BROKERS GET TIME TO GO OVER BOOKS

"Leak" Inquiry Suspended for Several Days-Names of Innocent Buyers Guarded.

ONE BIG SALE UNCOVERED

With Request to Produce Lists-6000 or More Firms to Give Reports.

NEW YORK, Jan. 24 .- To give Stock Exchange brokers time to produce records of the dealings of their customers during the time the international peace situation was a factor in the stock market, the rules committee of the House suspended its "leak" inquiry and returned to Washington towards. They probably will come back day. They probably will come back next Tuesday, by which time it is ex-pected the brokers' accounts will have been examined by the committee's experts.

The committee expects to learn from these accounts who were the big operators in the market just prior to the publication of the President's peace note and will then summon these indi-viduals to find out if they had any ad-vance information on the note and, if so, where they got it.

Delay in Reporting Sure Delay in Reporting Sure.

The adjournment came after the committee had been informed by Chairman Samuel F. Streit, of the Stock Exchange clearing-house committee, that it would be physically impossible for the 6000 or so brokerage houses belonging to the Exchange to produce the desired data within two weeks or a month. This was in conflict with an earlier statement by President H. G. S. Noble, of the Exchange, who thought the first responses might come within a day or twe.

The committee went into executive session on the subject with Messra. Streit and Noble and its experts. The result was the committee submitted to the board of governors of the Exchange a supplemental request to be transmitted to the brokers, which was expected not only to simplify the book-keeping task of furnishing the desired data, but also to provide for concealment of the names of customers whom the committee finds need not be involved in the inquiry. volved in the inquiry.

Big Short Sellers to Be Called.

The committee is seeking only to discover those responsible for big short selling operations, which are supposed to have reflected possession of an advance tip on the note. Under the new scheme the actual accounts are to be aubmitted in one envelope and the need to the committee in the life of the customers in other life has a count on symbol close appears innocent the submitted of the customers in other life has a count on symbol close appears innocent the state of the customers in other life has a count on symbol close that life has a count on symbol close the found of goverors agreed to submit the request and the committee went away assuming the brokers would acced to it, but the committee's counse of the customers.

One Clew Already Found.

Already the committee's capanse is a first of brokerage clearing-house sheets under examination and have a list of brokerage houses which sold stock heavily just prior to the public and of the note. One of these documents showing not sales on December 13 of 75,600 shares of United States Steel by an unnamed firm was submitted to the committee in its public season today. The exact nature of the sales the experts could find out by examining the firm's General Beebe Gives Welcome.

As was the case yesterday, the committee's counsel in examining witnesses today pounded away at the "short" sale feature of the stock market speculafeature of the stock market speculation. It seemed to be Mr. Whippie's purpose to show that the opportunities to make profits against pools organized to operate on the "ahort" side were alim. In questioning President Noble on this subject, particularly as to whether stocks in diminished circulation were not withdrawn from the market as unavailable for short operation. Mr. Whippie was assailed by Representative Chiperfield. The Congressman accused the attorney of impugning Mr. Noble's sincerity. Mr. Whippie denied any such intention.

Mrs. Brown, who is a native of Louisville, Ky, had been suing her husband for a separation and for the custody of their little daughter.

While awaiting the hearing before Judge Cohalan, little Dudley maneuvered the hands of her papa and mamma together and pulled them side by side until they were smiling into each others' faces. Smiles led to speech over the little girl's curly hair.

"Let's talk it over," said Mr. Brown, and Mrs. Brown consented.

CLATSKANIE, Or., Jan. 24 .- (Speial.) - Sheriff Stanwood, Constable Turner and a large posse of men searched last night and all day today

Turner and a large posse of men searched last night and all day today in an effort to find Raymond Lewis, who yesterday is said to have attacked 3-year-old Margareta Hill on a lonely mountain road three miles south of this city. At a late hour tonight their efforts had been in vain.

C. B. Walkey, manager of the West Oregon Lumber Company, who was traveling along the road directly after the attack, met the Hill girl, who was crying bitterly, and upon ascertaining the cause of her trouble immediately informed the authorities in this city. Shoriff Stanwood was then notified and arrived on the evening train to head the posse in a thorough search.

Acting on a clew given by the girl that her assailant wore a red sweater, was dressed in logger's clothes and had escaped into a woods known as the Schoolhouse Hill, the officers at once began scouring the country in that vicinity. The search proving futile there, they next decided to search the Lewis residence.

They then looked through the house with the exception of one room which is occupied by Mrs. Lewis, and, believing that he could not possibly be hiding there, the officers left to continue their search in the mountains.

However, it was believed, this morning that Lewis had been hiding in the house probably all night, and apparently in his mother's room. Before the officers could be notified the fugitive escaped into the woods again and was not seen again for three hours.

This time he was chased across the school grounds by Deputy Sheriff Baumgardner, but, taking refuge for a few minutes under the gymnasium, he was able to elude the posse for the fifth time and has not been seen since.

Owing to the fact that Lewis knows overy foot of the country in this vicinity, it is hardly probable that he will

SECOND EXAMINATION PROVES H. C MOWREY PARANOIC.

Harry C. Mowrey, adjudged a parold last November, but paroled from the asylum recently, made application before County Judge Tazwell yesterday for another examination by a different loard of physicians, for the purpose of proving his sanity, which would allow property now held under a guardian to be restored to him.

The request was granted, an immediate examination was ordered, and the result was an affirmation of the conclusion of the previous examiners that Mowrey was not sane. Judge Tazwell thereupon denied the petition for restoration of property worth between $30,000 and $40,000.

George I. Brooks, attorney for Mowrey, asked at first that the case be passed upon by a jury of laymen, but Judge Tazwell held that only physiians of experience would be competent o judge the sanity of the man. Mowrey's trial for sanity a short time ago was sensational, due to charges he made against officers of an East Side

Lumber Company, of which he was formerif secretary. His memory of business details was prodigious and the examination consumed almost a week. Dr. S. E. Josephi, A. J. Giesy and C. F. Calbreath made the first examination. Drs. William House, H. I. Keeney, H. M. Patton and R. C. Me-Daniel made the examination yesterday.
