

MOVIE MEN OFFER AID IN RECRUITING

Exhibitors' League Turns Luncheon at Hotel Benson Into Patriotic Gathering.

"HOME INDUSTRY" URGED

Preliminary Steps Taken for Rehabilitation of Portland as Center of Film Distribution—Convention to Be Held May 14.

The motion picture screen of Oregon, which reaches a larger population than any other medium except the daily press, has been tendered to the state and Federal authorities to facilitate in every way the enlistment of troops called for by the President.

Members of the newly organized Motion Picture Exhibitors' League of Oregon met at a luncheon at the Benson Hotel yesterday noon, adjourned to open the handsome clubrooms in the Majestic Theater building, and then rounded out a busy day by this act of patriotism—the adoption of a resolution offering every possible co-operation in swelling the ranks of the United States Army.

The lusty young organization also joined the ranks of boosters for Portland and Oregon by taking preliminary steps towards the rehabilitation of Portland as a center of film distribution. Concerns maintaining local exchanges are to be favored in every way, the exhibitors lining up solidly behind the movement to force the re-establishment of distributing offices in Portland. A further step in the "home industry" movement was taken when it was decided to favor local film supply houses over all outsiders.

Convention Is Announced.

Announcement was made by President C. W. Meighan of the first annual state convention of the league, to be held in Portland on May 14 and 15, while plans for the staging of the big "movie" ball on May 14, at which a number of stars of the film world will be present, were discussed.

The leading exhibitors of Portland, exchange men and George C. Baker, City Commissioner, participated in the house-warming at the clubrooms.

RUE STOMACH OF GASES, SOURNESS AND INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapiesin" Relieves Stomach Distress in Five Minutes.

You don't want a slow remedy when your stomach is bad—or an uncertain one—a harmful one—your stomach is too valuable; you mustn't injure it with drastic drugs.

Pape's Diapiesin is noted for its speed in giving relief; its harmlessness; its certain unflinching action in regulating sick, sour, gassy stomachs. Its quick relief in indigestion, dyspepsia and gastritis when caused by acids has made it famous in the world over. Keep this wonderful stomach sweetener in your home—keep it handy—get a large fifty-cent case from any drug store and then, if anyone should eat something which doesn't agree with them; if what they eat lays like lead, yawns and sours and forms gas; causes headache, dizziness and nausea; eruptions of acid and undigested food—remember as soon as Pape's Diapiesin comes in contact with the stomach it helps to neutralize the excessive acidity, then all the stomach distress caused by it disappears. Its promptness, certainty and ease in overcoming such stomach disorders is a revelation to those who try it.—Adv.

tricians, $75 a month; two engineers, $55 a month; four electrician sergeants, first class, $45 a month; four electrician sergeants, second class, $35 a month; three master gunners, $40 a month; 12 assistant engineers and four radio sergeants, whose pay is not given, and four firemen, at $35 a month. It will be necessary for applicants to enlist as privates in some Coast Artillery company, from which they will be immediately appointed to act as enlisted specialists. After they have qualified by passing examinations, they will be rated as such, and pay increased from $15 a month to that attached to the position. The duties of these specialists comprise little of the ordinary military duties, but will be practically parallel to those in corresponding civilian employment. C. Green, artillery engineer, will receive applicants or inquiries relative to these positions at 1190 Oak street, Salem.

PINLESS COIFFURE USED

ALICE EIS, ORPHEUM DANSEUSE, INTRODUCES NOVELTY.

hairpinless. No longer, says Miss Eis, do the women of England need to regret with horror the military edict which has been promulgated that, owing to the extreme need of metal for making bullets, no more hairpins are to be manufactured. She declares she has discovered for them and for the rest of women a method of heddress which relegates hairpins to an age gone by. "Simply bring the hair down under the chin, carry it to the back of the neck, and there braid and tie it into a bun, as you have ordinarily done," said Miss Eis. "I have found this way an excellent and comfortable way of fastening my hair, and I believe, one that is attractive as well as unusual. "Done up in this fashion, it cannot possibly fall down and thus will save women a good deal of embarrassment. Of course, on the stage in 'Halloween,' I am called upon to dance in such strenuous fashion that I find it advisable to cover my hair with a thin net, but the woman around the house or out walking will never have occasion to take this precaution."

