

BUSY CITIZENS HEAR CALL OF RED CROSS

Committees at Luncheon Today Will Make Final Plans for Big Drive.

BONDS ARE ACCEPTABLE

Frequent Reports of Larger Contributions Will Be Sent to Other Cities in Northwest to Stimulate Interest.

GIVE LOAN BONDS TO THE RED CROSS.

Every patriot who helps his country in two-fold fashion if he or she is a buyer of one or more liberty loan bonds. For he helps his country finance its gigantic share of the burden of the war when he buys the bond, and he can at once turn around and hand the bond to the Red Cross war relief fund as his contribution to that noble cause in lieu of cash subscription.

Accumulating added strength at every step and increasing its scope with every hour, Portland's organization of Red Cross forces is plunging into its work of preliminary preparation with enthusiasm and with the determination to raise every dollar of the $200,000 the city has been called upon to contribute toward the $100,000,000 drive.

The first big rally of the campaign forces will be held today at the Hotel Benson, where the General Chairman W. B. Ayer will entertain the 20 team captains who are to supervise the big drive, together with the chairman of important committees and Red Cross chiefs at luncheon.

City Is Districted. Henry E. Reed, director-general of the Red Cross house-to-house campaign, last night completed the blocking out of the city into districts.

Reports received show the mobilization and allotment of war relief funds for the following counties: Clarke, $12,000; Cowitz, $8000; Lewis, $20,000; Pacific, $11,000; Skamania, $1200; Waiilatpu, $800. Total, $53,800.

er that will be of interest to Portland friends and parishioners. The night that one sees and is a part of, are precious, yet for me it does not take away the feeling of necessity that the civilized world is under to see this thing through at any cost. It has been impressive the past few weeks to see the effect on the French of the recent action of the government of the United States. There is a sense of vision and of camaraderie toward Americans and towards the States that makes one at last proud of being an American citizen, and no longer ashamed. My time expires on the 14th of June, when we shall return to the States as I feel that I can be of more service there than I can here—now that the country has taken her proper place and is beginning to hear her share of the burden. We are still close to the front but in partial repose, in a noisy but for us not very active sector of the present moment but no one knows from day to day what the next day may bring forth. In the meantime some of us are being allowed to do branch work, which takes us for several days at a time into the second line trenches and which is not only able to be of immediate service, but it gives one a chance to see things close to which otherwise an ambulance

PAST COMMANDER'S JEWELS TO BE PRESENT TO 21.

Eminent Commander Morris R. Cox.

Oregon Commandery, No. 1, Knights Templar, will present jewels to 21 of their past commanders tomorrow night and the honor of being the oldest and first commander falls on J. P. Robinson, who served during 1872. Presentations will be made by Sir Knight Robert A. Miller. Because the grand lodge is in session here this week, quite a number of the delegates are expected to be present. The meeting will be followed by a banquet.

driver would never see no matter how close he is to the front—in the trenches, the operation of the battery, the immediate effect of shell fire (one only sees this in spurts while driving and then only at intervals), and most interesting to me, the labors of the French priests, for a large portion of the branch officers are priests or Protestant ministers.

Workers Called Upon to Respond. Men and women of Portland to whom Red Cross cards calling them to serve in the various branches of the work under way in connection with the $200,000 drive are urged to respond this morning at headquarters in the Morgan building, in person if possible, and if that is not feasible, to send in their cards. It is necessary that the general committee get the answers in hand, as it is to map out the work. The response to date has been slow and workers are needed.
