 APPROPRIATION. Money Is to Be Pooled With Washington and British Columbia in Big Advertising Campaign.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Jan. 10. (Special.)—Oregon's proper participation in the campaign to attract tourists to the Northwest is to be provided by a bill dropped into the House this morning by Representative Anderson, of Wasco.

The measure appropriates $25,000 annually for two years to be used by the Pacific Northwest Tourist Association for the exclusive purpose of exploiting and advertising throughout the United States the scenic wonders, attractions and climate of Oregon, Washington and the province of British Columbia.

The appropriation is to be contingent upon the state of Washington appropriating a like amount, and British Columbia appropriating $12,500 annually.

It is intended to pool the funds appropriated by the two states and the Canadian province for the purpose of conducting a Nation-wide campaign to attract tourists to the Northwest.

The plan has been approved by leading business and bankers of Portland, Seattle, Spokane, Victoria, Vancouver and other cities of the affected territory who declare that the money so appropriated will be well invested.

Oregon's two members of the finance committee are to act in conjunction with two members from Washington and two from British Columbia.

It is pointed out by advocates of the measure that similar campaigns in Colorado and in other parts of the country have been wonderfully effective in attracting tourists, who add substantially to the prosperity of these respective districts by the money they expend.

The Northwest has the natural attractions sufficient to attract people from all parts of the world, it is argued. All that is needed now is to let the world know about it.

ECONOMY PROGRAMME UP (Continued from First Page.) Lists and ascertain what salaries are paid to their employes. The committee gave assent to the following appropriations:

Apprehension of criminals, reduced from $5000 to $4000. Superintendent of Public Instruction, $15,250.

State Teachers' Association, $500. McLoughlin Memorial Home, at Oregon City, $50.

Emergency Board, $200. Fugitives from Justice, $15,000. Grand Army of the Republic printing, $500.

Circuit Judge, $200,000. District Attorneys, $136,400. State Land Board, $15,000.

Printing of proclamations, $500. Records of arrests, $1000. Revision Seems Unlikely.

Some of the above are subject to revision before being finally placed in the appropriation bill, but probably will stand as accepted today.

The committee eliminated requests as follows: Station Registration Board, $2000.

Board of Higher Curricula, $334. Support of non-resident poor, $3000. The committee authorized the drafting of a bill appropriating $25,000 for the current expenses of the legislature. The members were all agreed that the present session should cost less than the former, by 6 per cent at least. The cost of the preceding session being $68,406. The appropriation of $25,000 does not represent the entire appropriation for this session, but is made to meet original bills arising.

State Institutions First. The committee will visit most of the institutions personally. It is probable that the committee, in preparing its budget to that it shall remain within the limitation of the appropriation, will make provision for maintenance of the institutions first, and when all appropriations that are considered absolutely necessary are provided for, will divert any balance, if there is such, as equitably as possible among the institutions for betterment, or permanent improvements.

Strong indications were shown today that the $20,000 request for a bounty on wild animals will be cut into $8, but open questions were asked by Senators La Follette and Farrell, if coyotes were not bred in Eastern Oregon for the purpose of securing bounty money, and apparently there will be strenuous opposition to anything like the appropriation previously given.

Farrell Attacks Humane Society. The Humane Society was attacked by Senator Farrell as having too much money already, and he advocated instituting a request of $240. He asserted that recently the society in Portland hauled away a dead animal for him, that they sent him a bill for $8, but when the bill was protested on his official executive stationery, they reduced it to $2.

Senator Wood was elected chairman of the joint committee. The body will visit the state schools for the blind and deaf in Salem tomorrow.

LEGAL REVISION PROPOSED. Bill Would Make Initiative Measures Harmonize With Statutes.

New measures proposed in this state by initiative must hereafter conform to the constitution if they become laws, according to the purpose of the Constitutional Revision Association of Oregon, which will present a joint resolution to the Legislature for adoption that will prevent confusion on the statute books, it is declared.

It is also desired that any amendment must be made to harmonize with laws already on the books, or else it will itself fall to the ground. The new law must state specifically what other laws or portions of laws, it is to replace. Failure to do so will be fatal to the measure.

It is also desired that proportional representation be eliminated from the fundamental law of the state. It is proposed that instead of six months' notice being required of a voter, as at present, that this term be lengthened to one year. Bars to citizenship that are in the constitution, but which are not in the laws, are also sought to be eliminated by the association.
