

DAILY FIGHTS BACK; SAYS PLAN IS O. K.

Mayorality Candidate Wants Vote on His Scheme in Spite of Adverse Report.

EXPERTS' WORK BELITTLED

Commissioner, Who Was Printer Before He Became Politician, Pits His Judgment Against That of Several Engineers.

City Commissioner Daly, who prior to his debut in politics was a printer, pitted his hydro-electric engineering skill against the skill of four hydro-electric engineers of National repute yesterday before the City Council...

Mr. Daly insisted that the engineers were wrong in saying his plant would cost double what he had estimated and that it probably would be impossible to operate, and even if it did operate, would necessitate rates to the city far in advance of the present rates...

While the Council chafed at the propriety of submitting the measure under such circumstances, Mr. Daly insisted and the Council took the proposal under advisement until Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock...

The principal engineer who reported against Mr. Daly's proposed plant was J. L. Stannard, a hydro-electric engineer of National reputation...

Paper Attack Not Sustained. Those who had been following the proposition before the Council had wondered how Mr. Daly would endeavor to get out from under his proposition without damaging his campaign for Mayor...

An afternoon newspaper which is supporting Mr. Daly's Mayorship campaign had published articles to the effect that there was collusion in the report of Mr. Stannard...

"No," said Mr. Daly, "there is no such evidence. There is no question about Mr. Stannard's report, except that he looks at the project differently from what I do."

Engineers' Views Belittled. "One of them is not a hydro-electric engineer," said Mr. Daly...

"Have you any assurance of the market on steel and copper getting back to normal within two years?" asked Mr. Dieck...

Storage Point Discussed. "What appealed to me in Mr. Stannard's report and the reports of the others was the statement that Bull Run Lake may not be suitable for water works," said Mr. Dieck...

Steel Prices Not Investigated. "We propose to make a full investigation," said Mr. Daly, "before going ahead."

The greatest production of modern times: "MOTHERS OF FRANCE" Peoples, Next Sunday

Albee said he had conferred with leading men in that line in the city and had been informed there was no possibility of a decrease for two years after the close of the war.

Report Declared "Unreasonable." In a lengthy report covering comment on the written report of Engineer Stannard Mr. Daly enumerates the points in which he contends Mr. Stannard errs...

There is nothing in Mr. Stannard's report that in any way changes my opinion, and my conclusion that the city's (Daly's) estimate on this project, under normal conditions, is sufficient and that the plant contemplated can be constructed within the amount named...