Alice Eis and her partner, Bert French, are well known to the vaudeville world for their offerings in pantomimic dancing.

FESTIVAL DEFICIT LIFTED

Bank Advances Funds to Meet Unpaid $4185.68 1916 Bills.

The $4185.68 deficit of the 1916 Rose Festival has been taken up and the 1917 Festival Board can proceed in the raising of its funds without feeling itself hampered by the necessity of attending to debts carried over from the preceding year.

Arrangements were completed yesterday by which the United States National Bank advanced funds to cover the deficit and the checks have been mailed out already to the 125 creditors of the Festival who were represented in the amount of the deficit.

The arrangement was effected under the resolution of the County Commissioners to reimburse the bank for the amount expended, when the fund for the Rose Festival becomes available from taxation next year. J. H. Dundore, S. C. Bratton and Jacob Kanzler have been working on the plan for three weeks.

"Better-informed Men Needed in Business"

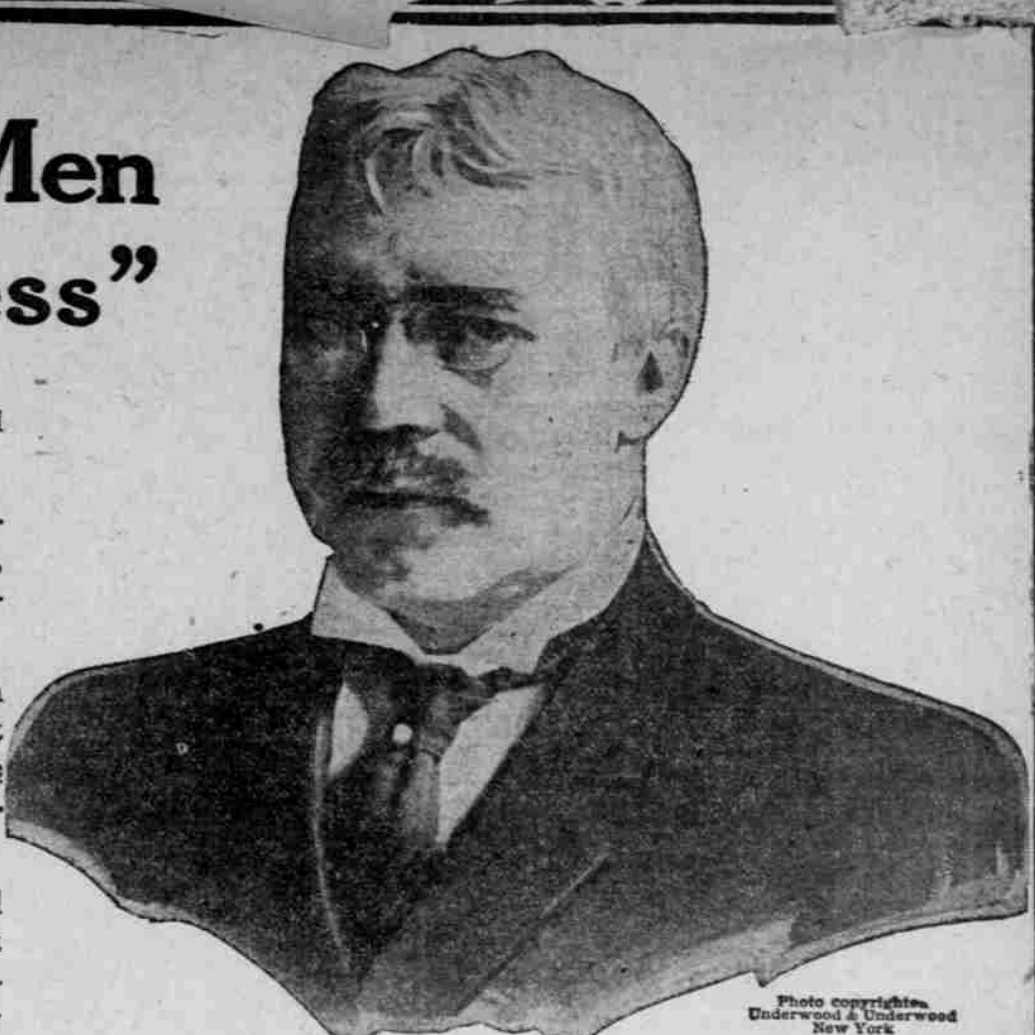

"We find business demanding far better-informed and indeed broader-minded men than were formerly required."

"A railroad man who merely knows how to operate economically the trains on his tracks falls far short of what is ideal, indeed of what is absolutely necessary, if he is properly to discharge both his duties to his shareholders and to the public."

"The banker who merely knows his local credits and can successfully gather in deposits and loan them in a manner that brings the smallest margin of chance that they will not be paid cannot be regarded as filling ideally a position in the profession of banking."

"An industrial manager must have much greater technical experience and ability than was formerly needed, but he must have far more than that. He must have sound views regarding the relations of his business to society and a more highly developed social sense and responsibility than were heretofore regarded as necessary."

Frank A. Vanderlip, President of the National City Bank, New York.

Mr. Vanderlip's career has proved the value of knowledge as the practical means to success. Born on a farm, Mr. Vanderlip received only a country school education. Later, he studied nights to advance himself. Thirty years ago he was a newspaper reporter in Chicago. Today he is head of the National City Bank, of New York, the strongest bank on this continent, and second largest in the world, with resources approximating $615,000,000.

