

WAR CENSUS WORK IN PORTLAND BEGUN

C. F. Treloar, Traveling Man, First Rose City Resident to Register.

WHITE ISSUES WARNING

Those Who Will Be Absent From City on Appointed Day Must See That Their Registration Cards Reach Here on Time.

"My age? I dare not try to keep it from you now, I'm 21."

This answer, with variations, was given by more than a score of prospective soldiers yesterday to Deputy County Clerk Schneider. For yesterday saw the beginning in Portland of the war registration under the Federal selective draft act.

Portland residents who will not be in the city on war census day—June 5—or residents of other cities or states who are sojourning in Portland temporarily are those who must register under the conscription law at once.

C. F. Treloar, a traveling man, was the first Portlander to register. A few minutes after Deputy County Clerk Schneider had registration cards at the Courthouse yesterday Treloar affixed his signature to a registration card in order that the Government might call upon him for service if necessary.

Youth Given Courage.

Those who registered at the Courthouse yesterday included both Portland residents and those who are here visiting. A young Montanan was one of the first to register. The greater number, however, included Portland men who will be out of the city on war census day.

"Do you claim exemption?" was asked a strapping young unmarried man.

"Well, I don't know," was his answer after pondering a moment. "I am helping to support my father and mother," he ventured, evidently seeking some method of avoiding military duty.

"But you won't claim exemption on that ground alone, will you?" he was asked.

"No, let it go without exemption," he said finally, and it was noticeable that his shoulders were thrown back just a trifle more as he strode out of the office.

Non-Residents Must Register.

As soon as the young men of Portland wake to the fact that they should register at once if they are to be away from the city on war census day it is expected that the registration department at the Courthouse will be crowded throughout the day.

Non-residents who must register now are required to forward their registration cards to the registrars of their home precincts in time to reach there by war census day. They must also enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope if they desire a certificate of registration from the registration officials.

White Issues Summary.

General White telegraphed instructions yesterday to every County Clerk in the state to proceed at once to register absentees or prospective absentees who apply to them.

He has issued the following resume of important facts to be remembered by the public in connection with the taking of the census.

War Census Day—Tuesday, June 5, as named by President Wilson in his official proclamation.

Who Must Register—Every male resident between the ages of 21 and 30 years, inclusive. This includes aliens as well as Americans, Japanese, Chinese, Italians, Germans, English, Americans and men of any other nationality, who are of the designated ages, must register. Aliens will not be drafted for war duty, of course, but a complete record of them is desired.

Who is Exempt—No male resident between the ages of 21 and 30 years, inclusive, is exempt from registering. He is exempted from military service will be determined later, but first all must register.

Where to Register—Registration must be made in the home precinct of the man registering. Register at your regular voting place.

Hours for Registration—Booths at regular voting places in each precinct will be open on war census day from 7 o'clock A. M. to 9 o'clock P. M. Don't wait until the last moment. Register early.

Registration of Absentees—If you find you will be unavoidably absent from your home precinct on the census day, you should apply at the earliest possible date to the County Clerk of the county in which you may be at the time, either in person or elsewhere, who will fill out your registration card. He will then give you the card, which you must mail to the registrar of your home precinct, in care of the Sheriff of your home county, in time to reach the registrar by war census day. If you live in Portland, or a city of over 20,000 population in another state, mail the card to the registrar in care of the Mayor. But remember, the burden of having your card reach the registrar of your home precinct by war census day is on you.

Registration of the Sick—Men of military age who are too ill to go to the registration booth to register must send a competent person before war census day to the County Clerk to explain the circumstances and secure instructions from the Federal regulations, which these officials will receive from the Government.

Penalties—The penalty for failing to appear to register, or for giving false, misleading or incorrect answers is imprisonment. There is no alternative of a fine.

VETERAN CIGAR MAN DIES

HENRY HAUSSMAN LONG RESIDENT OF PORTLAND.

