

FESTIVAL BOATING EVENTS RE-STAGED

Big Programme on Willamette Featured With Variety of Contests.

MOTORBOAT RACES THRILL

Miss Thelma Payne Takes First Honors in Fancy Diving and Surf-Board Riding—Cruiser Race Won by Wanderlust.

Rose Festival aquatic events yesterday on the Willamette proved a decided success. Miss Thelma Payne, the clever Multnomah Club mermaid, featured the women's diving events, winning two first places.

In the motorboat regatta the Vogler Boy III churned its way to a victory in the free-for-all class over a six-mile course in a field consisting of the battle-scarred Oregon Wolf IV, Vogler Boy II and the Willamette Bug.

In the rowing events Howard Woodruff won first in the singles and, pairing with Robert Yettick, won the doubles.

In the fancy diving for women Miss Payne received first honors, two of the three judges awarding her the exact number of points. Miss Constance Meyer was awarded second place and Miss Irene Pembroke third.

Miss Payne, Miss Emma Royle and Mrs. Schraeder gave an exhibition of surf-board riding, traveling behind fast boats and running from the Steel bridge to the Morrison-street bridge and back. Miss Payne, towing behind the Matgus, was given first place by the judges after much disputing. The form displayed by the winner was perfect, while the Matgus traveled at a 25-mile-an-hour rate.

Miss Royle, behind the Syph, was given second place and Mrs. Schraeder, riding back of the Betsy B finished third.

The women's 50-yard swim was won by Mrs. George Putnam, of Salem, in the first time of 33 seconds. Miss Thelma Payne was second and Emma Royle third.

George J. Richardson and Bob McCabe gave an exhibition of fancy and high diving. In the first event the youngest diver in the city, being only 11 years old. He performed some of the hardest dives known. Louis Balbach, Edward A. Beckwith and Kuehn finished the fancy diving in the order named. The dives consisting of running from dive, back dive, front gainer, half-gainer, one and one-half, jack-knife and full twist.

The men's 50-yard race was won by Al Mattern and Ed. Neer, in 19 seconds. Myron Wilsey third.

The women's fancy diving exhibition had Thelma Payne, Irene Pembroke, Virginia Pembroke, Mrs. Constance Meyer, Grace Berkeley and Mrs. J. L. Miller.

A fast 250-yard relay race was won by a team captained by Al Mattern and the swimmers were Louis Kuehn, Jeff Harbke, George Gould and Emil Vojaneky. Captain Mattern led the following swimmers on his losing side: G. W. Smith, Locke Webster, R. B. Stinson and Edward Reeves.

The single 250-yard race was won by Howard Woodruff, with Robert Yettick second. The doubles were won by Woodruff and Fred Newell, while Robert Yettick and Harry Humphries rowed second.

The four-oared race was captured by William Gregory and his crew consisting of George Breeding, Al Foster and William Gregory. The losing shell had Reginald Prudeaux, stroke; Ben Kiski, Carl Praullinger and Arthur A. Allen.

The Vogler Boy III showed her heels to the Oregon Wolf IV in the regatta. The Vogler Boy III went over the six-mile course in 9:35, while the Oregon Wolf IV finished in 9:37. The Vogler Boy II finished in third place in 11:14, while the Willamette Bug dropped out before the race was completed.

The 16-foot speed boat race was won by the Vogler Boy II over a six-mile course, in 11 minutes and 35 seconds. The Willamette Bug came in second and the Oregon Wolf IV finished third.

The runabout handicap race was won by the Neverin from a field of ten starters. The thistle came in second and the Mima Ross third. The Wawago, Lonely, Zophur, Gee Whiz, Matgus, All-ty-mie II and the Doughnut finished in the order named.

A special runabout scratch race was staged, with the Wawago crossing the finishing line first, closely followed by the Doughnut and the Neverin III.

The cruiser race was won by the Wanderlust, which had a hand in winning this event whenever staged. The actual running time of the winner was seven minutes, five seconds. Keno ran second in 12:53, but was handicapped too heavily. The C. Wilf finished fourth, followed by the Komar and Peggy in fifth and sixth place.

Collator Wheeler got more than his share of the canoe-paddling honors by winning the single, double and triple canoes. Lawrence Edwards, and William Edwards, and then paddling stern for the winners in the four-paddle canoe race. The single canoe race was won by Collator Wheeler from Lawrence Edwards, and the double events saw these two huskies win from Waldomero Buckley and Herbert Oliver.