Mr. Vanderlip says, in effect, this: You should own and use the new Encyclopaedia Britannica.

For, whatever your position or circumstances, the Britannica is the very work you require to promote yourself to the better-informed class. It is the one complete and authoritative source of knowledge—

- for the railroad man who must know more than how to run trains; for the banker who must know more than local credits; for the industrial manager who must possess far more than technical ability; for the merchant who must know more than wholesale prices and profits; for the manufacturer who must look way beyond the sky-line of his mills; for every one.

This great work gives you what you need to master business problems; it enables you to respond with facts and practical information to fortify your judgment. It gives you the wide knowledge and broad viewpoint essential to business success.

EX-HOTEL CLERK HELD

FRED H. SENGFELDER ACCUSED OF THEFTS WHILE AT BENSON.

Losses at Poker Said to Have Led to Defalcations of $3700, Partly Covered by Bond Company.

Poker games, in which Fred H. Sengfelder is said to have fallen into the hands of unscrupulous sharps, caused the young man, former cashier and bookkeeper at the Benson Hotel, to juggle accounts and appropriate $3700 during the months of August, September and October, 1916, according to the report told the grand jury, which resulted in his arrest yesterday on an indictment for embezzlement. Sengfelder was taken into custody at the Congress Hotel by Deputy Sheriff Beckman and Christofferson. According to the management of the Benson, Sengfelder admitted having lost heavily at cards and to having destroyed loose-leaf records to cover up shortages in his accounts. The young man was under bond of $2000, and that amount has been paid over to the hotel by the bonding company. The management gave Sengfelder a chance to make good the balance of $1700, but when he failed to do so allowed the sureties to proceed with the prosecution and take the matter before the grand jury.

Two Rural Schools Taken.

SALEM, Or., April 2.—(Special).—The board of normal regents today inaugurated a new policy for normal teaching in the state by establishing two rural centers, one at Mount View School, in Benton County, and the other at Elkins School, in Polk County.
