JITNEYS SAILING IN TROUBLED SEAS

With Adoption of Carver Franchises and Bonding Measure Rule Must Change.

LONG FIGHT IS CONCLUDED

Mr. Carver Not Ready to Establish Service, as Uncertainty of Election Prevented Him Carrying on His Negotiations.

Adoption by the voters at the election Monday of the franchise grants to Stephen Carver for a city-wide jitney system and adoption at the same time of a measure requiring each jitney operated in Portland to furnish a $2500 nd for the protection of the public in case of accidents, probably sig-nalizes a decided change in the jitney usiness in Portland in the immediate

The franchises granted to Mr. Carver call for scheduled service over fixed routes throughout the city with trans-fers and other privileges. He is now at liberty to start this service, although it was said yesterday by L. M. Lepper, attorney representing Mr. Carver, that he has not mad the necessary arrangements, being uncertain as to the outcome of the election. It Vancouver, is said that Mr. Carver would not attempt to establish his bus service if jitneys were allowed to compete with DAWES STIRS UP BANKERS the same conditions as he will have to meet under his franchises

Vote Regarded Decisive. Although the City Council has taken no action, and probably will take none for a few days, it is expected that the Council will insist on the jitneys living up to the regulations insisted on by the voters. The vote was clear, being over-whelmingly against the granting of free use of the streets to the jitneys and being strongly in favor of bondin all litneys and granting city-wide franchises to Mr. Carver. To grant other jitneys the right to operate on terms more favorable than those imposed on Mr. Carver would be a dis-tinct violation of fair dealing, and it is said that under such conditions Mr. Carver would refuse to establish the rvice. Members of the City Council said yesterday it might take time to work out the details of enforcing the measure requiring the jitneys to fur-nish a protection bond, but it is known that a majority of the Council favors enforcement of the mandate of the voters to the letter, requiring a bond on which persons may actually re-cover. It is said the jitneys plan ask-ing for a bonding system of another

The action of the voters on the Linnton jitney franchise undoubtedly will result in the city putting out of business all jitneys operating to Linnton except those operated under the franchise as obtained by Mr. Carver. It is except those operated under the franchise as obtained by Mr. Carver. It is seriously questioned also whether the Council will tolerate the jitneys on other routes, particularly those to be used by Mr. Carver under the franchises as granted. The general outlook is bad for the Jitney Drivers' Union as a received in the franchises as granted. During the jitney troubles before the Council, Stephen Carver, president of the Portland & Oregon City Rall-way Company, came to the front and agreed to establish city-wide litney service on the Council's terms, giving transfers, scheduled service, protection bonds and service on streets and in districts not now coursed by the street railway lines.

The franchises covering this service were passed by the Council and referred to the voters to prevent the Jitney Drivers' Union from invoking the referendum and thereby holding up the franchises for two years.

In the course of his speech are Dawes said:

"Do you bond men realize what ten billions of dollars means—the sum that must be raised by the Government for the prosecution of the first year of the war? We bankers realize it.

"It means, practically, that the banks have got to piace their whole assets at the government's disposal. It means that five don't, the Government will take them. Do you know what it costs to fire one of the big guns once on the battle line? I'll tell you. It is the equivalent of 50 $100 liberty bonds, and it means that you have got to sell 50 of those $100 bonds for every time the gun is fired! Great Assistance to Producers of Meat Animals.

Because of its strategic point and for the further reason that it is the most important livestock market on the Pacific Coast, Portland has been chosen by the United States Department of Agriculture as one of the live-stock stations for the office of markets, a new department. Begining June 11, a daily market letter will be pub-lished by the Government for distribution among stockgrowers, commission men and livestock merchants through-out the Pacific Coast and Rocky Mountain sections.

Arrangements for the opening of this Government livestock market office were completed yesterday by F. M. Simpson, of the United States Office of Markets, Department of Agriculture C. E. WAR MAKES BOY PROBLEM

Question Will Be Analyzed by N. E. A. in Portland Meeting.

NEW YORK, May 30 .- Questions that the United States' participation in the war has raised regarding American boys and girls will be considered at the meeting of the National Education Association to be held at Portland, Or., July 7 to 14. In this connection an announcement says:

"The president of the association has prepared a programme devoted to those questions. Experience has but slightly prepared teachers and parents for the kind of problems that during the war must be met in the school and the home. The great education body of this country should gather in large numbers at Portland July 7 to 14 to analyze these problems, and, in some measure, be prepared to meet them."
