Billingsley Attorney to Be Called by Defense to Deny Suggestion of Bribery.

BOTH WITNESSES BITTER

Testimony That Lawyer Told Them Gill Regretted Failure to Get $100,000 for Franchise Is Given on Examination.

SEATTLE, Wash., March 15.—Logan Billingsley, principal witness for the government in the so-called whiskey graft trial, was recalled to the witness stand today at the request of the counsel for the defense, who said they wished to lay the foundation for impeachment of the witness.

The defendants in the case are Mayor Hiram C. Gill, chief of police Charles L. Beckingham, Sheriff Robert T. Hodge, and City Detectives Feyer, Poolman, Dool and McLennan. The name of George Vanderveer, former counsel for the Billingsleys and former prosecuting attorney, was continually mentioned today, and counsel for the defense announced that Vanderveer would be called as a witness for the defense.

Chance for $100,000 Bribe Hinted.

Logan Billingsley, in his new testimony, said: "George Vanderveer told me that he knew the Mayor could have obtained $100,000 for helping some railroad to get a franchise, or something about a franchise, and that the Mayor had kicked himself ever since because he did not take it."

It was evident from the questions directed at Logan and Fred Billingsley today by the defense that Vanderveer expected to contradict them on the most vital point of their testimony, which is that Vanderveer had arranged with Mayor Gill the compromise under whose terms Logan Billingsley swore he paid $4000 to the Mayor, getting in return seized papers, the dropping of suits already begun, and promise of protection in future. Both brothers showed animosity toward Vanderveer today, Fred being the bitterer.

Former Attorney Accused.

The younger Billingsley swore today that Vanderveer "was drunk Christmas when we were in trouble and ought to have been attending to our business." Fred Billingsley declared on the witness stand today:

"If Vanderveer tells all he knows he will be indicted himself."

Fred Billingsley testified today that Chief Beckingham gave him advice about removing cases of liquor seized by the Sheriff and stored in a warehouse. The liquor, according to witness, was sold by the Billingsleys and the Sheriff and the stuff had been stolen by outsiders.

Just before adjournment tonight the government announced that it would call as a witness Dr. Mark A. Matthews, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, to whom Logan Billingsley gave $1000 to "clean up the town," according to Logan's testimony.

Money Used to Enforce Law.

The government announced that it would prove that some of this money was given by Dr. Matthews to Sergeant Victor Putnam's police dry squad for payment of the expenses of its operations.

Sergeant Putnam, recalled by the prosecution, said Chief Beckingham had asked him to "lay off" on the Eyles Transfer Company, as it appeared to be doing a legitimate business. Witness told the chief the company was "as bad as any of them." Four months later Putnam raided the Eyles warehouse, making a large seizure of liquor. It is expected that the government will conclude its case tomorrow morning.

'HOBOS' HAVE 24 QUARTS

ALBANY POLICE FIND SMUGGLED LIQUOR IN BLANKET ROLLS.

Discovery Is Made in Search for Stolen Goods—Two Men Go to Jail for 100 Days Each.

ALBANY, Or., March 15.—(Special.)—A new method of smuggling liquor into bone-dry Oregon was unearthed by the police here yesterday when two men traveling as hobos were captured with 24 quarts of whiskey in their possession. This liquor was concealed in blanket rolls, exactly like those carried by workmen beating their way off freight trains.

The discovery was quite by accident for at the time the police were searching for stolen goods and not for liquor. Earlier this week there were robberies at Harrisburg and Junction and Chief of Police Catlin issued orders that all men found on freight trains be searched thoroughly. Under this order Officers Rodgers and McKay were searching a freight train at the Albany depot early yesterday morning and ordered these two men, found riding in a boxcar, to open their packs. The liquor was then found.

The two men insisted they had the goods for their own use only, but Justice of the Peace Swan, before whom they pleaded guilty to a charge of receiving, possessing and transporting liquor unlawfully, fined them $200 each. In default of payment they went to jail for 100 days.

It is believed that the liquor was intended for sale in Salem.

ECHO NEWLYWED JAILED

NELSON TAYLOR HELD ON CALIFORNIA BAD CHECK CHARGE.

Youth's Incarceration Follows Hurred Courtship of New Acquaintance and Purchase of Auto.

SANTA ANA, Cal., March 14.—(Special.)—Nelson J. Taylor bargained for an auto, paid furious court to a girl, motored to San Diego with her, married her, and now he is in jail because a check for $275.90 that he gave in part payment for the automobile came back from the bank of Echo, Or., marked "insufficient funds."

Taylor is rudely stunned because his mother failed to make good the checks he drew on the Echo bank. He thought she would see him through. Evidently she concluded that he had gone far enough.

Taylor says that he was reared at Pendleton, Or., by his stepfather, James Taylor, and his mother, Love affairs seem to be a specialty with him. A month ago he was allowed to leave home to rid himself of the desire to marry a girl with whom he thought he was in love.

