

CLOSE HEED GIVEN COLLEGE TALKERS

Walla Walla Citizens Attend Lectures on Demonstration Train.

CHICKEN-RAISING IS VITAL

Preparation of Food for Home Told in Entertaining Style—Plea Made for Cultivation of Vacant Lots.

BY ADDISON BENNETT.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., April 24.—(Special.)—The O. W. R. & N. demonstration train, with the Washington State College lecturers and demonstrators, arrived here last evening and a little after 8 o'clock the party was met in the spacious parlors of the Commercial Club by a large audience.

The principal speakers of the occasion were Professor Leonard Hognauer, Professor R. J. Barnett and Mrs. Whittaker. The former told of the purposes of the campaign, Professor Barnett spoke on the kitchen garden, and the latter on poultry raising. The speakers all received marked attention and their addresses were strictly in accord with their subjects.

At 10 o'clock this morning the exhibit car and the lecture car were well filled with those who seemed deeply interested in the objects of the campaign. After an inspection of the exhibit car, Miss Mary E. Sutherland spoke on the preparation of food. This lady is certainly one who not only understands every phase of the subject chosen, but knows how to tell her story in an entertaining and impressive way. While she made no ascent or flights in oratory, she held her audience to the closest attention and every word rang true and went right to the hearts of her hearers.

She was followed by Professor Barnett, on vegetable growing. The professor understands as few do the whole subject of planting, cultivating and harvesting the products of the truck patch and he has a very winning way of sending his words understandingly to his audience.

At 1:30 this afternoon a large audience was gathered in the high school auditorium, where Mrs. Whittaker took for her subject the care of growing chicks, and she made an interesting and timely address.

M'MURRAY JOINS FOOD TRAIN

Passenger Agent of O. W. R. & N. Co. Assists Demonstration Work.

William McMurray, general passenger agent for the O. W. R. & N. Company, takes more than a passing interest in the special food preparedness demonstration train now being operated by that company in Washington in co-operation with the State College of Washington. He left his office in the Wells-Fargo building Monday night to rejoin the train at Walla Walla yesterday and he expects to travel with it for a few days to give his personal assistance to the work.

He believes campaigns such as this are of the first importance at this time.

GIRLS' KISSES CRITICISED

Miss Danforth Says Honor Guard Has More Dignified Purpose.

Miss Lucille Danforth, state manager of the Girls' Honor Guard, does not approve of the method of encouraging enlistments adopted by some of the members in Hood River, who were reported in a news story as kissing all the recruits good-bye.

"Our aim is more dignified than that," is Miss Danforth's comment.

On reading the dispatch she at once telephoned to Hood River and found that some of the members of the Guard there were guilty of the charge of kissing the recruits good-bye. Her sentiments on that score were conveyed to the Hood River contingent.

"We want the public to know that we are interested in vital things and that our activities are much more dignified than the activities of the Hood River girls would indicate," says Miss Danforth.

BURGLAR SUSPECTS HELD

Tools Concealed in Mattress Cause Arrest of Two Men.

A quantity of burglar's tools which they are said to have concealed in the mattress in their room in a Second-street lodging-house resulted in the arrest late yesterday of Henry Mc Bride, alias Harry Smith, and Eddie O'Brien, alias Arthur Smith.

City Detectives Pat Moloney, Swennes, Leonard and LaSalle, who made the arrest, are investigating in the belief that the men may have been implicated in robberies in Portland. In addition to the burglar's tools, a suitcase containing woman's wearing apparel also was discovered in the room.

Garden designers should forget style and design for comfort and pleasure only; they would then avoid many very serious errors now quite common.

Ince Makes Naval Picture. FOR 10 days a corps of Triangle directors and camera men, sent out on that island, together with Lieutenant-Commander Shoup, Lieutenant Gaddis and Chief Bosna's Mate Miller, who is the Adjutant, setting under instruction from the Navy Department at Washington, suspended the regular programme for the week to the necessities of the film and provided appropriate scenes by sections and companies and battalions to illustrate the various phases of training.

This film will show every step taken in a strikingly original way as a result of a scenario that has been developed by Ince himself, in consultation with the Government officials who are assisting him in the preparation of the unique production.

Critics Praise "Seven Deadly Sins." Critics who have witnessed the seven five-reel productions presented by McClure Pictures under the novel title, "Seven Deadly Sins," are emphatic in their praise of the pictures as well as the new idea embraced in the photodramas.

"Seven Deadly Sins" comprise seven complete five-reel plays, each presenting one or more famous stars of the silent drama. There is no serial idea connected with the plays, although Shirley Mason and George LeGuere are presented in each picture, which takes its title from one of the seven sins.

"Envy," which closes at the Peoples Theater tonight, has as its star Ann Murdock. "Pride" coming next week, stars Holbrook Blinn. The others, in their turn, are "Greed," with Nance O'Neal; "Wrath," H. R. Warner; "Sloth," Charlotte Walker; "Passion," Shirley Mason; and "The Seventh Sin," an all-star cast, including all at the players mentioned. This cast will be one of the most prominent ever presented on the screen.

