BRITISH ADVANCE ON MACEDONIAN FRONT

Hand-to-Hand Conflict Results in Heavy Losses to Attacking Teutons.

BULLECOURT FIGHT VARIES

Partial Successes of Germans at Fresnoy Expected, in View of Tremendous Attacks, Says British Director.

LONDON, May 10.—Attacking on a front of about four miles in the Lake Doiran region of Macedonia, British troops on one wing took Teutonic trenches on a front of two miles on the other flank advanced on a front of about a mile, according to a British official communication issued tonight.

The communication which is dated Saloniki Tuesday night, says: "After artillery preparation our troops attacked the enemy's trenches on a point southwest of Lake Doiran, on a front of about four miles. On the left we captured the enemy's trenches on a front of two miles and advanced our line to an average depth of 500 yards and consolidated our new position."

"On the right we captured the enemy's trenches between the lake and Petit Nouronne on a front of about a mile. The enemy, however, heavily counter-attacked our new positions on this part of the front. After hand-to-hand fighting, in which our troops inflicted severe losses, they were forced back by superior numbers to their own trenches."

"Bombing raids by airplanes on enemy tents, sheds, dugouts and transports have caused much damage. One and a half tons of explosives were dropped with good effect."

LONDON, May 10.—The recent partial success of the Germans at Fresnoy has not upset the British plans, said Major-General Frederick Macdonell, chief director of military operations at the War Office, in his weekly talk with the Associated Press. As a matter of fact, the general added, the British staff has been surprised that the Germans have not succeeded before in making gains in view of the tremendous counter-attacks which they have been hurling against the British front. The chief director continued:

"Bodies of Teutons continually have been sent against the British over open ground without any apparent regard for casualties, but the British have held their line when it might have been expected they would give way and have inflicted tremendous losses on their opponents. The British have forced the Germans to retreat in the Somme offensive, which ranks next to the present one in magnitude."

BERLIN, May 10, via London.—A fluctuating fight for the possession of Bullecourt on the French front is in progress, says today's army headquarters statement. The artillery fire in the Arras sector is reported on the increase.

LONDON, May 10.—Progress was made by the British last night in the neighborhood of Bullecourt, east of Arras and south of the Souchet River, says today's official announcement.

PARIS, May 10.—A fortified position on the Vaucouleurs plateau was captured last night by the French, it is announced officially. Heavy artillery fighting continues in this region, where the Germans made a counter-attack with a division of fresh troops. Several German counter-attacks along the Chemin-de-Dames were repulsed.

TEUTONS IN U. S. SCORED

FATHERLAND BETRAYED, SAYS A BERLIN PAPER.

Two Million German-Americans Who Are Loyal to Adopted Country Are Declared Cowardly.

AMSTERDAM, via London, May 10.—Bitter condemnation of German-Americans is the feature of an article in the Kreuz Zeitung, a Berlin paper, which the United States. The writer first seeks comfort in expressing utter disdain for the present American Army, comments on the costliness of volunteer recruiting and the obstacles to conscription, such as a lack of lists of men capable of bearing arms. Referring to the loyal resolutions passed at meetings of German-Americans, he says:

"German-Americans could not betray their old mother country more shamefully, seeing that nobody will assert that the existence of the United States is endangered by Germany. The more pitiful is the cowardly seal with which the 2,000,000 German-Americans in their National associations disown their race in time of distress. "The term German faithfulness is hereby forever dishonored. Nothing any longer binds us to these 'German' Americans. We only cherish one wish, that, as speedily as possible, they erase the word German from the names of their organizations. His use being insulting to the German people as to themselves."

FRENCH ADVANCING ON ST. QUENTIN, WHICH IS MENTIONED IN NEWS DISPATCHES EVERY DAY. Here is the most remarkable war photograph to arrive here in many months. It is one of the most-talked-of and unusual pictures taken of any incident during the present allied drive against the Germans along the St. Quentin sector.

It shows the advance of the French toward St. Quentin. They are crossing over a bridge just destroyed by the retreating Germans on the Canal du Nord, near Buvary, midway between Nesle and Ham. The wrecked structure has fallen in a peculiar position. There is great possibility of its caving in momentarily.

Though thousands wait to follow in their wake, the French soldiers, fearing to trust themselves on the roadbed, slowly and carefully pick their steps along the edge of the bridge, keeping hold of the railing which remains. Once on the near bank, they walk firmly and climb the incline.

On the opposite bank hundreds of French soldiers patiently wait their turn to file into the thin stream. In the background may be seen large bodies of French troops waiting to take up the pursuit of the retreating Germans.

