OXMAN MUST FACE OLD CHARGE AGAIN

Oregon Cattleman Remanded to Police Court by Supreme Tribunal.

$1000 BOND IS FURNISHED

Defendant From Custody of San Francisco Sheriff.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 24 .- Frank C. Oxman, witness in a trial at which Thomas J. Mooney was convicted of murder, was freed today from a police court ruling holding him to answer in the Superior Court for attempted sub-ornation of perjury, but must face the ornation of perjury, but must face the same charge in the same Police Court again. The State Supreme Court, acting on a writ of habeas corpus, unanimously decided this today, holding that a previous writ of habeas corpus, asked in the Appellate Court, while Police Court proceedings were pending, should have acted as a stay in such proceedings and they were in such proceedings and they were therefore in error. Touching the allegation by Oxman's counsel of insufficient evidence, the court pronounced that which was sub-mitted to be "overwhelming."

Oxman is accused of seeking to persuade F. E. Rigall, of Grayville, Ill., to testify in Mooney's trial, which arose from a bomb explosion here July 22, 1916, in which ten persons were killed.

Rigall was not in town at that time. He came here in response to letters which Oxman admitted writing and remained until after Oxman testified against Mooney. Rigall did not testify. Following the institution of proceed-ings against Oxman, the trial judge in the Mooney cased saked the Attorney-General to appeal to the State Supreme Court to grant Mooney a new trial. This request had not been acted upon until tonight. Following the decision of the Supreme Court, Oxman was liberated on $1000 ball.

It was said tonight the Police Court hearing would be started tomorrow. Oxman is an Oregon cattleman.

Portland Tuesday for Funeral.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, May 4.—The United States, as a mark of respect to the memory of Senator Harry Lane, suspended business today immediately following the announcement by Senator Chamberlain that his colleague had passed away. The flag over the Senate chamber was half-masted, as was the flag over the House, and will so remain until after the House, and will so remain until after the funeral. As a further mark of respect, the Senate and later the House appointed special committees to attend the funeral at Portland, and this joint committee will start West tomorrow morning, unless Mrs. Lane asks that Congressional participation be omitted. The chaplain of the Senate, in his opening prayer this morning, besought consolation for the family of the late Senator, and immediately after the prayer Senator Chamberlain announced the death of Senator Lane savings.
