

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

OREGONIAN TELEPHONES. Managing Editor... City Editor... Advertising Department... Composing-rooms... Superintendent Building...

AMUSEMENTS. THELIG (Broadway at Taylor)—Drama, "The House of Glass." Tonight at 8:15 o'clock.

ELEVENTH-STREET THEATRE (Eleventh and Broadway)—"The House of Glass." Musical comedy. Tonight at 8:15 o'clock.

BAKER (Broadway at Sixth, between Alder and Morrison)—Alcazar Stock Company in "Arizona." Tonight at 8:15 o'clock.

PANTAGES (Broadway at Alder)—Unusually vaudeville. Three shows daily, 7:30, 7 and 9:30.

HIPPODROME (Broadway and Yamhill)—Vaudeville and moving pictures, 2 to 5; 6:30 to 11 P. M. Saturday, Sunday, holidays, continuous, 2 to 11 P. M.

STRAND (Park, West Park and Stark)—Vaudeville and motion pictures continuous.

Advertisements intended for City News in Brief columns in Sunday's issue must be handed in The Oregonian business office by 4 o'clock Saturday evening.

DR. LANDSBURY TO LECTURE.—A lecture for the public on "What Is Our Musical System?" will be given this evening at 7:30 at the Central Library.

"ELIJAH" SCHEDULED FOR TONIGHT.—A rendition of Mendelssohn's oratorio "Elijah" will take place tonight at 8 o'clock at the First Methodist Episcopal Church.

RELIGIOUS LECTURES ATTRACT.—The Portland Bible conference now in session at the First Congregational Church is being largely attended by ministers and other Bible students of all denominations.

GOVERNMENT AFTER SUPPLIES IN QUANTITIES.—Bids for large quantities of supplies for the Government are being asked in this territory and receipts are being received right along by the Chamber of Commerce from the depot quartermaster at San Francisco.

MARSHALS TO HIKERS SUNDAY.—The Marshals will leave for the Coast Range hills streets on the Southern Pacific on Sunday at 1:59 P. M. and go to Oswego, from where they will tramp along the old road near the top of the ridge to Oregon City, a distance of some six miles.

BAR TO HEAR JUDGE BROWN.—At the banquet of the Multnomah County Bar Association, Tuesday night at 8:15 o'clock at the Multnomah Hotel, two after-dinner speakers will be on the programme: Judge Fred V. Brown, general western counsel of the Great Northern Railroad, at Seattle, and formerly a member of the judiciary in Minnesota, and Dr. E. H. Lindley, professor of psychology at the University of Indiana.

AUDUBON BIRD MEETING SET.—At the meeting of the Audubon Bird Club tomorrow night at 8 o'clock, 809-210 Y. M. C. A. building, Bruce Horsfall will be the speaker. His subject will be "The Individuality of Birds." Mr. Horsfall will have an exhibit of original paintings at the meeting Saturday night. The public is cordially invited to attend.

CITY ATTORNEY TO TALK.—W. P. LaRoche, City Attorney, will deliver an address on "Preparedness" at the noon-day luncheon of the Insurance Federation of Oregon to be held in the Orange room of the Oregon Hotel Saturday. The programme for the luncheon has been arranged by a committee composed of H. H. Ward and C. H. Weston.

MEMO TO BANQUET TOMORROW.—A programme consisting of addresses by prominent Portland men, vocal selections and dramatic readings by well-known artists will be given at the men's banquet to be held in the parlors of the First Christian Church tonight. All men are invited.

BIRD LECTURE TOMORROW.—Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Campbell will give illustrated talks on "Our Bird Neighbors and Their Homes" at the Albina Branch Library, 450 Knott street, this evening at 7:30 o'clock. All interested are cordially invited to be present.

INSURANCE FEDERATION TO MEET.—The Insurance Federation of Oregon will meet tomorrow at noon at the Oregon Hotel. City Attorney LaRoche will speak on "Preparedness" and there will be several members of the City Commission present.

