

FOOD TALKS GO ON

Educational Train Reaches Hillsboro and Forest Grove.

HEALTHY RESPONSE GIVEN

Southern Pacific-Oregon Agricultural College Party Due for Closing Addresses at Independence and Monmouth.

BY ADDISON BENNETT.

FOREST GROVE, Or., May 10.—(Special.)—The food preparedness party of the Southern Pacific Railroad and the Oregon Agricultural College put in this morning at Hillsboro, where we had very satisfactory audiences and where more than the usual interest was manifested.

Miss Cowgill gave her demonstration in the Liberty Theater, where Miss Turley also delivered a lecture on food preparedness and conservation. The audience in attendance at both lectures were large and all remained to hear the final words spoken. Meanwhile Professor Brown and Professor Lamb were holding forth in the Court-house, and they also had good audiences. Professor Brown talked on gardening, and Professor Lamb on poultry raising.

We were scheduled to leave Hillsboro at noon for Forest Grove and the meetings continued to the last moment. The Hillsboro people have been active in this food campaign, particularly in the way of school gardens, and in walking over the town this morning I saw that vacant lots by the hundred are being planted. No doubt, with a continuance of the present splendid weather, nearly every vacant lot in town will be planted.

General Freight Agent Hinshaw and General Passenger Agent Scott, of the Southern Pacific lines, joined us at Hillsboro and came on to Forest Grove with us. They are both greatly interested in the work and were glad to note that a good and responsive feeling is shown at every point we have visited on the line.

At Forest Grove the meetings began at 1:45 in the high school building, where Miss Cowgill gave her canning demonstration and Miss Turley gave a lecture on food preparedness and saving. Following them, Professor Brown gave a lecture on gardening and Professor Lamb spoke on the poultry business. There was a duplication tonight of the afternoon's work. Miss Cowgill and Miss Turley spoke at Marsh Hall, at the college, and Professors Brown and Lamb at Yerk's Hall.

We are due to leave here in the morning for Independence, where we will spend the day, with a programme in the evening at Monmouth, and then for the farewells and our homes.

FUN REIGNS AT 'HIP'

'THE FOUR SLICKERS' KEEP UP PATTER THAT AMUSES.

Internationally-Known Xylophonists Tap Out Golden Notes and Clever Dancers Are Enjoyed.

Dance and mirth and melody galore splashed all over and runs merrily through the new bill at the Hippodrome, which opened yesterday to run the rest of the week.

'The Four Slickers' top the list and make a big bid for favor with their bucolic nonsense. They dance with comedy interruptions and put on a burlesque 'Texas Tommy' that sends the audience into gales of hilarity.

A trio of sensational melody fiends are Brown, Carsten and Wuerl, xylophonists, who are internationally famous for their gentle art in tapping out golden music on the xylophone. 'One-eighth of a ton of melody and fun' is the billing of Tom Hurphy, and he lives up to the billing.

'Vaudeville is a Charlie' is the title of a remarkably smart and nifty little act put over by Jermon and Mack. They sing and dance and string the two together with a cheery line of patter-chatter that sustains interest and entertains.

The two Loux are lads with barrels, which they use as a foundation for a clever and daring exhibition of acrobatic achievements.

A distinct novelty in vaudeville is offered by Ollie Oden and Joe Holland, who have solved the problem of being original and at the same time incorporating enough dance, and some and impromptu rhyme-making into their act to please the highbrows, the lowbrows and the middle-register brows, too.

Baby Marie Osborn, the talented baby girl star, is featured this week in 'Shadows and Sunshine' a delightfully interesting Pathe picture.

MRS. V. C. CHAPMAN SUES

Secretary of Eagles' Lodge Defendant in Action.

Victor J. Chapman, secretary of the local lodge of Eagles, found fault with his wife's cooking and with her management of the home, it is alleged by Mrs. May D. Chapman, in her suit for divorce, filed in the Circuit Court yesterday.

Mrs. Chapman also declared that her husband refused to stay at home. They were married in Vancouver and there are three children, Reginald Joseph, 12; Anita Clarissa, 7, and Jewel Chapman, 4.

Here inflammation, aching, itching, burning, tired, workstrained, watery eyes. Not a secret remedy. Absolutely harmless, forms on every eyelid. See Doctor's announcement soon to appear in this paper. Bon-Opto prescription filled by all druggists.

H. E. Smith, secretary of the Oregon State Taxpayers' League has sent in the names of Benton Bowers, of Ashland; W. H. Daugherty, of Portland; E. L. Eddy, of Roseburg, and Samuel Moore, of Corvallis, as nominees for appointment as members of the State Lime Board.

