

WILSON SAYS THERE IS NO TURNING BACK

Nation May Be Drawn On to More Active Assertion of Its Rights as It Sees Them.

PEACE PLAN IS OUTLINED

President in Inaugural Message Defines Things America Stands For in War or Peace—Armed Balance Is Not Enough.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—President Wilson's inaugural address was as follows:

My Fellow-Citizens: The four years which have elapsed since last I stood in this place have been crowded with counsel and action of the most vital interest and consequence. Perhaps no equal period in our history has been so fruitful of important reforms in our economic and industrial life or so full of significant changes in the spirit and purpose of our political actions. We have sought very thoughtfully to set our house in order; correct the gross errors and abuses of our industrial life, liberate and quicken the processes of our National genius and energy and lift our politics to a broader view of the people's essential interests.

It is a record of singular variety and singular distinction. But I shall not attempt to go into retrospection. It is time, rather, to speak our thoughts and purposes concerning the present and the immediate future.

New Influences Unrealistic.

Although we have created counsel and action with such unusual concentration and success upon the great problems of domestic legislation to which we addressed ourselves four years ago, other matters have more and more forced themselves upon our attention, matters lying outside our own life as a Nation and over which we had no control, but which, despite our wish to keep free of them, have drawn us more and more irresistibly into their own current and influence. It has been impossible to avoid them. They have affected the life of the whole world, and they have been everywhere with a passion and an apprehension they never knew before. It has been hard to preserve calm counsel while the thoughts of our own people swayed this way and that under their influence. We are a composite and cosmopolitan people. We are of the blood of all the nations that are at war. The currents of our thoughts, as well as the currents of our trade, run quick at all seasons back and forth between us and them. The war inevitably set its mark from the first alike upon our minds, our industries, our commerce, our politics and our social life. To be indifferent to it or independent of it was out of the question.

People Drawn Together.

And yet all the while we have been conscious that we were not part of it. In that consciousness we have drawn closer together. We have been deeply wronged upon the seas, but we have not returned wrong or injury in return; we have retained throughout the consciousness of standing in some sort apart, intent upon an immediate issue of the war itself. As some of the injuries done us have become intolerable, we have still been clear that we wished nothing for ourselves that we were not ready to demand for all mankind—fair dealing, justice, the freedom to live and be at ease against organized wrong.

It is in this spirit and with this thought that we have grown more and more aware, more and more certain, that the part we wished to play was that of the part who mean to vindicate and fortify peace. We have been obliged to assert our own right and our claim to a certain minimum right and of freedom of action. We stand firm in armed neutrality, since it seems that in no other way we can demonstrate what it is we insist upon and cannot forego.

Purpose Cannot Be Altered.

We may even be drawn on, by circumstances, not by our own purpose or desire, to a more active assertion of our rights as we see them and a more immediate association with the great struggle itself. But nothing will alter our thoughts or our purpose. They are too clear to be obscured. They are too deeply rooted in the principles of our National life to be altered. We desire neither conquest nor advantage. We wish nothing that can be had only at the cost of another people. We have always professed unselfish purpose and we covet the opportunity to prove that our professions are sincere.

There are many things still to do at home, to clarify our own politics and give new vitality to the industrial processes of our own life, and we shall do them as time and opportunity serve; but we realize that the great things that remain to be done must be done with the whole world for stage and in co-operation with the wide and universal forces of mankind, and we are making our spirits ready for those things. They will follow in the immediate wake of the war itself and will set civilization up again. We are provincial no longer. The tragical events of the 30 months of vital turmoil through which we have just passed have made us citizens of the world. There can be no turning back. Our own fortunes as a Nation are involved, whether we would have it so or not.

And yet we are not the less American.

Count fifty! No neuralgia pain. Don't suffer! Instant Relief Follows a Rubbing With "St. Jacobs Oil."

