LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 23.—(Special.)—Bradley W. Hogg toiled through this afternoon, compiling a beautiful six-hit game, and then along toward evening tossed it into the scrap heap with a bad throw in the ninth. It gave Portland the second game of the series, 2 to 1.

Scoring up to that time had been light and infrequent. Helfrich, like Hogg, displayed good form, although not quite as well rounded. Portland picked up its first run in the second, when Borton doubled and scored on a brace of sacrifices. Singles by Meusel, Ellis and Davis and the muff of a thrown ball by Hollocher enabled Los Angeles to tie the score in the sixth. In the ninth Denny Wille beat out a terrifice liner to Kenworthy. Farmer sacrificed and Borton's out nut.

The ball hit Wille as he was sliding back into the base and caromed far back into the base and caromed far into left field. Both men scored and Siglin popped to Davis for the third out. Score:

THIRD-RATERS ARE FASTER

Barrone Last to Give Beating to Young Champion-Benny Leonard Hopes to Win Laurels From Freddie Welsh.

Johnny Ertle, who is technically the older of the bantamweight title by virtue of a foul in the fifth round of his battle with Kid Williams at St. Paul on September 10, 1915, has joined Johnny Coulon on the down grade. Not yet 21 years old, Ertle's quick retro-gression is one of the mysteries of the ing today.

For the last year, in spite of the facthat Ertle has not fought himself out as Bat Nelson or Terry McGovern did, Ertle has been knocked and buffeted around and nowadays almost any third-rate hoxer in his division beats him or holds him even.

If Ertle had traveled the route, there might be some excuse for his slipping. In some circles it is said that Ertle's handlers have been taking him along the gay white way where the lights burn brightly, and if this is the case it is quite easy to see the reason for his being burned out just at the time, when he should be at his best.

Only the other night Kid Barrone, a third-rater of Pittsburg, beat him in a six-round battle.

Ertle's performances in the last year have been most disappointing. He was outpointed by Abe Kaufman in Philadelphia in six rounds. Dick Loadman beat him by a comfortable margin in Baltimore. Pekin Kid Herman (not Kid Herman, of New Orleans), who is a third-rater, held Ertle even in Milwaukee, and now Barrone holds his own with the former terror of the bantamweights. weights.

Leonard feels that he is better than ever and point; to his recent string of knockouts and he wants to cap the climax by winning the championship crown.
