A three-cornered tie now exists in the race for the 1917 basketball championship of the Portland Interscholastic League as a result of the 31-to-21 victory of the Jefferson High athletes over the Lincoln High tilters in the Young Men's Christian Association gymnasium yesterday.

The Ralipeters did not put up a good game during the first half, the players said, because they were without the services of their star center, Ralph Knudsen, out of the game because of a bad ankle.

In the second period, however, Captain Henry Stevens, of the West Siders, went to guarding Burke, and only two points were scored by "Spec" during the remainder of the game.

Myron Willey featured for the Ralipeters, getting 11 points, while Hugh Clerin was good for six. Coach Stanley Horlocke is confident that his team will automatically be disqualified for making four personal fouls.

Coach Fenstermacher, of the Washington High School basketball team, has arranged to play the Hill Military Academy quintet in the Washington High School gymnasium this afternoon at 8:15 o'clock.

BEES PROMISE TO BE MUCH STRONGER

BEAVERS HAVE NO TRAINER

McCredie to Take 19 to Honolulu. Catcher O'Brien to Be Rewarded. Perle Casey Being Mentioned for Place as Umpire.

BY ROSCOE PAWCETT.

A week of unusual bustle in baseball circles has served to fill nearly all the Coast League first-class newspapers. One club which undoubtedly will be stronger this year is the Salt Lake outfit, under the guidance of the new manager, Bernhard.

Salt Lake has suffered from inefficient pitching the past two seasons. The staff of pitchers was weak, and the club with such swatters as Ryan, Hanzah and Quinlan in the batting order. This Spring Bernhard plans to start with a strong twirling corps, and if his pitchers prove as formidable as Bernhard expects, the Bees should flourish from the start.

Here is the staff of slabsters already under Bernhard's wing: Right-handers—Klawitter, Hughes, Dougan, Dupp, Hall, Kinsley, and Jones; southpaws, Levern, Hoff, Evans and Bilas.

Dubuc is the well-known Detroit slowball artist. Walter McCredie doubts that Salt Lake will be able to sign him, as he has been under a $5000 contract for the past three or four years. During his big league career Dubuc has salted away a goodly horde of shakels, and he may prefer retirement to the comedown of a minor league stipend.

Manager Bernhard should start with at least three good southpaws in the starting line-up. Hanzah and Sheely, the latter of Spokane, will do the backstopping. Brief will hold down first base, and Rath and Quinlan will be the regulars on third. With the purchase of Karl Crandall from Indianapolis three candidates are available for second base and the utility infielder.

Crandall undoubtedly will land the regular job at the keystone. He is a former player with the Chicago Americans, Guigni, too, is said to belong to Salt Lake, but Frank, with all his clouting propensities, stands little chance to break into the infield.

The Bee outfielders are: Buddy Ryan, Tommy Quinlan, Johnny Tobin, Jimmy Shinn and Dick Bayless. Walter McCredie will take no trainer with him to Honolulu; in fact, no trainer has been named for the Portland ball club. This will enable Mac to bundle 19 players aboard boat for the islands—two catchers, probably Larry and Tommie, and three outfielders. Mack has decided to reward Catcher O'Brien for faithful service last year by taking him along to do the backstopping with Elshar, Marshall, the new receiver secured from St. Paul, will be asked to report at Honolulu.

Friends of Perle Casey are boosting him for another chance in the Coast League as an umpire. Perle saved good points for the club in two rounds of the league before, and President Baum could make more friends at this bottom of the league by giving Perle another chance.

Los Angeles has purchased a young pitcher named Harrington from Denver. Harrington's home is at Wakefield, Mass. He won 11 out of 14 for Denver last year.

George Stovall is much incensed at Roger Bresnahan, owner of the Toledo club, of the American Association. Stovall says his manager has promised him should be able to land a managerial position in the minors. Now Bresnahan wants $500 before he will let Stovall go.

"Putting over a piker deal on me," exclaimed Stovall excitedly to a Los Angeles reporter. "I am not a piker. I am worth $2000 or I am entitled to my release. The fact that Bresnahan bids me in at a paltry $500 shows that he is merely trying to trick off some 'chicken feed,' to which he knows he is not entitled."

The Portland hockey management is drawing a lot of undesirable publicity from its protest of Referee Ion following the 6-2 walloping Seattle "gave the game to the home team." "Did you come out here to see the ball game or to see Huck and me?" he yelled. "Of course I am here to see the game. Whereupon Nick made a deep bow to the umpire and he and Sawyer proceeded to pull off a fake fight in celebration of the umpire's defeat."

Platt Adams, the high jumper, has been professionalized for capitalizing his athletic reputation. Adams must have accepted a job in a circus or signed a contract to demonstrate rubber heels.

