BY GERTRUDE P. CORBETT

VISITORS and engaged girls are still occupying the center of the social stage, yesterday being especially interesting for Miss Nancy Zan, the event of importance being the charming luncheon presided over by Miss Ruth Teal.

During the exquisitely appointed table, which was decked with a basket of lovely Spring flowers, were Miss Warren, Miss Rhoda Rumell, Miss Ruth Shull, Miss Margaret Mears, Miss Sara McCully, Miss Kathryn Hoyt, Miss Harriett Cumming, Miss Aliza MacMaster, Miss Hazel Archibald, of Seattle, who has been visiting Miss Isabella Macleay, Miss Macleay, Miss Zan and the hostess.

Miss Zan had planned a tea for the afternoon to honor Miss Warren, of St. Paul, but owing to illness in her family, the affair was postponed. Today Miss Elizabeth Jones has asked a number of belles and beaux to dinner complimentary to Miss Margaret Mears and Norman N. Rupp, and tomorrow Miss Mears will share honors with Miss Alice Warren at the bridge party for which Miss Sara McCully will be hostess.

The younger set also are interested in the dinner party to be given tomorrow night by Miss Esther Tucker honoring another visitor, Miss Elizabeth Wiley, of Washington, D. C., who is visiting her uncle and aunt, Colonel and Mrs. C. E. Wiley.

Miss Ruth Teal will leave today for a visit with Miss Williams in Seattle. She plans to return Wednesday. Miss Hazel Archibald left last night for her home in the North.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Montague are being felicitated upon the arrival of a baby girl, born February 7.

One of the prettiest and merriest of all the Valentine parties on Wednesday was that given by Mrs. Burke Channing's little children, Mary Joan and John Channing. They entertained about 14 little girls and boys with an early dinner party, followed by games and music. Valentine games, novelties and decorations made the affair charming.

Last night was especially interesting and gay for a number of the young married folk, who were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. John N. Corbhan at a charming dance given to compliment their sister, Mrs. William E. Guerin, of Cleveland, O. The affair was given in the attractive Harlow-Grady Hall, which was enhanced by the profusion of fragrant Spring flowers and the pretty gowns of the women.

The Saturday Dinner-Dance Club will meet tomorrow night at the Hotel Portland, about 25 members having made reservations. These meetings are always delightful and are eagerly anticipated by the members.

An event of interest in the concert given this evening by the employees of Roberts Bros. under the direction of E. Malduyn Evans. The concert will begin promptly at 8:15 and will be given by the best vocalists in the organization and will include nine numbers. The latter part of the evening will be devoted to dancing, patronesses for the affair including Mrs. Thomas Roberts, Mrs. W. E. Roberts, Mrs. E. H. Roberts, Mrs. G. E. Walker, Mrs. E. M. Evans, Mrs. A. C. Woods, Mrs. A. C. Catto, Mrs. W. D. Medlin, Mrs. W. F. Young, Mrs. W. H. Smith, Mrs. N. A. Boody and Mrs. I. A. Crosby.

An interesting card party will be given today by the Knights of Pythias at their hall at 10 o'clock. About five hundred will be played and handsome prizes will be awarded to the high scorers. All women are cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. Mary B. Knolls left yesterday for an indefinite stay at her cottage in Seaside.

The women of St. Francis' parish will hold a card party at the residence of their pastor, Father McGeehan, at East Eleventh street, tonight. After cards, a light supper will be served. A large attendance is anticipated.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE

By LILIAN TINGLE.

PORTLAND, Or., Jan. 22.—Could you give me a recipe for making cranberry jelly that will uncloud? It seems to have trouble at times in getting mine to jell. MISS J.

Cranberry Jelly—One quart picked-over cranberries, 3/4 cups water, 2 cups sugar. Boil the cranberries gently until they burst. Rub through a sieve. Reheat but do not boil. Add the sugar until melted, then pour in small cups, wet with cold water. Uncloud when cold. For very tart berries a very little more sugar may be needed. So much sugar is needed that the sugar is added makes the mixture difficult to jell. If the cranberries are bitter in flavor drop them into hot water not boiling water in which quarter teaspoonful soda is dissolved, leave 30 seconds, drain and rinse in cold water. Then cook as above.

