OREGON RESPONDS TO RED CROSS CALL

Whole State Is Thinking About, Working for and Giving to the Great Cause.

FIRST REPORTS GOOD NEWS

Sherman County Overpledged in Advance-Union County Paid Up in Full on Sunday-Pilot Rock Raised Quota in 2 Hours.

WATCHWORD FOR CONTRIBU-TORS IS "READY!"

Contributors to the Red Cross drive, who will be visited by the solicitors at any moment from now on are urged to be ready to give. Do not ask the solicitor to "see me tomorrow." The cause is vital and the time is short.

No one is exempt from the call to the colors that President Wilson issued when he appealed to the Nation to give $100,000,000 this week as the war emer gency service fund of the Red Cross. State Red Cross campaign committees are taking the thought of no exemp tions literally.

Early reports at state campaign headquarters in the Morgan building show that Oregon is thinking Red Cross, working for the Red Cross, giving to the Red Cross. If there is a festival or a street parade or community exhibit it is given in the name of the Red Cross and the proceeds go toward the Oregon fund.

ward the Oregon fund.

Sherman County's apportionment was $15,000 and $12,000 hid been pledged in Sherman County before Red Cross week formally began yesterday morning. The first message that reached the state office yesterday was from Union, announcing that the $1500 assigned that community had not only been subnouncing that the $1500 assigned that community had not only been subscribed, but paid by Sunday and that the committee had just made a beginning. A long-distance telephone message yesterday evening declared that Pilot Rock's apportionment of $1500 had been raised in two hours.

Everyone to Be Called Upon The cowboy riding range in Harney County, the salmon fisherman down near the mouth of the Columbia, the dairyman in Coos County, the miner in Baker, the fruitgrower in Hood River Valley, the Willamette Valley farmer, the Eastern Cruwon rangher, workers, the Eastern Oregon rancher, workers, merchants, professional men, housewives, everywhere—all will be reached by determined campaign committee members before the week is ever. No one will have an excuse for saying, "I didn't give, because no one called on me."

It is suggested, however, that, in view of the vast extent of territory to be covered and the thousands of individual calls that must be made, those who intend to give will greatly aid the committees by making their contributions as large as they can and sending the amounts in.

nding the amounts in. State Campaign Manager L. G. Nichols, completing a most conservative estimate of the total that should be received from Oregon committees outside Portland, announced yesterday evening that the minimum amount should be $147,600, Oregon, outside Portland, has been asked to raise $400,000 for the Red Cross fund.

Portland Calls for Help.

Portland Calls for Help.

The state committee enlarged its territory yesterday. The original assignment was "All of Oregon outside Multinomah County." When the Portland committee found that its hands would be full in handling the multitude of details connected with the local campaign, it sent out a call for help, and the state committee will assume the additional duty of canvassing all of Multinomah County outside Portland. Special representatives will be sent to each town and rural community in