Conquers pain—never fails. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" right on the spot of pain, and out comes the neuralgia misery. Here's a joyful experiment! Try it! Get a small trial bottle from your druggist, put a little on your hand and rub it gently on the sore, aching nerves, and before you realize it—in just a moment—all pain and neuralgia disappear. It's almost magical, but the joy is, that the misery doesn't come back. No! The nerves are soothed and congested, relieved and your neuralgia is overcome. Stop suffering! It's needless—neuralgia and pain of all kinds, either in the face, head, limbs or any part of the body is instantly banished. "St. Jacobs Oil" is perfectly harmless and doesn't burn or discolor the skin. In use for half a century.—Adv.

PARAGRAPHS FROM PRESIDENT WILSON'S INAUGURAL MESSAGE.

We have been deeply wronged upon the seas, but we have not returned wrong or injury in return; we have retained throughout the consciousness of standing in some sort apart, intent upon an immediate issue of the war itself. As some of the injuries done us have become intolerable, we have still been clear that we wished nothing for ourselves that we were not ready to demand for all mankind—fair dealing, justice, the freedom to live and be at ease against organized wrong.

We have been obliged to assert our own right and our claim to a certain minimum right and of freedom of action. We stand firm in armed neutrality, since it seems that in no other way we can demonstrate what it is we insist upon and cannot forego.

We may even be drawn on, by circumstances, not by our own purpose or desire, to a more active assertion of our rights as we see them and a more immediate association with the great struggle itself. But nothing will alter our thoughts or our purpose. They are too clear to be obscured. They are too deeply rooted in the principles of our National life to be altered.

There are many things still to do at home, to clarify our own politics and give new vitality to the industrial processes of our own life, and we shall do them as time and opportunity serve; but we realize that the great things that remain to be done must be done with the whole world for stage and in co-operation with the wide and universal forces of mankind, and we are making our spirits ready for those things.

The tragical events of the 30 months of vital turmoil through which we have just passed have made us citizens of the world. There can be no turning back. Our own fortunes as a Nation are involved, whether we would have it so or not. These, therefore, are the things we shall stand for, whether in war or in peace:

That all nations are equally interested in the peace of the world and in the political stability of free peoples and equally responsible for their maintenance;

That the essential principle of peace is the mutual equality of nations in all matters of right or privilege;

That governments derive all their just powers from the consent of the governed and that no other powers should be supported by the common thought, purpose or power of the family of nations;

That the national armaments should be limited to the necessities of national order and domestic safety;

That the community of interest and of power upon which peace must henceforth depend imposes upon each nation the duty of seeing to it that all influences proceeding from its own citizens meant to encourage or assist revolution in other states should be sternly and effectually suppressed and prevented.

United alike in the conception of our duty and in the high resolve to perform it in the face of all men, let us dedicate ourselves to the great task to which we must set our hand. For myself, I beg your tolerance, your countenance and your united aid.

That the seas should be equally free and safe for the use of all peoples under rules set up by common agreement and consent, and that, so far as practicable, they should be accessible to all upon equal terms;

That national armaments should be limited to the necessities of national order and domestic safety;

That the community of interest and of power upon which peace must henceforth depend imposes upon each nation the duty of seeing to it that all influences proceeding from its own citizens meant to encourage or assist revolution in other states should be sternly and effectually suppressed and prevented.

United alike in the conception of our duty and in the high resolve to perform it in the face of all men, let us dedicate ourselves to the great task to which we must set our hand. For myself, I beg your tolerance, your countenance and your united aid.

That the essential principle of peace is the mutual equality of nations in all matters of right or privilege;

That governments derive all their just powers from the consent of the governed and that no other powers should be supported by the common thought, purpose or power of the family of nations;

That the national armaments should be limited to the necessities of national order and domestic safety;

That the community of interest and of power upon which peace must henceforth depend imposes upon each nation the duty of seeing to it that all influences proceeding from its own citizens meant to encourage or assist revolution in other states should be sternly and effectually suppressed and prevented.

