HOFMANN HELD PEERLESS

Achievement of Pianist Declared Based on Solid Foundation.

"If ever a victor deserved the rewards of his prowess, it is Josef Hofmann, who gives a real next Saturday evening at the Heilig, direction Steers & Coman," a critic wrote recently. He has won his new place among pianists by his undoubted and personal personality, by none of the adventitious exploitation of what is called shrewd management. He has gone before his audiences and played with program that assumed standards among them as high as his own, that exacted much in attention and appreciation, that made no concessions to easy and trivial pleasures. He has played to them, like a man of intellect as well as of emotions, like a man of refinement as well as of a man of eloquence. He has been heard the chosen music through him and not him through the music. Technique he has had in plenty and to a degree to which few pianists have carried it. He has used it for a single purpose to produce a tone that should bear, reveal and enhance the substance and the spirit of the music by its sheer recreating beauty. Other pianists have had their various victories. Mr. Hofmann's is a victory of tone.

"There are three most important qualities in art. These are sincerity, sincerity and sincerity. Sincerity alone would not make an artist great, but no artist can be truly great who lacks this God-like quality."

HOFMANN SALE TOMORROW

Tomorrow, 10 A. M., at the Heilig, the seat sale opens for the Josef Hofmann recital, Feb. 17, direction Steers & Coman. Prices—Floor, $2. $1.50; balcony, $2. $1.50, $1.75; gal. res., 75c; gal. adm., 50c.—Adv.

LINCOLN IS HONORED

Members' Council and Clubs Celebrate Birthday.

SENATOR FULTON SPEAKS

N. G. Pike Reads Poem and Rosarian Quartet Sings; Schools Have Exercises and Pulpit Topics Are on Patriotism.

Principal observance of the anniversary of Abraham Lincoln was held by the members' council of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday at its luncheon, and with the council were present officers and members of most of the representative civic and commercial organizations of the city.

Ex-Senator Charles W. Fulton gave the address. Studying the character of Lincoln as developed in the circumstances into which fate threw him, Senator Fulton drew from it a powerful lesson in patriotism.

"February should be a sacred month to American citizens," he declared, "for in that month were born the man who was the father of the country and the man whom we honor today as the savior of the country."

N. G. Pike, president of the Rotary Club, read the poem "How God Made Abraham Lincoln," at the beginning of the programme and at the close the Royal Rosarian Quartet sang "The Star-Spangled Banner," while the men rose in their places at the tables and stood for a moment in reverence to the statesman in whose honor the ceremony had been held.

Presidents of other clubs who were represented at the meeting were: Mrs. Eva Lee Stephens, president of the Council of the Parent-Teacher Association; Dean Vincent, prime minister of the Rosarians; James B. Kerr, president of the Civic League; Commissioners Daly and Bigelow, N. G. Pike, president of the Rotary Club; Frank McGee, president of the Realty Board; S. C. Bratton, president of the Ad Club; E. A. Clark, president of the Progressive Business Men's Club; Dr. F. H. Dammach, of the Portland Social Turn Verein; Elsworth Benham, of the Transportation Club, and E. B. McFarland, president of the Portland Rose Society.

High schools celebrated Lincoln day last Friday, under the auspices of the Lincoln Memorial Association, and in the grammar schools yesterday short commemorative exercises were held. Lincoln services were held in most of the churches of the city Sunday morning or evening.

Yesterday was a partial holiday, the banks being closed. The court sessions at the Courthouse went on as usual, however.

HALF-HOLIDAY DENIED SOME

City Auditor and Treasurer Require Staffs to Work.

Every department of the city service, except the auditor's office and the treasurer's office, had a half holiday yesterday because of Lincoln's birthday. The City Council informally decided yesterday morning to close the City Hall at noon except for such offices and employees as had to remain on duty to transact necessary business. Auditor Barbur and Treasurer Adams refused to adhere to the Council's mandate and required all employees in their departments to work the full day. There was much wrath in these two parts of the service as a result.

CHRIS EVANS IS BURIED

FOUR SONS BEAR BODY OF FORMER OUTLAW TO GRAVE.

Services Conducted by Rev. Father E. P. Murphy, of St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Parish.