The four-paddle canoe race brought out a heavyweight four in Arthur A. Allen, Ben Kiski, Al Foster and Bernard Breeding. They were barely beaten by Collator Wheeler, Lawrence Edwards, Herbert Oliver and Harry Humphries. The boat containing Robert Yettick, Waldomero Buckley, Howard Woodruff and William Gregory finished third.

The Harvey W. Scott, the patrol boat of the river, deserves credit for the excellent way in which it kept the courses clear and helped in the events on scheduled time. Lou Woodruff and his launch Windemut were at the service of the contestants and officials all during the regatta. Woodruff kept busy but always came back smiling and wanting to do more. George W. Kendall, Jack Cody, L. M. Myers and Arthur A. Allen, helped to make the regatta the success it was.

The big spectacle of the day was the running fight between the "submarine U-23" and the "submarine chaser," which were the Gee Whiz, Vogler Boy II, and the Willamette Bug. These craft had guns, and the "submarine" and when the submarine hoisted its flag they opened fire on her. Starting at the Morrison-street bridge they pursued her to the Jones' float at the foot of Everett street, where amid the strains of "The Star-Spangled Banner," the U-23 blew up and sank, the submarine chaser rescuing her pilot.

SEALS REITERATE DEMANDS

Thirteen Tossers Notify Berry They Will Not Accept Cuts.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13.—Thirteen players of the San Francisco team of the Pacific Coast Baseball League again notified President W. H. Berry today that they would not stand any reduction in their salaries. This action followed a meeting of the men to reply to Berry's ultimatum that certain cuts in the payroll were imperative because of poor business and that the men could take less money or have their releases.

Berry immediately went into conference with Allan T. Baum, president of the league, to canvass the situation in the other teams before determining on definite action.

Following another conference with the 13 Seals, President Berry said tonight that the situation remained unchanged.

Both sides, it was said, are marking time and awaiting developments.

President Berry said: "I have talked with my players individually and I think I am correct in saying that at least seven are willing to accept a reduction in salaries and to leave the league in this crisis."

Berry said he would not cut the pay of one man until he reduced all of them. Any man who refused to co-operate, he said, first will have an opportunity to make a trade for himself, and if he fails then the league president will endeavor to trade him for a man who will work for less money.

Berry said he had a padlock ready to put on Recreation Park gate in event the players refused to accept his terms.

CASH PRIZES AND MEDALS OFFERED

Attractive Stakes for Professional Golfers Assured by Association.

TOURNAMENT IS JUNE 25-30

Money Usually Devoted to Trophies and Other Prizes for Amateurs to Be Given to Red Cross.

While approximately $1200 usually devoted to trophy cups and other prizes for the Pacific Northwest Golf championships this year will be given to the Red Cross fund, the professional cash prizes for the professional event have been offered by the association.

The Northwest patriotic tourney is scheduled to be held in Portland June 25-30, and C. H. Davis, Jr., president of the association, yesterday took steps to refute a report current in California that professional golfers have no opportunity to reimburse themselves for the cost of the trip to Portland.

"Our statement in Sunday's edition about there being no cash prizes for the championship is in error," said President Davis in a telegram to one of the San Francisco newspapers.

"The association allows a total of $410 in cash besides gold and silver medals. Local people have added sums so that the open championship prizes are: $225 first prize, $150 second, $100 third, $50 fourth and $25 fifth. Please God so what you can to correct the error."

California Professionals Expected. "The professionals make their livelihood teaching golf on the links and this open tournament is a sort of annual day for them," said President Davis later discussing the matter.

"We expect quite a number of California professionals for the competition, besides a score from the various clubs of the Pacific Northwest."

The open event, open to all professionals and amateurs, is to be 72 holes, played in four days, starting Friday, June 29, and 36 holes on Saturday, June 30. If an amateur wins the tournament, he will be given the title of "Amateur Champion" and will be permitted to accept money. The "kale" goes to the professionals in their order of rank.

J. Martin Watson Not to Play. When the "pro" tee off that Friday forenoon one familiar standby will be missed by local enthusiasts, J. Martin Watson, professional at Waverly. Mr. Watson applied himself to his practicing couple of months ago with the avowed intention of going after the grand prize. Just when he was rounding into top form, with cards in the low 70s a matter of daily occurrence, appendicitis struck suddenly and he was forced to undergo an operation.

