

GENERAL PERSHING TALKS CAMP PLANS

Remainder of First Expeditionary Force Expected at Headquarters Within Week.

GOOD BEHAVIOR IS URGED

Address to American Soldiers Emphasizes Valor of French Fighting Men and Need of Courtesy Toward Their Families.

PARIS, July 8.—Major-General John J. Pershing, commander of the American forces in France, spent the day conferring with his staff concerning plans for the permanent training camp in France and American participation at the fighting front.

General Pershing expected to confer this week with Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig, the British commander, but because of the pressure of other business he was compelled to send a member of his staff to British headquarters.

Address to Troops Issued. Major General Pershing has issued the following general order to his troops:

"For the first time in history an American army finds itself in European territory. The good name of the United States and the maintenance of cordial relations require the perfect deportment of each member of this command.

"It is of the gravest importance that soldiers of the American Army shall at all times treat the French people, and especially the women, with the greatest courtesy and consideration.

Progress of the War.

NORTH of the Aisne the French again have checked the German crown prince in an effort to regain the line of the Chemin Des Dames. Attacking on four sectors along a front of seven and a half miles from north of the Laffaux mill to the Froimont farm, the Germans were met by determined resistance on the part of the French and, sustaining heavy losses, were repulsed completely except on the eastern end of the line between Boves and Froimont farm.

East of Cerny, on the eastern end of the Aisne front, General Petain's men, in attack, were able to enlarge the ground captured on July 1, near Allies. On the left bank of the Meuse, north-east of Verdun, the French took the offensive and carried three strong salients. German efforts to dislodge the French were fruitless.

The artillery and infantry fighting in Eastern Galicia is spreading. The Russians' attacking front now has lengthened to 20 miles and fighting is in progress around Halicz, the key to Lemberg, capital of Galicia.

German efforts to dislodge the Russians from positions gained at Godov and Konluchy a week ago have been repulsed by General Brusiloff's men.

Attacks some miles to the north and around Brzezany also failed. At Stanislau, south of Halicz, and near Huta, south of Stanislau, the Russians have made attacks, but according to Berlin, resulted in no gain of ground.

On the British front in France there have been several small raids, but no infantry engagements of importance. In the air, however, there has been great activity. British airmen broke up German airplane squadrons and carried out successful raids against German airbases.

DRAFT BASES ARE FIXED

ESTIMATES OF POPULATION OF NORTHWEST CITIES GIVEN. Portland Figures Are 204,862, While Number for State of Oregon Is 675,092.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, July 8.—According to the latest guess of the Census Bureau, and this guess will be used by the War Department in determining the quotas of the several states under the Army draft law, there has been a falling off in population in every large city in the Northwest except Seattle, although the population of both Oregon and Washington is now estimated to exceed slightly the population in 1910, when actual count was made.

These Census Bureau estimates give Portland a population of 204,862 as against 207,214 in 1910. Oregon's total population, according to revised estimates, is 675,092 as against 672,764 in 1910. Washington's total population is estimated now to be 1,156,855 as against 1,140,000.

It is estimated Seattle has 275,293 population today as against 237,194 in 1910, but in the case of Seattle the Census Bureau finds its earlier estimates were wrong, as it calculated last January that Seattle had 320,000 inhabitants. Spokane, which in 1910 had only 104,452 population, is now estimated to have but 83,251, and Tacoma, which in 1910 had 83,743, is today estimated to have 70,000 flat.

These figures may form the basis of the official apportionment under the draft law.

U-BOATS FOLLOW LINER

MINNESOTA'S PURSER SAYS ENEMY SUBMARINES WERE SIGHTED.

Vessel Is Convoys to England and Back by Two Destroyers—Members of Crew on Alert.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—Hostile submarines lurked in the path of the liner Minnesota when she sailed from the Atlantic port for England, and again as she returned, according to a letter received here from H. H. Harris, purser. The Minnesota is said by shipping men to be the largest freighter afloat, and was recently transferred from the Pacific to the Atlantic trade, after extensive repairs.

The purser's letter said that the Minnesota was convoyed across and back by two United States destroyers, and took the added precaution of sending out an air scout before leaving port, but despite these safeguards a perilous voyage was sighted, and fired upon during the return trip.

The members of the crew slept in their clothes for three days of the return trip, and in addition to repelling the submarine, they halted and boarded a vessel of unusual appearance which they believed was a German raider, but found that their suspicions were incorrect.

TINOCO GIVES UP HOPE

DE FACTO PRESIDENT OF COSTA RICA RECALLS ENVOY.

State Department Consistently Refuses to Recognize New Government Because of Revolution.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Despairing of gaining recognition from the United States, the de facto Tinoco government of Costa Rica has directed its envoy, Fernandez Guardia, to return to San Jose.