MOVING AND PACKING. Storage. Moving. Packing. Shipping.

Modern oak, upright, $95; well-known New York piano, dark case, $80; excellent mahogany upright, $105; grand practice upright, $25; Accolian player, mahogany, $85; organs from $10 up; old model pianos at $15, $25 and $40.

STORAGE & FORWARDING DEPT. 151 Fourth St., Near Morrison.

TWO WOMEN SEEK DIVORCE.—Married since 1895, Lena Maneke filed suit for divorce from Carl Maneke in the Circuit Court yesterday. Cruelty and accusations of infidelity were allegations of the complaint. Mrs. Maneke asks the custody of their four minor children and alimony of $25 monthly.

PAR SUPERINTENDENT TAKES ADVICE.—For the sake of economy Park Superintendent Conville has arranged with City Commissioner Baker to take charge personally of the playground supervision during the coming season, thus dispensing with the services of a man heretofore employed in that work. Mr. Conville has had extended training in playground work and has consented to devote the required time to the work which will be in addition to his other work as head of the Park Bureau.

WOMAN LOSES SUIT.—Jeanett Eppenstein, proprietor of an art store at 1215 Park street, lost her suit for $3780 damages brought in the court of Circuit Judge Tucker this week against H. Harth and Joseph Bergman, a juror yesterday returning verdict for the defense. She charged Mr. Bergman, a realty broker, and Mr. Harth with a divorce proceeding in 1912, and that she was married in 1902 and has two children, whose custody she does not ask for in the action.

DR. ALKIMSON IN LECTURE.—Dr. Alkimson will close his series of lectures on "Trine's book with the topic, 'The Path to Mastery, or In Tune With the Infinite,' in the Portland Hotel assembly hall, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The topics are, "Questions," "Readings," music and special violin selection. A regular meeting place for those who aspire to the heights of the new world lectures next month. See papers.—Adv.

W. P. KENNEDY ON VISIT.—W. P. Kennedy, of St. Paul, vice-president of the Great Northern Railway in charge of traffic, accompanied by M. J. Costello, western traffic manager, arrived in Portland yesterday from California where he had been passing his vacation. L. W. Hill, president of the Great Northern, also has been in California this winter and may return home through Portland.

SPUR TRACK HEARING ON.—The Oregon Public Service Commission yesterday heard the application of the city of Portland and the O.-W. & N. Co. for the construction by the latter of a spur track, adjoining the main line in Sullivan's gulch across Halsey street. The city wants this work done before Halsey street is paved incidental to the elimination of the grade crossings at Sandy boulevard.

MICHIGAN SOCIETY TO MEET.—The Michigan State Society members will hold a special business meeting in the room of the Public Library building, Monday evening at 8 o'clock. This business meeting is arranged so as not to interfere with the regular social evening at the Michigan Temple on the first Monday in April.

COOK IS ARRESTED.—F. Rogers, accused of a statutory crime, was arrested at First and Adams streets by Constable Mark Petersen yesterday, on a warrant sworn out by the husband of a woman with whom Rogers is accused of having had a sexual intercourse by occupation.

LAST OF SERIES IS TONIGHT.—The last of the series of meetings conducted by Dr. Gabelin in the First Congregational Church will be held at 8 o'clock at 3 and this evening at 8 o'clock. Bible interpretations and their application to present-day events will be given.

AD CLUB DANCE.—ANNUAL JINNEY CARNIVAL. PORTLAND HALL TONIGHT. STUNTS BY ALI KEMBA. VALUABLE PRIZES: FUN FOR ALL. 250—BRING YOUR FRIENDS—250.

MAY RICHTER NOT GUILTY.—May Richter, appealing from a conviction for vagrancy in the Municipal Court, was found not guilty by a jury in the Court of Circuit Judge Davis yesterday. She was arrested in a moral squad raid.