Bob Edgren, well-known New York sporting editor, has been invited by the owners of Miss Minneapolis, the world's champion speedboat, to handle the craft in the gold cup race in the Twin Cities next year. Edgren is an enthusiastic and skilled driver of high-speed boats. With one of the Brockton hydroplanes he won the gold cup race at Lake George in 1914. A new rule of the association requires that one of the occupants of the boat be an amateur.

A Harvard graduate would change the name of football to something more appropriate because "on the average the ball is kicked only once in 12.38 plays." Squash is a ridiculous name, too, for the ball seldom squashes.

between the universities of Pennsylvania and Oregon. This is the height of something.

A University of Chicago publication is quoted as saying that if Minnesota has approximately the same eleven back next year it would be only fair to play its entire schedule on a single afternoon.

Washington, according to the schedule, is to play the Reds at Cairo, Louisville and Cincinnati. They should know each other's style if they came to meet in the world's largest city on a series of a lot of its interest for some people.

Speaking of those New Year's resolutions—but why continue? They say that insomniacs still read anything that comes to hand, in an effort to while away the long winter hours. That must be the reason for the publication of this Winter baseball stuff.

It is said that the person who sees Annette Kellermann in her latest moving picture will never see any more of her.

Mike Gibbons opines that he will stop Darcy. A good many persons have a lot of fun kidding themselves.

Herb Stove Dope. In Winter the bush league recruit is a wonderful sort of saloon. He is better than Cobb. And is sure of his job. But in Spring he is given the boot.

Kid Haas, the sensational White Sox catcher, is not as ambitious as most bushers. He doesn't want Cobb's job. He only aspires to fill Joe Jackson's shoes.

Ice hockey is a fashionable game. It is especially interesting to surgeons. Jim Thorpe finally has demonstrated that he can play big league ball—in the minors.

Rough drafts of a code of racing laws for tracks affiliated with both the National and American Trotting Associations were accepted by the joint rules committee of the two governing organizations. One of the principal provisions is that the rules shall be mandatory and not subject to any alterations.

A man in Chicago demands that the municipal bells be rung throughout the city at 1 A. M. to make people go to church. You may now expect to hear Billy Sunday defending the religious atmosphere of the all-night cabaret.

"Chic" Evans is ready for the task of teaching baseball players the tricks of golf. When the pitcher gets into a hole, for example, one supposes he'll use a niblick.

It is said that Jacques Fourrier is practicing indoor batting at his winter home in Tacoma. It is only timely to preserve the indoor cross-country race has not yet become popular.

GALE BLOWING ON HOOD SNOWSHOERS ENJOY HARD TRIP DESPITE ADVERSE WEATHER. Several Returns to Portland, While Others Will Remain at Mile-High Mountain-house for Few Days.

HOOD RIVER, Or., Jan. 25.—(Special.)—The Pe Ell High School basketball team was defeated by Doty Tuesday night, 23 to 22, in one of the speediest games ever witnessed on the Doty floor. Pe Ell was leading by a score of 14 to 7 at the close of the first half. Doty has not been defeated by a high school team this season.

PENDLETON LIBRARY ENDS COUNCIL VOTES TO REPEAL ACTION. Peace Commission Named.

PENDLETON, Or., Jan. 25.—(Special.)—The Pendleton Public Library, to which was granted a charter of incorporation, will cease to exist. On the advice of Judge J. A. Fee, the Council last night voted to repeal the four ordinances recently passed which provided for a separate city library and an annual tax levy for its maintenance.

JOY RIDE BILL REFUSED Organization Objects to Paying for Alleged Extravagance.

TACOMA, Wash., Jan. 25.—(Special.)—Members of the finance committee of the Mary Ball chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will fight George H. Atherton's contemplated suit to recover $690 for automobile hire. They asserted that the money was spent by Mrs. Maude M. Jackson, of Chicago, who staged an historic pageant for the Daughters and the Women's Clubhouse Association July 4 last, for joyrides by Mrs. Jackson and her son and for recreation trips. Mrs. Jackson's spectacle staged in the Stadium was a flat failure financially. The opposition ticket will not be made public until more definite arrangements have been made.

STOCK WEATHERS WINTER Eastern Oregon Animals Reported to Be in Fine Condition.

BAKER, Or., Jan. 25.—(Special.)—That all kinds of livestock are coming through the unusually severe winter in splendid condition is the report of stockmen of all parts of Baker, Grant and adjoining counties. Although the thermometer went down to 40 degrees below zero in some parts of Grant County, and to nearly 30 below in Baker County, the light snow made feeding conditions ideal, so that cattle, horses and sheep fared well. Even the horses that are still on the range are doing well.