Guardia has been here since last April, knocking vainly at the door of the State Department and presenting arguments which have met with no response, in an effort to establish the legality of his government. His briefs set out the conditions under which President Tinoco came into office last February as the result of a revolution against his predecessor, who retired to shelter of the American legation and thence to an American warship without any show of resistance.

The State Department has refused to recognize the de facto government in pursuance of its general policy of discouraging revolutions based upon violence and not upon the deliberately expressed will of a majority of the people of the country affected.

In the absence of diplomatic relations probably will follow the withdrawal of Guardia.

PROHIBITION ISSUE DELAYS CONGRESS

Senate Leaders Hope to Pass Administration Food Control Bill This Week.

RIVERS BILL FORMULATED

Final Action Upon the First Administration Food Bill, for a National Food Survey and Production Stimulation, also is delayed by the controversy over the food control measure.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—The prohibition issue in Congress may cause a general revision of legislative plans and indefinitely prolong the war session.

Having disposed of the prohibition issue for the time being, the Senate tomorrow will resume consideration of another feature of the Administration food control bill, which the leaders expect to pass this week, even if closure is necessary. Tomorrow, Senator Chamberlain, in charge of the bill, will try for a unanimous consent agreement for a final vote Thursday.

The House will consider the Administration trading-with-the-enemy bill, while a committee begins hearings on the new Administration measure enlarging the aviation service.

Senate leaders and the Senate Interstate commerce committee, which will meet tomorrow for that purpose, plan amendments extending Government control over coal. Many Senators favor amendments insuring Federal authority to regulate or actually to fix prices.

Final action upon the first Administration food bill, for a National food survey and production stimulation, also is delayed by the controversy over the food control measure.

Tomorrow the rivers and harbors appropriation bill, carrying about $27,000,000 probably will be reported by the Senate commerce committee to be debated while the food control bill is in conference.

EDITORIAL MEETING

Campaign for Lasting Peace to Be Discussed.

PROBLEMS OF PAPERS UP

New Conditions Brought by War to Be Theme—Plan of Home for Retired Editors and Writers to Be Considered.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 8.—New conditions which the publisher has been compelled to meet because of the handling of the campaign, and which has been discussed at the four-day convention of the National Editorial Association which opened here yesterday, several hundred delegates, most of whom are editors of weekly or small daily newspapers, will represent various sections of the United States at the meeting.

Plans for an excursion into Western Canada for the purpose of effecting closer co-operation with Canadian publishers have been abandoned in consideration of the joint policy of the Government and railroad in discouraging unnecessary demands on railroad equipment.

The question of solidifying the press and other forces in a campaign for a lasting world-wide peace after the conclusion of the war will be taken up at the convention.

Men will be selected to attend a world-wide gathering of newspaper men who will in turn impress upon their brethren throughout the world the obligations of civilization in bringing about the triumph of democracy," declared H. C. Hotelling, president, in announcing the proposal.

Increased cost of publishing the country newspaper will be discussed from all angles, and the effort will be made to place the convention on record as opposed to small papers giving free political advertising.

The annual address by President E. H. Tomlinson, Morristown, N. J., will be followed by an address by Walter Williams, dean of the school of journalism, University of Missouri.

The programme for the second day includes many addresses and at the evening session committee reports will be submitted, including one relating to a home for retired editors, writers and publishers.

The sessions of Wednesday will be devoted principally to reading of reports, general discussions and addresses.

The annual election of officers on Thursday morning will conclude the business of the convention and the following two days will be devoted to visiting state institutions and an excursion up the Minnesota River.

Hot Springs, Ark., and Miami, Fla., already have begun lively campaigns for the next annual meeting. The Governor of Arkansas and the Mayor of Little Rock and Hot Springs will head a delegation to the convention of 50 Arkansas editors.

RETALIATION IS ASKED

ENVOY PRESENTS REPORTS TO U. S. OF DEPORTATION OF BELGIANS.

German Vents Wrath on Prominent Men in Reply to Alleged Inhuman Treatment of Teutons.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Presentation to the State Department yesterday by Belgian Minister de Cartier of a report on the deportation by German officials of 29 prominent Belgians in retaliation for alleged inhuman treatment of German civilian prisoners taken in German Southwest Africa aroused discussion in official and diplomatic circles of the policy of the allies inflicting retaliatory punishment on Germans.

Thousands of German civilians, it was pointed out, are in allied territories and it would be easy to mete out to them the same punishment accorded Belgian captives in an effort to compel Germany to respect rights due Belgian civilians by international law and the laws of humanity.

Thus far no retaliatory steps have been taken toward allied enemies of the allies, but continued illegal acts by Germany, it is generally believed, may cause them to adopt severe measures.