Four sons of Chris Evans, noted California highwayman of the early '90s, bore their father's casket yesterday morning, when funeral services were held at the home of his daughter, Mrs. C. S. Henry, on the Lower Calapooia River, on February 9. Mrs. Brock was 80 years of age. She is survived by two daughters—Mrs. Edwards and Krise, of South Deer Creek, and Mrs. James Dodge, of Portland. Mrs. Brock was also a sister of Henry Ridenour, of Roseburg; David Ridenour, of Reno, Nev., and Mrs. Dan Wheeler, of Sparks, Nev.

There was no song service, and the little funeral cortege of seven automobiles soon turned from the chapel doors toward Mount Calvary Cemetery. The four sons who acted as pallbearers were Joseph, John, Carl and L. Evans. The service was attended by the widow, who resided at 340 Second street, and by his only daughter, who arrived from California but a few hours before.

On February 20, 1894, Evans was sentenced to life in the California State Penitentiary. When pardon was granted to him he returned to his family, then residents of Portland. Some weeks ago, unknown to his sons, he was taken to the Multnomah County Farm as a pauper. Learning of this they had him taken to St. Vincent's Hospital, where death came on Friday night.

Douglas Pioneer Passes On.—ROSEBURG, Or., Feb. 12.—(Special.)—Mrs. Letha Brock, one of the early pioneers of Douglas County, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. S. Henry, on the Lower Calapooia River, on February 9. Mrs. Brock was 80 years of age. She is survived by two daughters—Mrs. Edwards and Krise, of South Deer Creek, and Mrs. James Dodge, of Portland. Mrs. Brock was also a sister of Henry Ridenour, of Roseburg; David Ridenour, of Reno, Nev., and Mrs. Dan Wheeler, of Sparks, Nev.

AUDITORIUM PROBLEM UP
 Council Will Decide Whether to Allow Contractor Needed $26,000.

Tabulation of figures showing expenditures and balance in the fund for the construction of the public auditorium will be submitted to the City Council tomorrow morning. At that time the Council will decide what is to be done with the contract. The general contractor, Harry Pederson, is financially unable to finish the work, and it is necessary for the Council either to appropriate more money or take over the work.

The plan is for the Council to give $26,000, which was the amount of an error made in the Pederson bid and which has been the cause of Mr. Pederson's financial embarrassment. It was tentatively agreed by the Council at the time Mr. Pederson was forced to take the contract that Mr. Pederson should be aided financially if he proved that the alleged error in his bid was a mistake. The $26,000 is available in the Auditorium fund.

Northwest Will Be Seen.
 "On account of the very nature of their calling the delegates will profit by their trip to the Northwest, and there is no doubt that the impressions they will receive will be most favorable," continued Mr. Fort. "The messages that they will take back to their homes will result in interesting thousands of persons in the many wonderful scenic attractions and resources of this section. They will learn a new lesson in geography, which later will be conveyed to thousands of school children. They are observing and will seek information on every subject. There is no doubt that the great majority of them will be big boosters for Portland and the entire Northwest."

Mr. Fort attended a lecture given at the La Salle Hotel in Chicago just before he left for the West and says that Samuel C. Lancaster is making a decided hit with his talk and views on the Columbia River Highway. Many school teachers attended the lecture.

Scenic Features Impress.
 Mr. Fort was last in Portland when work on the highway had just been started. He snatched several glimpses at various points on the train coming to Portland yesterday and was greatly impressed with its scenic features. He suggests that a co-operative plan on the part of the railroads and the citizens of Portland to exploit the highway more extensively would be an effective move.

As soon as the war ends there will be a great movement to the West of persons seeking homes on farms, in the opinion of Mr. Fort.

Mr. Fort will remain on the coast

Educators' Gathering Will Help City, Says Official.

ADVANTAGES TO BE SHOWN
 Gerrit Fort, of Union Pacific, Expects Teachers Who Will Be in Portland Will Be Charmed With Oregon Country.

"The National Education Association will be one of the most important gatherings ever held in the West," said Gerrit Fort, passenger traffic manager of the Union Pacific, who arrived in Portland yesterday from Chicago.

Mr. Fort says that as a result of the visit of thousands of school teachers, school superintendents and educators in Portland next July, the city and the Northwest will receive a better kind of advertising than can be obtained in any other way.

Roseburg Urged to Be Religious.
 ROSEBURG, Or., Feb. 21.—(Special.)—That the business men of Roseburg should take greater interest in religious affairs and that the church should be the forum for discussion of all questions of benefit to the social and civic life of this community was the plea made at the Methodist Church business men's luncheon held here. About 50 persons were in attendance at the meeting and many matters pertaining to the future development of Douglas County were discussed.
