35 fishermen arrived.
The Portland delegation wants the Willamette River closed to net fishing from a point one and a half miles south from a point one and a half miles south of the Oswego bridge to the falls.
There were several netmen from Oregon City present at the gathering, which lasted two and one-half hours.
After the session had adjourned the consensus of opinion among the Portland men was that the bill for the closing of that section of the river would be reported on favorably by the committee.

Arthur I. Moulton, Walter F. Backus

Arthur I. Moulton, Walter F. Backus and William Umbdenstock were the principal speakers for the anglers, while District Attorney Hedges, of Clackamas County, was chief counsel for the professional fishermen.

Those who made the journey from Portland in the interest of the anglers were: H. A. Pollock, A. K. Downs, Will C. Block, W. J. Clark, Jack Herman, Walter F. Sixth Street at Washington

In addition to being interesting from a scenic viewpoint, these pictures are educational and instructive, in showing the ease with which the new electric locomotives, weighing 284 tons each, haul the heavy all-steel trains over the steep mountain

Twelve million dollars was expended in electrifying the 440 miles through the Bitter Roots and Rockies, and the successful operation of this mammoth project is now claiming world-wide attention.

Many of the scenes shown are through the beautiful canyons of Montana.

SALEM, Or., Jan. 26,—(Special.)—The State Taxpayers' League, at its annual meeting here today, President Walter Pierce presiding, refused to recommend Pierce presiding, refused to recommend mutilation of its own child, the 6 per cent limitation amendment. It went on record, however, as condemning those tax-levying officials who take advan-tage of the terms of the amendment arbitrarily to add the 6 per cent al-lowed, and intimated in a resolution that was adopted that such officials would be entitled to the political ax, if they continued to commit such taxation they continued to commit such taxation

This resolution was a modification of a proposal by J. A. Westerlund to so change the limitation amendment as to guard against possibilities of large in-building.

Governor Withycombe addressed the members of the league briefly, telling of his former opposition to the 6 per cent amendment, stating that as Governor the former opposition of the former opposition to the forme ernor of a state with unbounded resources he still has the same feeling, but declared that the officials and Leg-