The members of this board probably will be named soon after the law becomes effective, May 21. Senator Eddy introduced the lime bill in the Legislature and his friends in Douglas County are making an effort to have him made a member of the board. Besides having the indorsement of the State Taxpayers' League, Mr. Eddy has the support of practically every grange in Douglas County.

ROBBER'S BODY FOUND

JESS HALL'S BROTHER LED INTO BUSHES BY BARK OF DOG.

Stolen Rifle, Taken From Summer Home on Beach, Is Found Beside Corpse of Notorious Highwayman.

TOLEDO, Or., May 10.—(Special.)—The body of Jess Hall, the notorious highwayman, was reported found Wednesday in the brush near Seal Rocks, about 12 miles south of Newport. Sheriff Geer immediately left for the scene.

The violent barking of a dog attracted the attention of Gullilams and Frank Hall, a brother of Jess Hall, who was on a visit in that locality, and together they followed the excited animal into the deep underbrush, where they found the body.

Beside the body was Hall's rifle, a rifle Hall had stolen from a Seal Rocks cottage a few weeks ago, when he, in company with Carl Don Tuel, robbed a number of summer cottages at that place. Frank Hall identified the body as being that of his brother.

Carl Don Tuel, aged 15 years, was committed to the State Reform school by County Judge Miller, upon his apprehension at the time of the Seal Rocks robbery. A reward has been standing for the capture of Jess Hall, but since the arrest of Tuel no definite trace of Hall had been discovered.

20 YEARS GIVEN FOR ROBBERY

Plea of Guilty Made When Some of Loot Was Discovered.

Jess Hall, alias Howard, was committed to the Oregon State Penitentiary for a 20-year term after pleading guilty to highway robbery. He was arrested September 15, 1906, in company with Tim Bernard, after the two had held up automobilists along the Linnton road and relieved them of $196 and a valuable watch.

Hall and Bernard made their "stick-up" the night of September 14. They then crossed the river hurriedly and came back to Portland by way of St. Johns.

They were arrested at Front and Market streets early on the morning of the fifteenth by Detective Captain Bruin and Detective Price. Both put up a stiff battle with the officers and it was found necessary to knock out Hall before their arrest could be effected.

Hall got 20 years when some of the loot was found on him, and Bernard got an indeterminate sentence.

At the time of his arrest Hall was 25 years of age and a mechanic by trade. Bernard was a metal worker and was only 19 at the time of his sentence.

Hall had the reputation of being one of the strongest men in the Oregon penitentiary.

When arrested Hall had a revolver loaded with dum-dum poisoned bullets and about 100 rounds of ammunition.

SCHOOL PREMIUMS FIXED

County Track Meet Will Not Be Part of Fair.

CENTRALIA, Wash., May 10.—(Special.)—A. C. Canterbury, Lewis County Superintendent of Schools, has accepted the premium list for the educational department of the Southwest Washington Fair, which will be held the last week in August. Owing to the time spent by the pupils in home gardening, it has been decided to eliminate the big track meet, in which it was planned for all of the schools of the county to participate.

George Walker, secretary of the fair association, states that the stock exhibit this year will surpass all previous records, and increased exhibits in the horse and poultry departments are also promised.

MORE STOCK TO GRAZE

Increases in Number on Forest Reserves Are Permitted.

BAKER, Or., May 10.—(Special.)—Increases in the number of cattle, horses and sheep to be grazed on the Minam and Whitman forest reserves will bring the total of cattle and horses to 25,740 and sheep to 170,000, according to R. M. Evans, supervisor of the Whitman forest, and Ephraim Barnes, of the Minam forest.

In the Minam reserve, 14,740 cattle and horses will be accommodated and in the Whitman reserve there will be 11,000. The Minam will have 70,000 head of sheep this year and the Whitman 100,000 head. Most of the applications for permits to graze stock have been granted.

GOVERNMENT IN MARKET

Bid Asked on Railroad Ties, Coal and Food Supplies.

Bids on Government supplies are asked in a number of commodities of which the Chamber of Commerce has just been advised. One hundred thousand railroad ties and quantities of men's and boys' clothing are wanted by the Alaska Engineering Commission, while the Navy Department at Seattle asks bids on groceries, canned goods and glasses for air ports and deck lights.

Port Stevens wants 700 tons of coal, and beef and mutton for the ensuing quarter are asked by the depot quartermaster at Seattle. Information about the bids may be had from the Chamber of Commerce.

