LA GRANDE AROUSED

Woman Shot by Tongmen May Lose Injured Foot.

SEVERAL CHINESE ARRIVE

One Is Fined for Carrying Concealed Weapon—Coroner's Jury Falls to Name Murderers of Dead Oriental.

LA GRANDE, Or., March 14.—(Special.)—Mrs. C. E. George, an elderly widow who was shot in the alkies yesterday when tongmen riddled William Eng, a young Chinese, with bullets as he stood in front of the postoffice, is in danger of losing the injured foot. X-ray pictures show the bone is badly shattered.

Public indignation at Chinese in general is even more sharply defined than yesterday. The Coroner's inquest over Eng was perfunctory, developing little new. The jury blames "unknown Chinese."

Several Chinamen have reached La Grande since the shooting, but each is put under police surveillance and one was fined $50 for carrying concealed weapons.

What was first thought to be a human hand and foot found in a Chinese trunk, develops to be the paws of a tiger and figures in celestial medicinal rites.

One store three blocks away from the shooting yesterday noon was hit by ricocheting bullets.

BATTERY IS WELCOMED

AUXILIARY GIVES DANCE FOR BOYS HOME FROM BORDER.

Veterans of Organization Also Attend and Girls Give Programme—Honor Paid to Mrs. Eva Patterson.

Mothers, wives and sweethearts, members of Battery A Auxiliary, and the guardsmen home from the border at an informal dance at Linnea Hall last night. More than 200 attended. An orchestra played snappy music and a number of talented girls contributed a programme early in the evening.

Lieutenant B. V. Clayton and other members of the Battery were guests and a corps of matrons and leaders of the auxiliary acted as patronesses.

The greater part of the evening was passed at dancing and later supper and the presentation service occupied the guests' attention in the hall below.

Due honor to the only president that the auxiliary has ever had was accorded Mrs. Eva Patterson, at whose home the body was formed.

Many of the members of Battery A were there to assist the auxiliary and the supper table was gay with jests and tales of happenings on the border.

Patronesses for the evening were Mrs. W. F. Fenstel, Mrs. H. E. Scott, Taliahuose, stationed at Pensacola, Miss Margaret Howatson, Miss Beth Clarke, Miss Regina Mitchell and Mrs. C. F. Haftenden.

UPHOLDING KUPPENHEIMER STANDARDS

At a time when all materials are hard to get and high in price, and the clothing world is laboring under difficulties never before known, the House of Kuppenheimer extends this message and warranty: In the face of all conditions, this House is upholding today the standards of unquestionable quality associated with the Kuppenheimer reputation for nearly fifty years.

The great resources of the House of Kuppenheimer are at your service. The strength, reserve force and manufacturing equipment of a great organization never meant so much to you as they do today.

Our timely preparedness in materials, our scientific manufacturing methods have enabled us in large measure to offset heavy advances in prices, such as seen in other commodities.

To get quality in clothes, we advise you to pay a little more this season and insist on the Kuppenheimer Label. The slight additional cost will mean satisfaction that will last long after the price is forgotten.