Globe. "Her Condensed Sin," the spectacular D. W. Griffith-Biograph photo-drama, which ranks as the first of the Griffith super-productions, will be shown at the Globe Theater for the remainder of the week.

With this six-reeler "Patria," the preparedness serial, starring Mrs. Vernon Castle, will be shown, commencing today. Mrs. Castle, Milton Sills and Warner Oland are the leading players in this chaptered story of many thrills. The cast of "Her Condensed Sin," taken from "Judith of Bethulia," includes Mae Marsh, Henry B. Walthall, Blanche Sweet, Lillian Gish, Dorothy Gish and Robert Harron.

Screen Gossip. Lillian Walker will start photoplay work at Ogden within a few days.

To its Bluebird brand of photoplays Universal has now added Butterflies.

George LeGuere, following his appearance in the "Seven Deadly Sins," will be seen in a state rights picture, "Strife."

Leah Baird is supported in "One Law for Both" by Vincent Serrano, James Morrison, Rita Jolivet, Pedro de Cordoba and Capellani.

Mabel Tallafiero, who has been for two years with Metro, will be seen on the stage shortly under the direction of the Messrs. Shuberts.

The New York newspapers were unanimous in their verdict, proclaiming "Broadway Jones" one of the greatest pictures of the year.

CHURCH MEN MEET

Rev. F. J. Meyer Moderator for Congregationalists.

DR. G. W. HINMAN SPEAKER

Mrs. A. C. Moses Presides at Woman's Session—Fellowship Supper Served by Women of Atkinson Memorial Church.

With representative delegations from a majority of the Congregational Churches of Portland, Hood River, Scappoose and other nearby towns, the annual meeting of the Portland Association of Congregational Churches and Ministers opened yesterday afternoon in Atkinson Memorial Church.

Rev. F. J. Meyer, of University Park Church, was elected moderator, succeeded by Rev. W. C. Kantner, of Pilgrim Church. Rev. D. J. Taylor, of St. Helena, was chosen scribe. Among the prominent men in attendance were Dr. W. Hinman, of San Francisco, secretary of the American Missionary Association, and Dr. H. H. Wickoff, chairman of the building society, representing the Pacific Coast states. Dr. Horace C. Mason, one of the principal conference leaders, who speaks at each session, is a visitor from Seattle. He will give two talks today on "The Spiritual Life."

Dr. Kantner, in retiring as moderator, welcomed the new official and bespoke the faith of the Congregationalists in the Bible and in the religion of Christ. He said of present-day conditions: "We are perplexed, but not in despair. The Bible is still the greatest good but it transcends them all. Let us turn to it. God has not failed us and he will not."

"Right is right since God is God and duty is duty since God is God. To doubt would be disloyalty; to falter would be sin."

Dr. Kantner was state moderator in 1905 and 1906, and again headed the conference at Hood River in 1912. In referring to this, his third retirement, he said: "Surely, this is three times and out."

The Finnish Mission and the Swedish.

An adaptation of a recently published novel of the "best seller" class will be the next vehicle for Kitty Gordon, the World-Brady star. Miss Gordon's work in the recently released "Forget-Me-Not" is reported to have brought an unexpectedly large demand for picture plays in which she is featured.

Ethel Clayton has sufficiently recovered from the injuries she sustained recently in an automobile accident to allow her to resume work in "The Stolen Paradise." Joseph Kaufman, her husband, who was injured in the same accident, still bears visible marks of the affair, but is actively engaged directing Marguerite Clark at the Famous Players studio.

The stage heads at the Morocco studio, after reading how the stokers and deckhands on the trans-Atlantic liners have been striking for double pay because of the risks involved in encountering submarines, have been inspired to adopt similar tactics because of the fact that a large and ferocious looking bear is playing in "The Marcellini Millions" with George Beban. The submarine dangers are comparatively remote, they claim, as against the risks of having one's arm removed by an action-ate caress from Bruno. Because Beban is tired of life and quite willing to mix socially with Bruin, they see no reason for adopting suicidal policies themselves.

"COOS COUNTY FOR BONDS"
State Highway Engineer Munn, Returned From Trip, Enthusiastic.

SALEM, Or., April 24.—(Special.)—"Coos County will go big for the road bonds," said State Highway Engineer Munn, who has returned from a trip to that county with Governor Withycombe and State Highway Commissioner Adams. "Everywhere I went I heard flattering comments on the proposed bond issue, and the sentiment in that county is strong."

Coos County, Mr. Munn states, already has awarded a contract for completion of the road between Marshfield and Coquille and soon will finish awarding the rest of the contracts on its $380,000 road bond issue.

Crane May Get Sugar Factory.
CRANE, Or., April 24.—(Special.)—The Crane Commercial Club has sent to the Utah Sugar Company for best seed to be given to farmers in the Harney Valley that they may experiment and find what sugar beets will do. Next fall samples will be taken from every field and sent away to be tested, and if the beets are found to contain a high percentage of sugar and if enough acreage can be secured for next year a sugar factory will be built at Crane.