RED CROSS GETS AID

President Names War Council for Extraordinary Demands.

PLEA IS MADE FOR FUNDS

Wilson Asks Everyone to Contribute Large or Small Sums, Predicting Suffering and Distress While War Lasts.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Henry P. Davison, of J. P. Morgan & Co., was named as chairman of a Red Cross war council today by President Wilson.

The council's duties will be to respond to extraordinary demands which the war will make on the services of the Red Cross in field and civilian relief.

Ex-President Taft, chairman of the Red Cross central committee, will work with the newly created war council. President Wilson issued the following statement with announcement of the appointments:

"I have today created within the Red Cross a war council to which will be entrusted the duty of responding to the extraordinary demand which the present war will make upon the service of the Red Cross, both in the field and in civilian relief."

"The best way in which to impart the greatest efficiency and energy to the relief work which this war will entail will be to concentrate it in the hands of a single experienced organization which has been recognized by law and by international convention as the public instrumentality for such purposes. Indeed such a concentration of administrative action in this matter seems to me absolutely necessary and I hereby earnestly call upon all those who can contribute either great sums or small to the alleviation of the suffering and distress which must inevitably arise out of this fight for humanity and democracy, to contribute to the Red Cross. It will be one of the first and most necessary tasks of the new war council of the Red Cross to raise great sums of money for the support of the work to be done and done upon a great scale."

"I hope that the response to their efforts will be a demonstration of the generosity of America and the power of genuine practical sympathy among our people that will command the admiration of the whole world."

there he organized under his command. This, however, would be exceedingly embarrassing to the British and Canadian governments. They were exceedingly eager for Mr. Roosevelt to appear in France at the head of a division of American troops. But they have been made to realize that the President was opposed to anything of the kind and they do not want to irritate the head of the Nation by running counter to his wishes.

If the ex-President cares to go to Canada, he can serve just as any other volunteer appearing there can serve. But it is unlikely that he would care to go abroad save as the commander of an out-and-out American force.

President Expects Criticism.

Just what the President will do to relieve himself from the criticism to which he expects to be subjected is not known. He could appoint Mr. Roosevelt a general, but he will do nothing of the kind. It is possible he may tender the Colonel an appointment as Brigadier or Major-General. This, however, is by no means certain and is regarded as exceedingly doubtful in Administration circles.

The prohibition provision is exceedingly drastic. The President is authorized to make regulations governing the prohibition of alcoholic liquors "in or near" military camps. Likewise, the social evil is guarded against through the suppression and prevention of the setting up of any houses used for immoral purposes.

FORT PLANS ARE CARRIED

Maps of Highways in Vicinity of San Francisco Bay Are Taken Also—Man Arrested When Working as Dishwasher.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, May 10.—Senator Brady yesterday offered an amendment to the Army deficiency bill authorizing the use of a part of a lump sum appropriation for the training of dogs and pigeons for Army use. European armies have found dogs helpful in Red Cross work, in guarding camps and as messengers.

Secretary Baker, to whom the plan was submitted, urged the adoption of the amendment. Specialists believe that stray dogs are better suited to military use than high-bred dogs, as they have keener intellect and are more amenable to training.

GERMANS TRY DISRUPTION

Italian Socialists' Agitation to Remove Cabinet Member Ignored.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Published reports that extreme Socialists in Italy threaten to force Foreign Minister Sonnino out of the Cabinet were described as part of pro-German propaganda in a statement today by the Italian embassy.

It was stated that there is no chance of the disruption of the Italian Cabinet and that any criticism of Baron Sonnino does not reflect dissatisfaction in Italy with the conduct of the war.

WOLF, who denied that he had been in the German army, said he came to the United States 15 months ago and had spent considerable time in Mexico. He explained that the wounds on his body were the result of personal encounters in Mexico and not due to his alleged service with the German aviators. Wolf denied that he was a spy or in the German secret service.

Federal authorities said that Wolf, besides being formally charged with desertion from the Army, will also face other more serious accusations. Wolf told the authorities that his parents reside in Brunswick, Germany, and that he had been a student in a German naval academy.

Wolf was arrested at the German hospital, where he has been employed as a dishwasher since last January, when, Federal authorities said, he deserted from the aviation corps at San Diego, believing he would be able to get back to Germany.

In his effects, Federal officers said, were found maps of roads and highways about San Francisco and the bay cities and complete plans of fortifications on San Francisco Bay.

According to the Federal authorities, Wolf, who is 23 years of age, was wounded in the earlier fighting about Verdun while an officer in the German aviation service. After recovering he was sent to America. It was