SERVICES ARE SET.—Services will be held at Congregation Ahava Shalom Park and Clay streets, tonight at 8 o'clock. Tomorrow morning services at 8 o'clock. Rabbi R. Abrahamson will officiate.

"AMERICAN JUDAISM" TOPIC.—Services will be held at Beth Israel tonight at 8 o'clock. Rabbi Wlad's sermon topic is, "American Judaism." Services will be held on Good Friday in Summydale Congregational Church.

DRAMATIC READING SET.—Mrs. Katherine Boyersmith will give a dramatic representation of "The Crisis in the American Republic" on Good Friday in Summydale Congregational Church.

BOXING TONIGHT, ROSE CITY CLUB; six crackerjack bouts, 8 to 12.—Adv.

LODGE VOICES LOYALTY.—ARTISANS ASK SUPPORT FOR PRESIDENT AND NATION.

Convention Is Devoted Entirely to Promotion of Community Spirit—Many Towns Represented.

A lodge convention which had nothing to do with lodge laws or election of officers or delegates was held last night by the United Artisans at the Woodmen of the World Hall, 138 Elmwood street. About 500 delegates were in attendance. They came from Vancouver, Oregon City, Clatsop, Seaside, Forest Grove, Hillsboro, Linnnton, St. Helens and from the 17 Portland lodges.

The sense of the convention was for greater community spirit not only in lodge affairs, but in civic affairs as well. The lodgesmen called on Portland merchants to be more loyal to their home town in matters which pertain to commerce and recommended to the Chamber of Commerce that similar "community spirit" meetings be held by organizations of merchants, farmers and labor organizations, in order that the great Columbia-Willamette River barriers be swept away.

The patriotic colors of the order were everywhere visible and the following resolution was unanimously adopted: Whereas, The United Artisans is purely an American society; It has been the policy in any foreign country. The colors of the society are the National colors, the good old Red, White and Blue. Its ritualistic work is patriotic in character. In all its regular meetings salute to our flag is a part of the ceremony; therefore be it

Resolved, That the United Artisans, in convention assembled, declare themselves in this National crisis for the obliteration of all partisan lines to the end that our flag, our country and our President may have the unflinching support of all patriotic American citizens.

The convention was called to order by Fred W. German, master artisan of Oregon Assembly, No. 1, who turned the gavel to E. S. Hudson, supreme master artisan, who in turn asked unanimous consent of the convention to allow Ed Werlein to act as permanent chairman of the meeting.

The programme consisted of selections by the Junior Artisan Band, under the direction of Professor Percy A. Campbell; duets by R. Thomas and H. E. Hudson and solos by Miss Regina Hyatt and Mrs. Irene Alteman.

At the opening of the convention four little girls entered carrying the National banner and pictures of Lincoln, Washington and Wilson. The speakers of the evening were General L. Baker, Judge Gatens and Judge Morrow.

WOMEN'S SUFFERERS ABROAD STARVE

Ben Selling to Add 10 Per Cent to Donations.

Heavy additional contributions to the fund being collected in this country for the Jewish war relief were promised yesterday by Julius Rosenwald, of Chicago, and Ben Selling of Portland.

Upon receipt of a telegram yesterday from Jacob Schiff, of New York, that $100,000 for every million collected between March and November of this year, Mr. Selling, head of the Portland committee, made the offer to give 10 per cent of all funds raised for Jewish relief in this city.

Julius Rosenwald, of Chicago, realizing the appalling situation of our brethren abroad, has promised to contribute $100,000 for every $1,000,000 collected from March, 1917, to November, 1917. In view of the starvation which faces our brethren we must collect $10,000,000 at the earliest possible moment. Mr. Rosenwald's offer is to work with renewed energy and without delay in order that the full $10,000,000 may be secured from Mr. Rosenwald.

