Gregory and himself, appointed as a committee by the West Coast Lumber men's Association on the distribution among the mills of the lumber ordered by the War Department, said today that they are telephoning orders to the mills now and that it will be rolling into the cantonment all this week. An order amounting to approximately a quarter of a million feet was received today.

Advices from Washington, D. C., to-day said it was more than likely that a patent roofing instead of shingles would be used at the camp and that as Portland firm. Lack of labor is said to have been the cause of the selection of the patent roofing. The West Coast Lumbermen's Association is still endeavoring to have the War Department change its ruling.

At the office of the Anaconda Copper Company it was said today that if the engineers quit work the pumps would be pulled out of the mines and the mines flooded. Even if the engineers do not strike it is expected that the mines flooded. Even if the engineers do not strike it is expected that the mines will be forced to shut down because of a lacy of tools, the tool sharpeners, who are members of the blacksmiths' union, having quit work. The force of miners at work was about 10 per cent of the normal working force.

The mill and smeltermen employed at two ore reduction mills and one smelter in Butte also struck today. They have become members of the Metal Mine Workers' Union, having