United alike in the conception of our duty and in the high resolve to perform it in the face of all men, let us dedicate ourselves to the great task to which we must set our hand. For myself, I beg your tolerance, your countenance and your united aid.

That the essential principle of peace is the mutual equality of nations in all matters of right or privilege;

That governments derive all their just powers from the consent of the governed and that no other powers should be supported by the common thought, purpose or power of the family of nations;

That the national armaments should be limited to the necessities of national order and domestic safety;

That the community of interest and of power upon which peace must henceforth depend imposes upon each nation the duty of seeing to it that all influences proceeding from its own citizens meant to encourage or assist revolution in other states should be sternly and effectually suppressed and prevented.

United alike in the conception of our duty and in the high resolve to perform it in the face of all men, let us dedicate ourselves to the great task to which we must set our hand. For myself, I beg your tolerance, your countenance and your united aid.

That the essential principle of peace is the mutual equality of nations in all matters of right or privilege;

That governments derive all their just powers from the consent of the governed and that no other powers should be supported by the common thought, purpose or power of the family of nations;

That the national armaments should be limited to the necessities of national order and domestic safety;

That the community of interest and of power upon which peace must henceforth depend imposes upon each nation the duty of seeing to it that all influences proceeding from its own citizens meant to encourage or assist revolution in other states should be sternly and effectually suppressed and prevented.

United alike in the conception of our duty and in the high resolve to perform it in the face of all men, let us dedicate ourselves to the great task to which we must set our hand. For myself, I beg your tolerance, your countenance and your united aid.

That the essential principle of peace is the mutual equality of nations in all matters of right or privilege;

That governments derive all their just powers from the consent of the governed and that no other powers should be supported by the common thought, purpose or power of the family of nations;

That the national armaments should be limited to the necessities of national order and domestic safety;

That the community of interest and of power upon which peace must henceforth depend imposes upon each nation the duty of seeing to it that all influences proceeding from its own citizens meant to encourage or assist revolution in other states should be sternly and effectually suppressed and prevented.

CHAMBERLAIN IS IN FIGHT FOR CLOTURE

Senator Lane Joins in Move and Denies He Filibustered on Armed Neutrality.

DEBATE LIMIT FAVORED

Senator Borah Is Opposed—Jones of Washington Says He Wants Decisive Majority Rule and Hits at South.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, March 5.—Oregon's two Senators will join in the fight to be started by the Administration leaders of the Senate tomorrow to force the adoption of a cloture rule, both favoring a rigid rule, so drawn that a majority, as in the House, may cut off debate whenever it is ready for a vote.

Already Senator Chamberlain has signed a round robin declaring himself back of the movement to amend the rules in such way that the majority may force a vote on any pending bill after each Senator has been allowed one hour for discussion. Senator Lane said today: "I am absolutely in favor of cloture and always have been."

Senator Lane also took occasion to assert that he had not filibustered against the armed neutrality bill and insisted that his speech Sunday morning was not of a filibustering nature; that he would have voted for the resolution had it been amended by adding the Stone amendment. At the time Senator Lane spoke, however, it was apparent to everyone that the armed neutrality bill would fail.

The Republican Senators from the Northwest will stand out against the plan of forcing any cloture rule that will enable a bare majority of the Senate to shut off debate, most of them opposing cloture in any form. Senator Borah, of Idaho, is strongly opposed to cloture, though disposed to believe some such rule may be adopted by the new Senate. He thinks, however, that it will not be adopted speedily. The Senator will set forth his views when the subject is brought up formally.

Jones Favors Reasonable Cloture. Senator Jones, of Washington, is in favor of reasonable cloture, and says further he might favor pretty strong cloture in order that some day we may reduce Southern representation in Congress. He is unalterably opposed to a cloture rule which will enable a bare majority to shut off debate, but he would favor a rule which would enable a two-thirds or three-fourths majority to force a vote after a reasonable length of time.