"I will not be able to swing a club for some time," said the convalescent yesterday, steadying himself on a big cane. "I'm glad to be out and around, however, so as to help the committee with the tournament as much as possible. It is a great disappointment to me not to be able to enter the open."

Anton Frudin, caddy master at Waverly, is afraid his duties may also prevent his entry in the open tournament. Anton negotiated the first nine holes in 34 a few afternoons ago.

Tono Seeks Ball Players. The Tono ball club, of Tono, Wash., is in need of a couple of infielders and outfielders. Work is given at $25 a week and better for eight hours work. Tono will play the Harriman ball club, of Portland, next Sunday.

VANCOUVER, Wash., June 13.—(Special.)—Everyone should patronize home industries, in the opinion of Washington Grange, which adopted a resolution at its last meeting to urge all to buy products produced in the state.

The Grange also urged the purchase of goods from local mills, cheese factories, woolen mills, a cannery, condensors, and many other local industries, that the Grange members will support when possible.

CATARRH IS DANGEROUS

You Must Stamp It Out. Realize that Catarrh is dangerous. Face the truth squarely that it can cause death—but you can be relieved. See what Mrs. Henry Wray, R. F. D. No. 1, Wentville, Mo., says about how she was relieved of Catarrh through the use of S. S. S.

"I am glad to say that I have never needed to take any more medicine, as I have never had a recurrence of the Catarrh, thanks to S. S. S. I highly recommend it."

It is an undoubted fact that the carelessness in which so many sufferers from Catarrh regard this troublesome disease in its early stages is a prominent reason for its onward ravages. If they would take hold of it when it is nothing more than a supposed cold in the head, paring and astringent relief would be a simple matter.

You must treat catarrh seriously. Catarrh is not merely an inflammation of the tissues of the head and throat, as the symptom of ringing noises in the ears, mucus dropping back into the throat, continual hawking, etc., would seem to indicate. It is a blood disease; it affects the entire circulation.

SALEM, Or., June 13.—(Special.)—John Taft, chairman of the committee on Industries and Manufactures of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, has written to the members of the State Land Board urging that the Board take prompt action as is deemed proper in assisting in the development of kelp beds on the Pacific Coast between the mouth of the Umpqua River and Tillamook Bay.

E. M. and E. V. Sherlock have asked for 40-24 P. lease on beds extending 45 miles north and 45 miles south of the Yaquina River. The Land Board has the matter under investigation and Mr. Sherlock has been notified to be at the next regular meeting to set out further his proposal for development of the beds.

An oil painting which was taken from the Cleaver home Monday was found and the boy returned to the boy, the Deputy Sheriff says.

Catarrh is due to the presence of Catarrh Germs in the blood. The liver, kidneys and bowels frequently become torpid and dull in their action and, instead of carrying off the refuse and waste of the body, leave it to ferment in the system. This is taken up by the blood and, through its circulation, distributed to all parts of the system.

FOOD BILL PLAN UPHELD

STATE GRANGE VOTES UNANIMOUSLY FOR MEASURE. Delegates at Astoria Make Trip Over Bar or Enjoy Clam Chowder Dinner at Seaside.

ASTORIA, Or., June 13.—(Special.)—The greater portion of today was consumed by the delegates to the State Grange convention in sightseeing trips. There was, however, a short business session this morning at which the food control bill now pending before Congress was approved by an unanimous vote.

Ray McKelg, master of the North Dakota State Grange, addressed the convention, explaining in detail the organization and management of the Non-Partisan League, by which farmers of North Dakota were able to secure control of the state government.

This morning a number of delegates made a trip to the mouth of the river and across the bar on a lighthouse tender. This afternoon fully 300 of the grange members were taken on an automobile trip to Seaside, where they were entertained at a clam chowder luncheon served by the Seaside A. C. Club.

The evening session was devoted principally to listening to an address by Mrs. Mimi Bonds to state lecturer, her topic being how to promote interest in the local grange work. At the evening session a telegram was read from U. S. Senator Charles L. McNary, saying:

"I stand ready to assist the Oregon State Grange, of which I am a member, in any legislation it may desire, having for its purpose the betterment of Oregon."