Mr. Rosenwald's announcement means practically a donation of a whole $1,000,000 to the fund for Jewish relief. He has long been known as a generous philanthropist of this country, having given $250,000 to the Chicago Y. M. C. A. on his 50th birthday he gave $750,000 to charity.

Just what yesterday's generous impulse will cost Mr. Selling is not yet known. Last year the Portland committee collected $48,000 for Jewish relief work, and this year it is expected the collections will be bigger than ever before. Because of the offers just made the work will, of course, receive new impetus.

Now comes a flag day that none can resist! On Monday, March 26, the members of the Girls' National Honor Guard in 12 or more cities of Oregon will take their places in the busy marts of trade and sell tiny flags to passersby, as one means of making Patriotic Week proclaimed by Governor Withycombe, a marked success.

Miss Lucile Danforth, state manager of the Girls' National Honor Guard of Oregon, yesterday conferred over long-distance telephone with Governor Withycombe and they settled details for the flag day to start off the week. In proclaiming Patriotic week the Governor sought to crystallize patriotic sentiment and the Girls' Honor Guard members were yesterday quick to recognize opportunity for them to do some of their best effective work.

"We are fully organized in seven cities of Oregon and partially organized in five more," said Miss Danforth. "We will sell flags in all 12 cities and perhaps in other places if we can arrange the details in so short a time. Our girls will be ready to give some time Monday to selling flags and we will attempt to sell them to men, women and children. They will be tiny flags, because of the limited space from our ranks will be stationed in hotels, depots and business houses and at various places throughout the city."

The Portland members of the numbers between 500 and 600 and a large number of these are expected to be out on that day.

Just what yesterday's generous impulse will cost Mr. Selling is not yet known. Last year the Portland committee collected $48,000 for Jewish relief work, and this year it is expected the collections will be bigger than ever before. Because of the offers just made the work will, of course, receive new impetus.

Now comes a flag day that none can resist! On Monday, March 26, the members of the Girls' National Honor Guard in 12 or more cities of Oregon will take their places in the busy marts of trade and sell tiny flags to passersby, as one means of making Patriotic Week proclaimed by Governor Withycombe, a marked success.

Miss Lucile Danforth, state manager of the Girls' National Honor Guard of Oregon, yesterday conferred over long-distance telephone with Governor Withycombe and they settled details for the flag day to start off the week. In proclaiming Patriotic week the Governor sought to crystallize patriotic sentiment and the Girls' Honor Guard members were yesterday quick to recognize opportunity for them to do some of their best effective work.

"We are fully organized in seven cities of Oregon and partially organized in five more," said Miss Danforth. "We will sell flags in all 12 cities and perhaps in other places if we can arrange the details in so short a time. Our girls will be ready to give some time Monday to selling flags and we will attempt to sell them to men, women and children. They will be tiny flags, because of the limited space from our ranks will be stationed in hotels, depots and business houses and at various places throughout the city."

The Portland members of the numbers between 500 and 600 and a large number of these are expected to be out on that day.

Just what yesterday's generous impulse will cost Mr. Selling is not yet known. Last year the Portland committee collected $48,000 for Jewish relief work, and this year it is expected the collections will be bigger than ever before. Because of the offers just made the work will, of course, receive new impetus.

Now comes a flag day that none can resist! On Monday, March 26, the members of the Girls' National Honor Guard in 12 or more cities of Oregon will take their places in the busy marts of trade and sell tiny flags to passersby, as one means of making Patriotic Week proclaimed by Governor Withycombe, a marked success.

Miss Lucile Danforth, state manager of the Girls' National Honor Guard of Oregon, yesterday conferred over long-distance telephone with Governor Withycombe and they settled details for the flag day to start off the week. In proclaiming Patriotic week the Governor sought to crystallize patriotic sentiment and the Girls' Honor Guard members were yesterday quick to recognize opportunity for them to do some of their best effective work.