Senator Poindeexter said today that President Wilson's statement published this morning will bring forth resentment from many Senators, not alone those whom he assailed, but others who will hold that his suggestion of a cloture rule is an unwarranted interference with the Senate. He thinks a cloture rule can be adopted only by a two-thirds vote.

He even insists on grinding all new and replacing all broken lenses on the premises under his personal direction. Our service on repair work is as prompt as it is economical.

Adjoining Ladies' Rest Room on the Second Floor.

Dresden wreaths and dainty climbing roses on Spring-like curtain scrim 19c

—Why, you'd just know that Spring was here to look at them! Cool-looking, fresh white or creamy scrim, with the color of your bedroom daintily printed on the border.

—And, besides their attractiveness, these scrim can boast of unusual qualities, and should by all rights be marked higher! You may buy them Tuesday at a considerable saving.

—5th Floor, Lipman, Wolfe & Co.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

GERMANY SENDS GOLD

ADVANCES TO TURKEY BY AUGUST WILL REACH $624,800,000.

Finance Minister Tells of Agreement for Germany to Continue Plan After War in Return for Imports.

AMSTERDAM, via London, March 5.—A Constantinople dispatch quotes the Turkish Finance Minister as saying to the Parliament that the advances from Germany to Turkey by August will have reached a total of $142,000,000 Turkish ($624,800,000).

The Minister spoke of the stability of Turkish paper money and announced that a treaty had been concluded with Germany under which the price of such money after the war would be maintained on an even basis with German paper. Germany, he said, had agreed to send to Turkey each year $5,000,000 gold for retirement of the paper. This would be in addition to whatever paper was retired by means of commercial transactions. In return, Turkey had agreed to favor her allies in the matter of imports after the war.

The agreement with Germany indicated the retirement of all paper currency in 11 years, advances to be made to Turkey until this process was completed.

The Minister said ordinary expenses were fixed at $16,000,000, which would be increased to $55,000,000 by supplementary credits.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

Today and tomorrow—11 A. M. to 11 P. M.—The "all-joy" show

The diminutive, lovable, captivating Marguerite Clark

In a bewitching, charming, delightful, 6-act picturization of Molly Elliott Seawell's "The Fortunes of Fifi"

An out-of-the-ordinary photoplay. Miss Clark's most pleasing production. Also new Pictographs and a Cartoon comedy.

PEOPLES ALDER AT WEST PARK

Matinees 10c

The happyifying show. Our usual prices.

ELEVEN PRESIDENTS WHO HAVE BEEN INAUGURATED TWICE.

The following Presidents of the United States have been chosen to continue in office for a second term:

Washington	1789-97
Jefferson	1801-09
Madison	1809-17
Monroe	1817-25
Jackson	1829-37
Lincoln	1861-65
Grant	1869-77
Cleveland	1895-99, 1901-05
McKinley	1897-1901
Roosevelt	1901-09
Wilson	1913

*Served one month, 11 days of second term when assassinated.

Served six months and ten days of second term when assassinated.

succeeded only as they sustain and guide me by their confidence and support. The thing I shall count upon, the thing without which neither counsel nor action will avail, is the unity of America—America used in its full purpose and in vision of duty, of opportunity and of service. We are to beware of all men who would turn the tasks and the necessities of the Nation to their own private profit or use them for the building up of private power; beware that no faction or disloyal intrigue break the harmony or embarrass the spirit of our people; beware that our Government be kept pure and incorrupt in all its parts. United alike in the conception of our duty and in the high resolve to perform it in the face of all men, let us dedicate ourselves to the great task to which we must set our hand.

For myself I beg your tolerance, your countenance and your united aid. The shadows that now darken our path will soon be dispelled and we shall walk with the light all about us if we be but true to ourselves and ourselves as we have wished to be known in the counsels of the world and in the thought of all those who love liberty and justice and the right extended.

