taking here were arranged at a conference yesterday between Adjutant-General George A. White, Mayor Albee, City Auditor Barbur, Sherfff Hurlburt and Martin Pratt, his chief deputy, and County Clerk Beverldge.

Mayor Albee is to appoint at once nine district boards of registration, each board to be composed of a chief, a registration clerk and a licensed physician. Each of these nine boards will have direct supervision of the war census in its respective district.

The districts, in turn, will be subdivided into the regular election precincts, where the men of military age cincts, where the men of military age will appear to register. In the city of Portland the war consus marshals in charge of these precincts will report to their district board of regis-

Central Board to Be Named. These boards, in turn, will report to a central board, also to be appointed by Mayor Albee, and of which he will be chairman. This central board will receive and consolidate the reports of the nine district boards, and in its turn will report to the Adjutant-General.

This arrangement does not prevent

This argangement does not prevent any necessary redistribution of polling places. The war census marshals already appointed in the precincts and their boards of volunteer assistants will serve as arranged.

Each of the nine district boards of registration. registration is to attend to such de-tails as the distribution of registra-tion cards to the precinct war census marshals. Summed up, the duties of these district registration boards in the city will be the same as the duties of the County Registration Board in each county. The reason for dividing the city into districts of 30,000 is that the authorities consider a district of 30,000 persons to be as large as one board can handle properly. All Sheriffs Report.

Adjutant-General White by 6 o'clock last night had heard from the Sheriffs of every one of the 36 countles in the state relative to their preparations for taking the census. The last to report was Sheriff Goodman, of Harney, who telegraphed late in the day that his delay was due to the fact that he had been absent from the state when the first instructions arrived. In all the counties the appointment of war census marshals for the various precincts is progressing, and in several of the counties Sheriffs have reported their organizations so nearly complete that they could take the consus any after receiving the necessary the district.

"These headquarters are advised by Governor Withycombe that the necessary registration cards and other forms are now being received. It is requested that you report the fact to these headquarters immediately upon receipt of such forms, stating whether or not a sufficient supply for your county is on hand.

"Upon receipt by you of the official regu-lations governing the census, all questions re-isting thereto should be dispatched immedi-ntely to these headquarters for any informa-tion or decision that may be required. This, however, should not delay the work of or-ganization.

"At the present time in each county the following steps should have been taken: ing steps should have been taken; pointment of all registrars (war consus ipliation by county registration board of name of every registrar (war census mar-shal), with list of assistants designated by voting precinct for the taking of the war eensus.

"Arrangements completed for the prempt delivery of registration cards, upon their receipt, to all sections of the county, including arrangements for special messengers in cases of remots voting precincts.

"Organization of the county board of registration and establishment of a central head-quarters for keeping and distributing suppliest selection of a central point, preferably the County Clerk's office, for the keeping of records pertaining to the war census.

"It is believed that the functions just enumerated in connection with the war census are the most important of any confronting you at present and to this end the war census work should not be permitted to lag or suffer for want of prompt and effective attention. While it is realized that receipt of the regulations from the Federal Government will greatly assist all concerned in intelligent execution of their duties, at the same time the details of complete organization cannot be permitted to wait.

"In the case of countles where ready mail service does not exist, important reports and requests should be made to theke headquarters by telegraph where absolutely necessary. Sheriffs in such cases are hereby authorized to send night letters, collect, not to exceed 50 words in length, where the urgency of the situation justifies such expense."
