First Big Contest to Be at Corvallis April 7, and From Then on Until September Men Will Be Busy.

First Big Meet April 7.

The first competitive appearance of any of the teams for the 1917 season will be at the Corvallis Armory on April 7, and on the following Saturday all the prominent winners of the Oregon Aggie gathering will be present at the annual Columbia University indoor meet. Plans are being made to house the greatest number of entries ever received at a track and field meet in the Pacific Northwest.

The relay carnival at Corvallis, Or., will be held on Saturday night, April 7, and because several of the California teams are thinking seriously of coming north, efforts will be made to have them remain over for a week for Wingset "M" track stars will work out on the Multromah enclosure the nights they are not scheduled to journey out to the Columbia campus. The only trouble with going out to Columbia University is that most of the Winged Wingset of the National Hockey Association and the title hold galants each other in the world's saparative to the Columbia Columbia University is that most of the Winged Wingset of Wingset Stars are in line to journey to St. Louis for the annual National Amateur Athletic Union titles. The original date was announced for September 14 and 15. T. Morris Dunne, secertary-treasure of the P. N. A. was in communication with Frederick W. Rubien, secretary of the A. A. SEALS HOOK CUBS ONCE MORE Oldham Works Well and Hollywood

Plays Like Star.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—(Special.)—The Scals hooked the Chicago Cubs again yesterday, 3 to 2.

The star of the combat was Len Hollywood, the little Alameda boy who is getting his baptism in professional ball. In three trips to the plate he ripped off three hits, stole a base and scored a run, and handled his 10 chances in the field with neatness and dispatch. The Scals won the game on the square, for they outplayed the bigleaguers both at the bat and in the field, and Oldham outpitched both Nick Carter and Aldridge, recruits from in-Cartor and Aldridge, recruits from In-dianapolis, who are trying out with the Cubs. Red Oldham worked a nice game of ball, walking but one man and allowing but six hits. He also fielded his position like a top-notcher, which seemed to surprise some of the fans.

Following are the lineups:

In the most sensational basketball game gver seen in Walla Walla, Beilingham High School tied Walla Walla High for the state championship honors last night by winning the second of a series of two games, 29 to 25. The score was tied, 23 to 23, at the end of score was tied, 23 to 23, at the end of the regular game, and five more min-utes was played with Walla Walla in the lead until the last minute, when Askey, the visiting center, threw two baskets in rapid succession. The pace was terrific throughout, and the last part of the game rough. Obermueller was the visiting star, making 13 points, and H. Rich, the home star, scoring 10.

At the end of the game Coach Malloy, of Bellingham, refused to hold his team over for a third deciding game Monday.

TWO ALBINA TEAMS VICTORS

Football Coach Returns.

Loses, 27 to 13.

Franklin High School's basketball team had little trouble in winning from the Forest Grove Athletic Club quintet consisting of high school players, 27 to 13 in the Franklin gymnasium Saturday night. The high point getter for Franklin was "Pudge" Brown, who converted nine out of 13 fouls, while Captain Davis, also of Franklin, tallied with four field baskets. Brown was elected captain of the 1913 team at the end of the game last night.

When the first half ended the count stood 9 to 2, Forest Grove falling to register a single field goal. The visitors made five field baskets in the last few minutes of play. T. To'l was the star for Forest Grove.

Team Lacks Quarter-Milers.

With the loss of Wallace Kadderley, last year's captain and holder of the world's indoor quarter-mile record, the 440 event presents a weak front. Heinle Anderson, who ran second to Kadderley last season, has been stepping off the distance in fair pre-season time, but there are not enough men who can nesotiate the distance fast enough to form a winning relay team. O. H. JOHNSON REPORTS

Montana Semi-Pro Presents Him-

Williams, of the Spokane National League team, according to reports which came to Portland while the Portland Pacific Coast League team was wearing the sweatband 'neath Honolulu's burning sun. In his one game with Portland Kan Yen was somewhat handicapped on account of having no practice with the Beaver flingers, but he showed enough to make Manager McCredie declare that he is a class B ballplayer. Bob Blewett's circuit certainly can use a type of player like Kan Yen if onehalf of what they said about him is true.

All who have watched him in action

The Birmingham club, of the Southern League, has taken Fred Derrick at his word, and given him his unconditional release. Derrick declared he had retired from baseball for good. Latest news is, however, that he has now changed his mind. The ex-Beaver ought to have retired a long time ago.
Ham Patterson was trying to land him for the Dallas club.

All who have watched him in action figure that he will make good with a vengeance. Without a doubt Kan Yen would be the biggest drawing card in the Northwestern League for a time. They say he is a peppery player, and the fact that he is a Chinese would tend to create interest and make the fans turn out.

The Chinese baseball team is a big drawing card on its tour of the main-

Lee Gooch Manager.

Although Kan Yen is not being brought to California with Walter Henry McCredie's battling Beavers, he will undoubtedly be sent for by Manager Nick Williams, of the Spokane National League.

Remember Lee Gooch, who played with Portland two or three games in 1915, coming here from Cleveland and being shooed back by Walter McCredie when he looked like a novice at the bat? Well, reports from Raleigh have it that Lee, last year with Jacksonville in the South Atlantic, has been chosen to manage the Raleigh team of the North Carolina League. Gooch is an outfielder who resembled Miles Netzel in features.
