DIVORCE ASSAILED

Rev. Thomas Jenkins Criticises Those Who Pose as Single.

REMARriage IS OPPOSED

Episcopal Rector Says "Grass Widows" Who Use Maiden Names Are Pretending to Be Eligible to Be Brides.

The "grass widows" who with their wiles try to deceive the public by using the title "Miss" and their maiden names and the "un-married" men who go into society as bachelors when in reality they are divorced men, came under the sledge hammer of disapproval of Rev. Thomas Jenkins, rector of St. David's Episcopal Church, Saturday night, when he preached on the subject "Christian Marriage, or Shall God's Law or That of the State Rule the Conduct of Christians?"

"The most devilish, the most despicable thing of all to me is the woman who has been divorced and who gets back her maiden name. Think of her posing as a maiden when she has been married! She is putting temptation in the way of other young men who should be protected. She has no right to offer her hand and heart to a husband as though she were a maiden."

Divorced Men Assailed.
Of the divorced man he said: "I wish the man who has put away his wife by divorce could be branded. I wish he might be compelled to carry around his wife's name as well as his own forever."

"In most states the laws are in conflict with the laws of God," said the rector, and he proceeded to quote passages of scripture, which justified his statement that "divorce is an evil and that re-marriage is a curse to the family and the state."

The Rev. Mr. Jenkins told his parishioners that he frequently refuses to marry persons who have been divorced and that when asked why, he always answers that he does so to fulfill the law of Christ which "states explicitly that a second marriage while both parties of the first ceremony are living, is adultery and is against the law of God."

Contract Has no Time Element.
"Instead of 'Peace on earth, good will to men,' it should be 'Peace on earth to men of good will.' Of course if you aren't a Christian and don't pretend to be, this will not bother you."
"Marriage is regarded by the state of Oregon as a civil contract with no recognition as to time—just for convenience. I want you to know that my sympathy is often with the long-suffering people who find separation a necessity."
"But divorce, which is nearly always

GILL CASE FLARES UP

Special Prosecutor Provided for Probing Charges of Immunity by Billingsley Brothers.

C. L. REAMES MAY TAKE PART IN SEATTLE WHISKY INVESTIGATION.

Clarence L. Reames, United States District Attorney for Oregon, probably will go to Seattle today as special prosecutor in Hiltet whisky importation cases involving the Billingsley brothers, recently indicted, who charged they were getting protection from Mayor H. Gill, of Seattle.

When the Billingsleys were indicted they charged that they had paid Mayor Gill for immunity from arrest for their illegal receipts of "booze." It is said that a controversy arose between the United States Attorney's office in Seattle and Mayor Gill, both sending requests to the United States Attorney-General for special legal representation.

Their requests at first were denied and the matter temporarily died down. Through some force it has again been fanned, until the requests for a special prosecutor have been granted.

GENERAL BELL IS IN CITY

Army Commander Attends Miss Mary Bacon's Party.

General J. Franklin Bell, head of the Western Department of the United States Army, arrived in the city yesterday to attend the coming-out party of Miss Mary Bacon, which took place at the Hotel Multnomah last night. General Bell is an old-time friend of the late General Bacon, U. S. A., father of Miss Bacon.

General Bell leaves the city today for Olympia, where he is to confer with the committee of military affairs of the Washington State Legislature over the condemnation of land which it is proposed to use for an Army cantonment. He will return to the city on Thursday for a stay of several days before returning to headquarters at San Francisco.

CODE IS EXPLAINED

Federal Engineer Points Out Features of Road Bill.

MR. YEON GIVES BACKING

Dr. Hewes Tells of Plan for System of Highways Under Direction of Commission and for Increase in Revenues.

How the new model highway code is framed was discussed by Dr. L. L. Hewes, district engineer of the Federal Office of Public Roads, at the members' council luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce, and John B. Yeon, roadmaster for Multnomah County, spoke on some of the effects that will come from the highways constructed under the system, if the code bill goes through the Legislature.

"Do you realize that you have something better than the California climate in The Dalles and Hood River, within easy reach of us by automobile, with the new highway that is built?" Mr. Yeon asked.

"Do you know that there are more sunny days in The Dalles than there are in Los Angeles?"

"Oregon has the best things in the world to offer the people if we only make them accessible through good roads. I endorse the entire plan for a highway code as it has been outlined by Dr. Hewes."

Auto Men Favor Increase.
M. O. Wilkins, president of the Automobile Association, declared that the proposed increase in automobile license charges would not be opposed by them. "We are more than willing to have the tax on automobiles raised if we are sure that the money thus raised is to go to the improvement of the highways."

In his address on the form of the code, Dr. Hewes went into considerable detail as to its plans.

GYPSUM RATE IS UP

Competitors Oppose Plea of Eastern Oregon Company.

DECISION IS NOT REACHED

Petitioner Tells State Commission That Plant Paying Wages of $6000 Monthly May Close if Relief Is Not Granted.

A hearing of the Gypsum case, affecting the rates to be allowed between Gypsum, Or., and Portland on the lines of the O.-W. R. & N. Company for the transportation of plaster, was held yesterday before the Public Service Commission of Oregon.

The case hinges upon the so-called "fourth section," which makes it unlawful to transport freight between given points at a lower rate than is charged between intermediate points. The contention of the Pacific Lime & Gypsum Company, of Gypsum, is that competition in the Portland market is a serious menace to the success of its business. A rate of $2 a ton is requested between Gypsum and Portland. W. T. Noel, sales manager for the applicant company, represents this side of the suit.

COMMISSION RULE URGED

Pendleton May Vote on Proposition Embracing City Manager.

PENDLETON, Or., Jan. 15.—(Special.)—Pendleton may again vote on the proposition of having a commission form of government and a city manager. The question is being agitated by prominent business men. A special election probably will be called to determine the issue. Pendleton has turned down the plan for a commission form of government twice, but not under the managerial scheme. The measure was defeated in 1911 by a very narrow majority and was brought up again in 1912.