"We are fully organized in seven cities of Oregon and partially organized in five more," said Miss Danforth. "We will sell flags in all 12 cities and perhaps in other places if we can arrange the details in so short a time. Our girls will be ready to give some time Monday to selling flags and we will attempt to sell them to men, women and children. They will be tiny flags, because of the limited space from our ranks will be stationed in hotels, depots and business houses and at various places throughout the city."

The Portland members of the numbers between 500 and 600 and a large number of these are expected to be out on that day.

Just what yesterday's generous impulse will cost Mr. Selling is not yet known. Last year the Portland committee collected $48,000 for Jewish relief work, and this year it is expected the collections will be bigger than ever before. Because of the offers just made the work will, of course, receive new impetus.

Now comes a flag day that none can resist! On Monday, March 26, the members of the Girls' National Honor Guard in 12 or more cities of Oregon will take their places in the busy marts of trade and sell tiny flags to passersby, as one means of making Patriotic Week proclaimed by Governor Withycombe, a marked success.

Miss Lucile Danforth, state manager of the Girls' National Honor Guard of Oregon, yesterday conferred over long-distance telephone with Governor Withycombe and they settled details for the flag day to start off the week. In proclaiming Patriotic week the Governor sought to crystallize patriotic sentiment and the Girls' Honor Guard members were yesterday quick to recognize opportunity for them to do some of their best effective work.

"We are fully organized in seven cities of Oregon and partially organized in five more," said Miss Danforth. "We will sell flags in all 12 cities and perhaps in other places if we can arrange the details in so short a time. Our girls will be ready to give some time Monday to selling flags and we will attempt to sell them to men, women and children. They will be tiny flags, because of the limited space from our ranks will be stationed in hotels, depots and business houses and at various places throughout the city."

The Portland members of the numbers between 500 and 600 and a large number of these are expected to be out on that day.

Just what yesterday's generous impulse will cost Mr. Selling is not yet known. Last year the Portland committee collected $48,000 for Jewish relief work, and this year it is expected the collections will be bigger than ever before. Because of the offers just made the work will, of course, receive new impetus.

Now comes a flag day that none can resist! On Monday, March 26, the members of the Girls' National Honor Guard in 12 or more cities of Oregon will take their places in the busy marts of trade and sell tiny flags to passersby, as one means of making Patriotic Week proclaimed by Governor Withycombe, a marked success.

Miss Lucile Danforth, state manager of the Girls' National Honor Guard of Oregon, yesterday conferred over long-distance telephone with Governor Withycombe and they settled details for the flag day to start off the week. In proclaiming Patriotic week the Governor sought to crystallize patriotic sentiment and the Girls' Honor Guard members were yesterday quick to recognize opportunity for them to do some of their best effective work.

"We are fully organized in seven cities of Oregon and partially organized in five more," said Miss Danforth. "We will sell flags in all 12 cities and perhaps in other places if we can arrange the details in so short a time. Our girls will be ready to give some time Monday to selling flags and we will attempt to sell them to men, women and children. They will be tiny flags, because of the limited space from our ranks will be stationed in hotels, depots and business houses and at various places throughout the city."

The Portland members of the numbers between 500 and 600 and a large number of these are expected to be out on that day.

Just what yesterday's generous impulse will cost Mr. Selling is not yet known. Last year the Portland committee collected $48,000 for Jewish relief work, and this year it is expected the collections will be bigger than ever before. Because of the offers just made the work will, of course, receive new impetus.

Now comes a flag day that none can resist! On Monday, March 26, the members of the Girls' National Honor Guard in 12 or more cities of Oregon will take their places in the busy marts of trade and sell tiny flags to passersby, as one means of making Patriotic Week proclaimed by Governor Withycombe, a marked success.

Miss Lucile Danforth, state manager of the Girls' National Honor Guard of Oregon, yesterday conferred over long-distance telephone with Governor Withycombe and they settled details for the flag day to start off the week. In proclaiming Patriotic week the Governor sought to crystallize patriotic sentiment and the Girls' Honor Guard members were yesterday quick to recognize opportunity for them to do some of their best effective work.