In Santa Ana he was introduced to Flora A. Kelly. He says he never met her parents and does not know their address. On February 26 he bargained for an automobile and gave Layton Brock a check for $275.90 as part payment. He and the girl decided to be married. They got the license at San Diego last Friday. He gave his age as 22 and Santa Ana as his residence; her age as 19 and Los Angeles as her residence.

Today in jail Taylor declared that he is not yet 21. He says his stepfather has plenty of money and will see him out of his present trouble.

Taylor declared that his wife is in an apartment-house here, the address of which he would not give.

Taylor Is Adopted Son.

PENDLETON, Or., March 16.—(Special.)—Nelson J. Taylor is the adopted son of Mrs. Charles Lyle, of Echo, widow of the late James Taylor, wealthy Umatilla County landowner. His 20 years old and his reputation is not bad. He has been away about a month.

SPOKANE MAGNATE SUED

HEIRS OF MAY ARKWRIGHT HUTTON WANT ESTATE ACCOUNTING.

Multi-Millionaire Mining Man Accused of Maladministration of Late Wife's Trust.

SPOKANE, Wash., March 16.—(Special.)—Elias L. W. Hutton, Spokane multi-millionaire, property owner and mining magnate, properly administered the estate of his wife, May Arkwright Hutton, who died here about a year ago.

The courts of Washington and Idaho were today called upon to answer this question and what may prove to be a long legal battle for the division of a $4,000,000 estate was opened in Spokane.

The heirs, through their attorney, William A. Montan, of this city, today started probate action to oust L. W. Hutton as executor. In a complaint they further demand an accounting of his administration of the estate and legal construction of the will and subsequent distribution of the property. They allege that Mr. Hutton as administrator has failed to make proper accounting of the estate, in violation of the laws of Idaho and Washington.

The action is brought by Lyman B. Arkwright and Delany Arkwright of Youngstown, O., and the heirs of William Arkwright, deceased; Beasie Arkwright, McFarland, James Arkwright, Robert B. Arkwright, Catherine May Arkwright and Carl Arkwright, of Youngstown.

TWO INSTITUTES PLANNED

Pullman Professors to Hold Series at Mossyrock and Toledo.

CHEHALIS, Wash., March 16.—(Special.)—Secretary Dupurtis of the Citizens' Club, has received word from Professor Thornberg, of the State College at Pullman, announcing that plans have been completed for holding a series of institutes at Mossyrock and Toledo. H. L. Blanchard, Professors Stookey and Stahl will be on the program.

It was intended to have Miss Sutherland give her economics talk, but on account of the death of a relative in Portland a few days ago she will be unable to attend.

The sessions will be held as follows: Mossyrock, March 19 and 20; Toledo, March 21 and 22.

Mrs. Annah Dorrah Is Located.

CHEHALIS, Wash., March 16.—(Special.)—Mrs. Anna Dorrah, formerly Miss Gore, who disappeared from here February 5, ostensibly while coming to Chehalis from Ethel, was located in Seattle Wednesday. Her husband has been seeking traces of her since her disappearance, and as she was only 16 years of age he feared that she had been spirited away. The local officers say they learned she had left Chehalis in accordance with, and they were powerless to act.

PENSION BILL SIGNED

Governor Lister Approves Plan for Teachers' Retirement.

BRIDGE CARS LEGALIZED

Probate Code, Absentee Voting, Inter-County Ferry Operation and Irrigation Regulation Are in Day's Business.

OLYMPIA, Wash., March 16.—(Special.)—Governor Lister signed the teachers' retirement bill today, under the terms of which teachers may be assured of an annuity of $480 upon retirement after 30 years of service, 15 of which must be in the state and 12 in the same district. Funds contributed entirely by teachers are established by district directors upon petition of a majority of teachers employed.

A total contribution of $720 must be paid into the fund before a teacher becomes eligible to annuity. After 35 years of service, 15 in the state, a teacher becomes eligible if employed in the district when a fund is established there. Disability annuity of $420 for a maximum of two years is also provided under special terms of the act.

Other bills approved by the Governor today include an act to legalize laying of streetcar tracks upon approaches to the Interstate bridge at Vancouver, authorizing inter-county operation of ferries, the probate code, amendments making the absentee voting bill applicable to primary elections, regulation of midwife practice, and irrigation district regulation amendments contained in H. B. 126.

Five sections of H. B. 376 imposing a license tax upon dogs in rural districts were vetoed, and remaining sections, providing for destruction or confinement of vicious dogs, were approved. The Governor argues that keeping dogs on farms should be encouraged rather than discouraged on account of their usefulness there, that making the assessor a county dog catcher would interfere with his more important duties and that a fund deficit would likely be created by the method of licensing proposed.

Sections approved provide for the killing on sight of dogs attacking children or domestic animals outside the owner's property, and require him to destroy or confine animals complained of. Today's work leaves the Governor with 14 bills, nearly all important, to dispose of by Tuesday night.

The men will have 10 days in which to make application for the privilege, after which the same offer will be made to others than railroad men. Last year nearly every foot of unused railroad property here was cultivated in this manner.
