GAME COMMISSION WARMLY DEFENDED

Mr. Shoemaker Replies to JORDAN RETAINS CUE TITLE Charges Made by Linn County Sportsmen.

EXPENSE FIGURES

State Game Warden Shows $2, 927.08 Has Been Paid for Employes in Linn and 350,000 Trout Have Been Liberated.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Jan. 25.—(Special.)—In reply to a circular published and distributed by the Albany Commercial Club, charging among high runs. bany Commercial Club, charging among other things that the Fish and Game Commission has spent less than $200 in actual money for game wardens in Linn-County in the past two years, and advocating the abolishment of the Commission, Carl D. Shoemaker, State Game Warden, gave out a formal statement today warmly defending the Commis-today warmly defending the Commission and its work.

The statement has been submitted by Mr. Shoemaker to Senator Cusick, of Linn and Lane counties, and to other members of the Legislature.

In it the Game Warden points out that in salaries and expenses of wardens alone the Commission has spent, not $200, but $2927.08, in Linn County in the past two years. He also cites in the past two years. He also cites figures showing that in the same period more than 350,000 game trout have been planted in Linn County streams, and that Chinese pheasants have also been liberated in the county.

Pay of Wardens $2927.08. Game Warden Shoemaker's statement in part, is as follows:

"In the circular sent out by the Albany Commercial Club, which is entitled 'Abolish the Game Commission,' it is stated that less than $200 in actual money was paid for game warden service in Linn County for the same period. Practically all of this time we have had two wardens on the payroll, who have drawn a total of $2927.08 in salary and B. Tycer, of Brownsville, has been on steadily for the past two years and his salary aggregated $1800 and his ex-penses $128.45 for the past two years, J. R. Metzger, of Albany, has been on practically the entire time, and has re-ceived $710.83 in salary and $257.80 in expenses. To neither one of these men is owed any sum by the Fish and Game Commission at this time. "The Fish and Game Commission liberated during the season of 1915, 100,530 game trout in the various streams of Linn County. During the year 1916, 255,950 game trout were liberated.

During the same period the Fish and Game Commission paid, in additional e Commission paid, in additional ties on wolves and cougar, the sum

About 400 Phensants Liberated.

"During the two years approximately 400 Chinese pheasants have been liberated within Linn County. The number of pheasants liberated is, as I ber of phensants liberated is, as I stated, approximate, but all other fig-ures given in this letter are accurate. I do not have the absolute figures on

No Charge Made for Cowboys, No Charge Made for Cowboys.

"If Mr. Finley ever employed 40 cowboys to help him get a picture of a bebeat they either worked for nothing or Mr. Finley pald them out of his own pocket, as no expense voucher for the employment of any cowboys in the taking of any of his pictures has ever been paid by the Commission. . .

"The Game Warden has a hard task at the best, and it is absolutely vital to the conservation of our fish and game that those who are good sportsmen, as well as good citizens, report men, as well as good citizens, report violations when they hear of them. If they do not so report and so co-operate with the game department it is illadvised on their part to come out later and say that violations are going on and no effort is being made to enforce the game laws. the game laws.

Sentiment Being Built Up.

"We have been striving earnestly to build up sentiment favorable to game protection and game conservation. We realize that only through the co-opera tion of the people can we accomplish this purpose. -Charles Jordan is still Northwestern three-cushion champion. Nearly every billiard fan in the city was on hand tonight to see the final block of the 150-point match for the title of Northwestern champion, being played be-tween Jordan and Walter Johnston, of Portland. The first two blocks showed some fine billiards, and Johnson was in the lead, with a score of 100 to 33, so Jordan had a hard game to look forward to.

Jordan showed the class of billiards that he can play when forced. He never played prettier billiards than tonight, his open-table shooting being uncanny and his safety play was perfect. The balls broke well for him all the way and he took advantage of the good breaks by making many good runs. He had four 4s and one 7 for high runs.

Chase Sibley refereed the contest and challenged the winner to a match for the title and a side bet.

"The Fish and Game Commission maintains an office in the Commercial Club building in Portland. This office is located on the ground floor and has a great deal of window space, which has been used to excellent advantage in the display of animals and birds of Oregon. We have three rooms for which we pay the sum of $120 per month; very inexpensive when compared with the exceptional advantages which they afford in conveniently handling a large volume of business from day to day. The business of the game department is constantly increasing as the game protection sentiment increases.

"State Biologist William Finley spent from the game protection fund during the year 1916 the sum of 1091.14, which included the purchase of films, other photographic supplies, traveling expenses of an assistant, and various other sundry items of minor expenses.

expect to continue to enjoy in the future the splendid sport of hunting and angling they must not only be friendly to game protection, but they must actively co-operate and assist the game department in enforcing the laws.

"The man who knows of game violations and does not report them, and then later charges the game department with inefficiency, is no better than the violator he has shielded. I am glad that I can say that I believe there is much more wholesome and friendly spirit toward the game department and game protection and conservation than has ever existed.

"This sentiment is constantly on the increase, and with it come demands for greater protection, more fish and game to be liberated and a greater obligation of co-operation."

Boomerang Hats Entertain by Their Habit of Returning to Owners, and Songs Are Enjoyed.

The Juvenile Six, sprightly boys and girls, a round half dozen of them, offer the headline act at the Hippodrome on the new bill that opened yesterday. They are billed as a study in black and white and there is no end of clever white and there is no end of clever, steps, songs and comedy that make up the act. It is good for recalls galore. There are many laughs, too, in the sketch, "The Politician," presented by William Wilson & Company. The action concerns the aspirations of a suffragette to be Mayor. The male candidate for the same high honor and the "Suff" exchange a pointed dialogue in which each claims to being better suited to the job. It's a scream.

The Armory, Tenth and Couch streets, where Portland's eighth annual automobile show is to open tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock, was the scene yesterday of hurried preparation for the exhibition, which is to be by far the biggest in the history of the entire Pacific Northwest.

Joseph M. Rieg, manager of the show, announced yesterday that space had been reserved for 150 cars and motor trucks, or 59 more than were on display at last year's record-breaking event. All of the walls in the main drilliroom have been covered with panorama paintings done under the direction of Pierre Tragile and special paintings are now being completed for the bailroom on the second floor, where all cars selling for less than $1000 are to be displayed.

Most of the paintings depict favorite Columbia River Highway views, a new study of the Columbia River Gorge from Crown Point, being particularly effective. Crater Lake, White Salmon Valley and racetrack views complete the horizon, which is 600 feet long and 12 feet deep.