Portland, Or., Feb. 5.—Dear Miss Tingle: I read your recipe for orange marmalade, which you gave by request in the Oregonian a few days before Christmas, and it seemed to me to be a good one, but the paper was destroyed before I had time to try it, so will you please send it to me? I will be very grateful to you for it. MRS. Y.

I hope this is the recipe: Mixed Marmalade (sometimes called Orange Marmalade). One medium-sized grapefruit, one large lemon, one orange. Slice the fruit as thin as possible, rejecting the seeds and dividing the slices into small pieces. Save all the juice. Cover with two and a half

Are You Intoxicated?

The question is not as impertinent as it sounds. You may be a real teetotaler and yet be "intoxicated"—that is, poisoned by the gases that come from imperfect digestion. The products of food putrefaction are taken up by the blood and often poison the entire system. Cut out meats and starchy foods for a while. Eat Shredded Wheat with milk or cream for breakfast; eat it with stewed fruits and green vegetables for dinner or supper. It will cure auto-intoxication and make a new man of you. All the meat of the whole wheat in a digestible form. A perfect meal at lowest cost. Made at Niagara Falls, N. Y.

quarts cold water and let stand overnight, gently until the rind part is quite soft and swollen and easily pierced. It should tend to sink to the bottom of the kettle. Adding sugar before the rind is thoroughly cooked makes the marmalade strips hard and tough. The sugar may be added as the rind is tender, but it is really better to let it stand overnight, then add two and a half quarts sugar and boil until the liquid is clear and "jells" easily. Store in glasses covered with paraffin in the usual way.

GLOWN BABOONS AT 'HIP'

CLEVER ANIMAL ACTORS APPEAR IN FUN-PROVOKING ROMANCE.

Good Vocalists, Clever Jugglers and Those Who Patter Pleasare Are Also Features on Bill.

An unique comedy sketch in which the actors are all baboons tops the entertaining new bill at the Hippodrome, and the audience is given the conclusion that Darwin was right.

These apes exhibit an intelligent understanding of the various roles required to enact a wild comedy entitled "A Monkey Romance," presented by Morris.

Finally, the appeal is for fun, and that is exactly what happens, in fast order, too. With no one to help out on the stage the monkeys go correctly through the demands of the roles.

An especially pleasing offering is that of the Milano Four, a mixed quartet, composed of individual voices of operatic quality which have been trained in fine methods. There is musically understanding evidenced in the selections from the classics appeal for the sweet harmony in the blended voices.

A former Baker leading woman, Mabel Cameron, who is well known in both stock and road productions, appears with Alan Devitt in a clever comedy skit entitled "The Room Forgets," which, with keen lines and sparkling business, of a millionaire chap of the gay white way who weds a girl of the merry, merry chorus, who is on a spree. Both Miss Cameron and Mr. Devitt appear to excellent advantage in these roles.

Entertainers de luxe are Challis and Lambert, who play a little, sing a little, dance a little, impersonate a little, chat a little and walk away with big applause.

Juggling demons are Adams and Mangles, who offer a diverting act with boomerang bonnets and juggle other little things.

The new picture story is "The Fugitive," of dramatic incident, besides which there is a comedy film and the Pathé News series.

CHANCE IS GIVEN PORTLAND

Bids To Be Invited on Supplies for Alaska Commission.

The possibilities for Portland securing a good per cent of the business of furnishing supplies for the Government in the railway construction work in Alaska were outlined by Major J. Hittinger, assistant purchasing agent for the Alaska Railway Commission, in an address at a luncheon given in his honor yesterday at the Multnomah Hotel.