"We are fully organized in seven cities of Oregon and partially organized in five more," said Miss Danforth. "We will sell flags in all 12 cities and perhaps in other places if we can arrange the details in so short a time. Our girls will be ready to give some time Monday to selling flags and we will attempt to sell them to men, women and children. They will be tiny flags, because of the limited space from our ranks will be stationed in hotels, depots and business houses and at various places throughout the city."

The Portland members of the numbers between 500 and 600 and a large number of these are expected to be out on that day.

WOMEN'S SUFFERERS ABROAD STARVE

Ben Selling to Add 10 Per Cent to Donations.

Heavy additional contributions to the fund being collected in this country for the Jewish war relief were promised yesterday by Julius Rosenwald, of Chicago, and Ben Selling of Portland.

Upon receipt of a telegram yesterday from Jacob Schiff, of New York, that $100,000 for every million collected between March and November of this year, Mr. Selling, head of the Portland committee, made the offer to give 10 per cent of all funds raised for Jewish relief in this city.

Julius Rosenwald, of Chicago, realizing the appalling situation of our brethren abroad, has promised to contribute $100,000 for every $1,000,000 collected from March, 1917, to November, 1917. In view of the starvation which faces our brethren we must collect $10,000,000 at the earliest possible moment. Mr. Rosenwald's offer is to work with renewed energy and without delay in order that the full $10,000,000 may be secured from Mr. Rosenwald.

Mr. Rosenwald's announcement means practically a donation of a whole $1,000,000 to the fund for Jewish relief. He has long been known as a generous philanthropist of this country, having given $250,000 to the Chicago Y. M. C. A. on his 50th birthday he gave $750,000 to charity.

Just what yesterday's generous impulse will cost Mr. Selling is not yet known. Last year the Portland committee collected $48,000 for Jewish relief work, and this year it is expected the collections will be bigger than ever before. Because of the offers just made the work will, of course, receive new impetus.

Now comes a flag day that none can resist! On Monday, March 26, the members of the Girls' National Honor Guard in 12 or more cities of Oregon will take their places in the busy marts of trade and sell tiny flags to passersby, as one means of making Patriotic Week proclaimed by Governor Withycombe, a marked success.

Miss Lucile Danforth, state manager of the Girls' National Honor Guard of Oregon, yesterday conferred over long-distance telephone with Governor Withycombe and they settled details for the flag day to start off the week. In proclaiming Patriotic week the Governor sought to crystallize patriotic sentiment and the Girls' Honor Guard members were yesterday quick to recognize opportunity for them to do some of their best effective work.

"We are fully organized in seven cities of Oregon and partially organized in five more," said Miss Danforth. "We will sell flags in all 12 cities and perhaps in other places if we can arrange the details in so short a time. Our girls will be ready to give some time Monday to selling flags and we will attempt to sell them to men, women and children. They will be tiny flags, because of the limited space from our ranks will be stationed in hotels, depots and business houses and at various places throughout the city."

The Portland members of the numbers between 500 and 600 and a large number of these are expected to be out on that day.

Just what yesterday's generous impulse will cost Mr. Selling is not yet known. Last year the Portland committee collected $48,000 for Jewish relief work, and this year it is expected the collections will be bigger than ever before. Because of the offers just made the work will, of course, receive new impetus.

Now comes a flag day that none can resist! On Monday, March 26, the members of the Girls' National Honor Guard in 12 or more cities of Oregon will take their places in the busy marts of trade and sell tiny flags to passersby, as one means of making Patriotic Week proclaimed by Governor Withycombe, a marked success.

Miss Lucile Danforth, state manager of the Girls' National Honor Guard of Oregon, yesterday conferred over long-distance telephone with Governor Withycombe and they settled details for the flag day to start off the week. In proclaiming Patriotic week the Governor sought to crystallize patriotic sentiment and the Girls' Honor Guard members were yesterday quick to recognize opportunity for them to do some of their best effective work.