German Army Takes All Railways. AMSTERDAM, via London, March 5.—According to the Kreuz Zeitung of Berlin, the entire railway system of Germany has been placed under the military authorities.

Lipman Wolfe & Co

Merchandise of Merit Only

These 22 silk suits $23.85

will cause a furore at . . .

—Our garment chief and the maker of these suits "crossed swords" over a small detail—it was a case of sending the suits back or lowering the price. The details were arranged, and now the suits are offered to you at $23.85.

—Be sure you noted that there were just 22 of them—that means early choosing will not only be wise, but necessary as well.

—These suits are of TAFFETA and of SILK POPLIN, in navy, black, tan and gray. The coats are in advanced plaited and belted effects; the skirts are quite flaring.

Third Floor—Lipman, Wolfe & Co.

Your country needs YOU!

—Join the RED CROSS!

—It costs you but $1 a year—and there is much good that you will be able to do in the days that are ahead of us.

Red Cross Bureau on the Main Floor—Lipman, Wolfe & Co.

It will be a joy to select from among these New adjustable house dresses

Priced at $1.45, $1.95 and $2.35

Worth thinking about

—Anyone may buy a stock of and provide you with magnifying or reducing glasses fitted in frames that will permit you to see clearly for the time being.

But it requires ability, specialized training and knowledge of the highest type to properly protect and help your eyesight.

—Dr. Dallas, so well known here and nationally, is in personal charge of our optical department. His charges, including consultation, are no higher than for ordinary and sometimes dangerous service.

He even insists on grinding all new and replacing all broken lenses on the premises under his personal direction. Our service on repair work is as prompt as it is economical.

Adjoining Ladies' Rest Room on the Second Floor.

The splendor of things Oriental is magically portrayed in heavy imported Shantung at $2.00 —Beautiful, dashing, gay! The silks now in favor over all others for Spring and Summer. The promise of such popularity way last Fall is now being richly fulfilled. Our silk buyer, when he bought these silks months ago, knew just how much in demand they would be, and was quick to take advantage of a low market price. That's the only reason that you can buy these shantungs now at the exceptional price of $2.00 yard.

Oyster white, Chinese blue, old gold, chartreuse, mandarin purple, Oriental terra cotta, silver, Chinese red, and the much-wanted navy and Copenhagen shades of blue are the colors you'll find in this sale.

And crepe de chines, 40 inches in width, at . . . $2.00

—Another of fashion's favorites, in an unusual, rich quality, in staple and new shades, many that women will find charming for frocks, blouses, underwear and other things.

Parisian Satin, altogether lovely, $2.25

—Cerie, Spring green, emerald, gold, citron, chartreuse, turquoise, mustard, are some of the bright colors, and many dainty evening shades are also to be found in this decidedly new, lustrous-finished silk!

Second Floor—Lipman, Wolfe & Co.

It Might Have Been You

—whirled with the skidding car into the disastrous crash

You users of taxi-cabs, look before you ride when streets are wet and slippery. See that the tires are "chained to safety". Take no chances. Make sure that all four tires are equipped with

Weed Anti-Skid Chains

The ONLY Positive Safeguard Against Skidding

All responsible taxi-cab owners and drivers protect their patrons' lives with Weed Chains. Don't risk your life in a car whose owner or driver is so criminally negligent as to omit this positive safeguard against skidding.

The motorist who drives with chainless tires on slippery pavements and roads jeopardizes his own life as well as the lives of others. Equip both your front and rear tires with Weed Chains. Do it today—before it is too late.

SOLD FOR ALL TIRES BY DEALERS EVERYWHERE

AMERICAN CHAIN CO. INC., Bridgeport, Connecticut

Sole Manufacturers of Weed Anti-Skid Chains
Also Manufacturers of Weed Chain-Jacks, Dobbins Blow-Out Chains, etc.