Clot on Brain Fatal to Man 20 Years Washington Manager for San Francisco House.

Henry Haussman, veteran cigar merchant of Portland and one of the best-known cigar salesmen along the Coast, died yesterday at the Mallory Hotel after an illness covering several months. Death was due to a clot on the brain. He was 61 years of age at the time of his death.

Mr. Haussman came to Portland from San Francisco when a young man. He was employed in a cigar store in San Francisco, his birthplace, before coming to this city, and, on reaching here, established a store on First street. At that time his was considered the best cigar store in Portland.

Subsequently he became the manager of the M. A. Gunst stores in Portland when that company invaded the local field, and for the past 20 years he had been the Washington manager of S. Backman & Co., a San Francisco house. He had made his headquarters in Portland during that time.

He was a charter member of Portland Lodge No. 142, B. P. O. E. He is survived by a widow and one daughter, Marjorie, who only recently returned from New York, where she had been completing a musical education.

The body is at the Holman undertaking parlors, and the funeral will be held from there probably Thursday.

RED CROSS PLAN BROAD

MORE THAN 100 SPEAKERS OBTAINED FOR CAMPAIGN.

Portland Public to Be Educated as to Plan and Scope of Activities of Organization.

A speakers' bureau, under the supervision of which more than a hundred of Portland's best-known men and women will be enlisted for active service, is being organized by the managing committee of the Red Cross fund-raising campaign, which will open vigorously for a whirlwind "drive" immediately following the June election.

It is planned to have street speaking on prominent downtown corners every day at noon and frequently in the evenings, speaking at clubs and business men's luncheons; speaking at public meetings to be held in various theaters at noon and at night; speaking at colleges, public schools and all educational institutions; speaking in the churches and religious organizations; speaking before the parent-teacher circles and the women's clubs and miscellaneous organizations; also important noon-day speeches at the city's factories, shops and other large industrial establishments.

The object of this campaign of public speaking will be to educate the Portland public as to the purposes and the methods of the Red Cross and the splendid work it has always done and is now carrying on in every part of the world; also to inspire patriotic interest and stimulate contributions toward Portland's share of the tremendous fund which is now needed to carry on the great work of the Red Cross, its official relief organization.

ROSEBURG, Or., May 22.—(Special.)—Every available foot of grazing land in the National forests of Southern Oregon will be opened for sheep and cattle, according to an announcement made yesterday by S. C. Bartrum, superintendent of the Roseburg forestry office. Mr. Bartrum estimates that eight sheep can graze on each acre of reserve land in this section of the state, while three acres of the land probably will be necessary properly to care for a beef cow. Cattle and sheep-rangers will receive every consideration at the hands of the Government during the war, according to Mr. Bartrum.

His visit is in connection of a tour recently begun, and which was temporarily terminated at San Francisco by his being called back to Washington, D. C., before he came to the Northwest.

His subject tonight will be his polar explorations and the plans for developing the aviation branch of the military service of the United States.

CLERICAL HELP SCARCE

Government Examinations Fail to Draw as Many as Required.

The scarcity of stenographers for departmental service at Washington continues, despite the attempts made to quickly recruit a force of 5000. At the examinations held each week in this city numbers have applied, but not to the amount desired.

Fifteen applicants took the stenographic examination for clerks in the department yesterday at Room 110, Customhouse, with M. K. Wigton, secretary of the local Civil Service Board, as examiner. Similar examinations have been held for several weeks past, but the total stenographers who have taken the examinations is less than 100.

An examination for clerks in the department yesterday at Washington will be held on May 25, while an examination of junior typewriters, of whom no proficiency in dictation is required, will be held May 24 and 26. The next examination for stenographers will be held May 29. Examinations will be held each Tuesday until further notice.

Practical assistance is given that those who successfully pass the examinations will receive appointments at entrance salaries of from $900 to $1000 a year.