"We are fully organized in seven cities of Oregon and partially organized in five more," said Miss Danforth. "We will sell flags in all 12 cities and perhaps in other places if we can arrange the details in so short a time. Our girls will be ready to give some time Monday to selling flags and we will attempt to sell them to men, women and children. They will be tiny flags, because of the limited space from our ranks will be stationed in hotels, depots and business houses and at various places throughout the city."

The Portland members of the numbers between 500 and 600 and a large number of these are expected to be out on that day.

Just what yesterday's generous impulse will cost Mr. Selling is not yet known. Last year the Portland committee collected $48,000 for Jewish relief work, and this year it is expected the collections will be bigger than ever before. Because of the offers just made the work will, of course, receive new impetus.

Now comes a flag day that none can resist! On Monday, March 26, the members of the Girls' National Honor Guard in 12 or more cities of Oregon will take their places in the busy marts of trade and sell tiny flags to passersby, as one means of making Patriotic Week proclaimed by Governor Withycombe, a marked success.

Miss Lucile Danforth, state manager of the Girls' National Honor Guard of Oregon, yesterday conferred over long-distance telephone with Governor Withycombe and they settled details for the flag day to start off the week. In proclaiming Patriotic week the Governor sought to crystallize patriotic sentiment and the Girls' Honor Guard members were yesterday quick to recognize opportunity for them to do some of their best effective work.

"We are fully organized in seven cities of Oregon and partially organized in five more," said Miss Danforth. "We will sell flags in all 12 cities and perhaps in other places if we can arrange the details in so short a time. Our girls will be ready to give some time Monday to selling flags and we will attempt to sell them to men, women and children. They will be tiny flags, because of the limited space from our ranks will be stationed in hotels, depots and business houses and at various places throughout the city."

The Portland members of the numbers between 500 and 600 and a large number of these are expected to be out on that day.

Just what yesterday's generous impulse will cost Mr. Selling is not yet known. Last year the Portland committee collected $48,000 for Jewish relief work, and this year it is expected the collections will be bigger than ever before. Because of the offers just made the work will, of course, receive new impetus.

Now comes a flag day that none can resist! On Monday, March 26, the members of the Girls' National Honor Guard in 12 or more cities of Oregon will take their places in the busy marts of trade and sell tiny flags to passersby, as one means of making Patriotic Week proclaimed by Governor Withycombe, a marked success.

Miss Lucile Danforth, state manager of the Girls' National Honor Guard of Oregon, yesterday conferred over long-distance telephone with Governor Withycombe and they settled details for the flag day to start off the week. In proclaiming Patriotic week the Governor sought to crystallize patriotic sentiment and the Girls' Honor Guard members were yesterday quick to recognize opportunity for them to do some of their best effective work.

"We are fully organized in seven cities of Oregon and partially organized in five more," said Miss Danforth. "We will sell flags in all 12 cities and perhaps in other places if we can arrange the details in so short a time. Our girls will be ready to give some time Monday to selling flags and we will attempt to sell them to men, women and children. They will be tiny flags, because of the limited space from our ranks will be stationed in hotels, depots and business houses and at various places throughout the city."

The Portland members of the numbers between 500 and 600 and a large number of these are expected to be out on that day.

Just what yesterday's generous impulse will cost Mr. Selling is not yet known. Last year the Portland committee collected $48,000 for Jewish relief work, and this year it is expected the collections will be bigger than ever before. Because of the offers just made the work will, of course, receive new impetus.

Now comes a flag day that none can resist! On Monday, March 26, the members of the Girls' National Honor Guard in 12 or more cities of Oregon will take their places in the busy marts of trade and sell tiny flags to passersby, as one means of making Patriotic Week proclaimed by Governor Withycombe, a marked success.