GIRL, 4, SAVES SISTER, 2

Baby Jerked From Burning Straw and Flames Extinguished.

PENDLETON, Or., May 10.—(Special.)—The 2-year-old daughter of Mr. J. M. J. is living about four miles north of here, was badly burned yesterday, and but for the prompt action of her 4-year-old sister, she would probably have lost her life.

The children, unknown to their father, had followed him into the field where he was burning stubble. The baby fell into a burning pile of straw. She was seized by her sister, who carried her to plowed ground and piled dirt over her. The father was half a mile away at the time.

LUCKY STRIKE cigarette

It's toasted

THINK of a cigarette "served" to you as appetizingly as the hot, buttered toast that comes to your breakfast table.

Well, that's the idea on this new Lucky Strike cigarette: the tobacco—it's toasted. There's a thought to make your mouth water for a new cigarette flavor.

Until we discovered the toasting principle, a good ready-made cigarette from Burley tobacco wasn't possible; flavor wouldn't hold.

Yet there was the big million-man-power affection for Burley—60 million pounds poured from those green, blue and red tin boxes last year.

The old kitchen stove—the toasting fork

So we worked five years—then came the big simple idea of toasting the tobacco to hold the flavor. Now, enjoy a really delicious new cigarette flavor: Lucky Strike—the real Burley cigarette—it's toasted.

How to open the package

Banks Receive Scores of Inquiries About Liberty Loan.

OREGON TO DO ITS SHARE

A. L. Mills Says That, in Spite of Lack of Information, Many Applications Are Being Filed and State May Take $10,000,000.

While Portland's share of the Liberty Loan will not exceed $2,500,000, if it is apportioned on a basis of bank deposits, it is probable that this town will subscribe more than twice that sum.

Portland banks already have taken more than $1,000,000 of the short-term notes issued by the Government to pay the expenses of the war until funds from the Liberty Loan are available. These notes will be convertible into Liberty Bonds at par on July 1.

But in addition to this $1,000,000, individual investors have made informal application for fully $1,000,000 more. It is probable that the Oregon communities outside of Portland will duplicate Portland's subscriptions.

It would not be surprising to see Oregon's subscriptions aggregate anywhere from $7,000,000 to $10,000,000. "I am confident that Portland will do its part in financing the war," said A. L. Mills, president of the First National Bank yesterday. "The substantial subscriptions to the short-term loan indicates the interest and enthusiasm of the banks and investors generally."

In the case of the short-term notes the banks absorbed the state's entire allotment, and more. Part of the subscriptions offered by the banks were rejected because the loan was heavily over-subscribed.

"While we have been unable to offer our patrons any detailed information on the terms of the Liberty Loan we have had scores of inquiries from persons willing to take bonds in amounts varying from $50 to $5000."

"Obviously, finances are a prime essential in carrying on the war successfully, and I believe the people fully realize this. For that reason I look for them to come forward and subscribe quite generously when the bonds formally are placed on sale."

"The United States in War" is the topic for discussion at the regular weekly luncheon of the Oregon Civic League at the Multnomah hotel tomorrow. Professor Joseph Schafer, head of the department of history at the University of Oregon, will be the speaker.

"Food Preparedness" is to be the subject for the following meeting, and after that, on May 23, candidates for Mayor of the city will have an opportunity to tell members of the league what is needed to save the city.

CANADIAN FOLKS COMING

Perhaps the new tie between the United States and Canada, that of bonds, too, so that residents of the rural districts can buy them with a minimum of inconvenience.

Many shrewd investors are preparing to sell industrial securities and buy Liberty bonds. The reported plan of Congress to levy increased taxes on excess profits is expected to cause some heavy unloading of industrial stocks, as reflected in the tone of the market the last few days.

There is little probability, however, that the Government will depart from its time-honored tradition of maintaining municipal bonds free from taxation, and for this reason many authorities look for municipals to continue a favorite form of investment security.

Perhaps the new tie between the United States and Canada, that of ties in a great war, is responsible for the fact that a large number of teachers from Canada are planning to come to Portland for the annual National Education Association Convention in July.

Advance reports from various Canadian provinces are to the effect that very large numbers of teachers will come here for the gathering and others besides teachers will also make the trip. In fact, all reports indicate that an immense number of visitors will be here.

Southern Pacific Pays Dividend.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—Southern Pacific Railroad officials announced today the receipt of advices from New York that the usual quarterly dividend of $1.50 had been declared. The dividend will be payable July 2 to stockholders of record May 21.
