IDAHO ASSEMBLY

With 400 Bills and Resolutions Presented Less Than Dozen Out of Way.

FOUR SIGNED BY GOVERNOR

Measures Still Pending Include Abolition of Senate, 30-Day Notice Before Marriage and Year's Residence for Divorce.

BOISE, Idaho, Feb. 5 .- (Special.)-With close to 400 bills or resolutions introduced in the two Houses, less than a dozen have been passed or adopted, and of these four have been signed by the governor up to this morning.

There are pending administration bills alone which would be record enough for any able-bodied assembly, but in addition there are many others of almost if not as great importance. With 26 days of the session a matter of history, the process of speeding up will be a popular diversion from now on. One of the most conspicuous legistative reform measures before the Legislature is the Daughters-Johnston-Lucus proposed memorial to the state constitution, providing for a one-house Legislature. At the rate counties are being created, representation in the two Houses is growing by heave and hounds. Both are difficult tion in the two Houses is growing by leaps and bounds. Both are difficult to organize and more difficult to handle. With the right each member has to introduce bills, the legislative hopper becomes clogged, business in the Houses is congested, and as a result many make-shift acts get on the statute books.

Senate Abolition Proposed. To change this the proposed constitutional amendment would abolish the State Senate and cut the House down to 21 members, making a single one-House Legislature of a small, compact body of skilled men qualified to study the needs of the state and prepare the important legislation to Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on these fifty-cent cases of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will understand why dyspeptic troubles of all kinds must go, and why it relieves sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. "Pape's Diapepsin" is harnless; tastes like candy, though each dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but what will please you most, is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for billiousness or constipation.

They had to build a 3,000,000-galion reservoir for that flood effect in the Foxfilm, "The Cloud Puncher," according to the press agent. Accompanying this comes a story of the leak in the dike, a hero, life for settlers and a gold watch for the hero.

Jack Mower, hero of "The Butterfly Girl," was born in Honolulu, but left his birthplace at the tender age of 36 years. So he's at home in that Hawaiian village scene, hula girls, etc.