Miss Lucile Danforth, state manager of the Girls' National Honor Guard of Oregon, yesterday conferred over long-distance telephone with Governor Withycombe and they settled details for the flag day to start off the week. In proclaiming Patriotic week the Governor sought to crystallize patriotic sentiment and the Girls' Honor Guard members were yesterday quick to recognize opportunity for them to do some of their best effective work.

"We are fully organized in seven cities of Oregon and partially organized in five more," said Miss Danforth. "We will sell flags in all 12 cities and perhaps in other places if we can arrange the details in so short a time. Our girls will be ready to give some time Monday to selling flags and we will attempt to sell them to men, women and children. They will be tiny flags, because of the limited space from our ranks will be stationed in hotels, depots and business houses and at various places throughout the city."

The Portland members of the numbers between 500 and 600 and a large number of these are expected to be out on that day.

Just what yesterday's generous impulse will cost Mr. Selling is not yet known. Last year the Portland committee collected $48,000 for Jewish relief work, and this year it is expected the collections will be bigger than ever before. Because of the offers just made the work will, of course, receive new impetus.

Now comes a flag day that none can resist! On Monday, March 26, the members of the Girls' National Honor Guard in 12 or more cities of Oregon will take their places in the busy marts of trade and sell tiny flags to passersby, as one means of making Patriotic Week proclaimed by Governor Withycombe, a marked success.

Miss Lucile Danforth, state manager of the Girls' National Honor Guard of Oregon, yesterday conferred over long-distance telephone with Governor Withycombe and they settled details for the flag day to start off the week. In proclaiming Patriotic week the Governor sought to crystallize patriotic sentiment and the Girls' Honor Guard members were yesterday quick to recognize opportunity for them to do some of their best effective work.

"We are fully organized in seven cities of Oregon and partially organized in five more," said Miss Danforth. "We will sell flags in all 12 cities and perhaps in other places if we can arrange the details in so short a time. Our girls will be ready to give some time Monday to selling flags and we will attempt to sell them to men, women and children. They will be tiny flags, because of the limited space from our ranks will be stationed in hotels, depots and business houses and at various places throughout the city."

The Portland members of the numbers between 500 and 600 and a large number of these are expected to be out on that day.

WOMEN'S SUFFERERS ABROAD STARVE

Ben Selling to Add 10 Per Cent to Donations.

Heavy additional contributions to the fund being collected in this country for the Jewish war relief were promised yesterday by Julius Rosenwald, of Chicago, and Ben Selling of Portland.

Upon receipt of a telegram yesterday from Jacob Schiff, of New York, that $100,000 for every million collected between March and November of this year, Mr. Selling, head of the Portland committee, made the offer to give 10 per cent of all funds raised for Jewish relief in this city.

Julius Rosenwald, of Chicago, realizing the appalling situation of our brethren abroad, has promised to contribute $100,000 for every $1,000,000 collected from March, 1917, to November, 1917. In view of the starvation which faces our brethren we must collect $10,000,000 at the earliest possible moment. Mr. Rosenwald's offer is to work with renewed energy and without delay in order that the full $10,000,000 may be secured from Mr. Rosenwald.

Mr. Rosenwald's announcement means practically a donation of a whole $1,000,000 to the fund for Jewish relief. He has long been known as a generous philanthropist of this country, having given $250,000 to the Chicago Y. M. C. A. on his 50th birthday he gave $750,000 to charity.

Just what yesterday's generous impulse will cost Mr. Selling is not yet known. Last year the Portland committee collected $48,000 for Jewish relief work, and this year it is expected the collections will be bigger than ever before. Because of the offers just made the work will, of course, receive new impetus.

Now comes a flag day that none can resist! On Monday, March 26, the members of the Girls' National Honor Guard in 12 or more cities of Oregon will take their places in the busy marts of trade and sell tiny flags to passersby, as one means of making Patriotic Week proclaimed by Governor Withycombe, a marked success.