Major Hittinger, who has recently opened up an office in the Customs House, said that he was here to give Portland dealers and manufacturers a chance to get in on the work of furnishing supplies, heretofore handled principally by the Seattle concerns. He said he would co-operate in every way with the work of the commission.

Many jobbers and manufacturers attended the luncheon.

GOOD THINGS IN THE MARKET

SOME of the early vegetables have arrived on the markets, but they are rather high in price. Nice rhubarb may be had at 10 cents a bunch. Green peas sell at 20 cents a pound, but they are not of a good quality yet. Brussels sprouts cost 15 cents a pound and cucumbers sell at 15 and 20 cents each.

New and attractive supplies of celery and lettuce also have arrived. Celery costs 5 and 10 cents a bunch, while lettuce comes at 2 heads for 15 cents. Potatoes are still going up in price. In small quantities they now sell at 25 pounds for 10 cents and 4 1/2 pounds for 25 cents.

Parsnips are not quite as plentiful as they have been. They sell at three pounds for 10 cents, but carrots are unusually good at five pounds for 10 cents. Cauliflower is still about 10 cents a head.

Other available vegetables are onions.

Women Say It Pays to Visit Cherry's Shop During Clearance

Present Prices Popular—Many Garments for Men and Women Sold Without a First Payment.

Winter Suits and Coats will soon be only a memory at Cherry's Credit Shop. They are being cleared rapidly and purchased by thrifty women who recognize the prices and terms as extraordinary.

You see this popular establishment of CHERRY'S is already showing advance Spring models in women's wear. More are coming, and so, although Winter garments are still seasonable, Cherry's Shop decided, a week or so ago, that all Winter Suits and Coats must go.

The prices themselves are showing inducements—but it's Cherry's offer of EASY CREDIT TERMS, with the added provision that patrons with satisfactory references need PAY NOTHING DOWN, that has brought so many women to Cherry's Store, at 259-31 Washington street, Plitcock block.

There are many Suits here which you'll pronounce entirely appropriate for Spring and Summer wear; there are lightweight Coats as well.

MRS. MITTING APPEALS

BRITISH CONSUL'S AID SOUGHT IN CASE OF DAUGHTER.

Mother Wants Amy Placed in Some Home or Institution Where Parents Can Visit Her.

Harry I. Sherwood, British Consul at Portland, was appealed to yesterday by Mrs. John Mitting in the hope that little Amy Mitting, made a ward of the juvenile court and placed in a private home Wednesday, might be put instead in a public or private institution where the parents might visit her.

Mr. Sherwood said yesterday that he would look into both sides of the matter, with the welfare of the child in view, and should he conclude that a change should be made he would confer with juvenile Judge Taxwell. The child is now a ward of the court and subject only to its direction.

Mrs. Mitting said yesterday that her apparent lack of affection for the child during the juvenile court hearing was because she thought the court officials would have frowned upon any demonstration, and that it would not be considered proper. Both Mr. and Mrs. Mitting denied that they had ever whipped the child, as the girl told the juvenile officers.

Mrs. Mitting asserts she is a Princess, member of a noble Russian house on one side, and the rightful Duchess of Buckingham by another mingling of royal blood.

PENURY DIVORCE REASON

Francis Erixon Says Spouse Did Not Treat Her Fairly.

Her husband refused to allow her proper medical treatment when she had the fever last Spring, and in many other ways did not treat her fairly, Francis Erixon complained Wednesday in a suit for divorce from Fred A. Erixon, filed in the Circuit Court. The Erixons were married in 1883 in Kansas. Penury is the chief ground alleged.

Divorces on grounds of desertion are asked in the Circuit Court by E. P. Williams from Anna Marie Williams, Luella Herbst from Charles F. Herbst, and Naomi Dant from A. W. Dant. Mrs. Dant asks alimony of $30 a month and custody of Merwin, aged 8.

Divorces were granted in the Circuit Court by Judge Gantenbein yesterday to Louise R. Hunt from John W. Hunt, Mabel J. Monroe from Ralph D. Monroe and Verna Marie Drake from Charles Henry Drake.
