New Thought Leaders Here.—The Rev. J. C. F. Grumbine and Mrs. Grumbine, of Cleveland, O., are in Fortland to attend a convention at the Villa St. Clara and expect to remain and organizes a New Though Center here. Dr. Grumbine considers obtaining a site on Council Crest for the establishment of a college. Dr. Grumbine is making his headquarters at present in Cleveland, O., where he is president of the College of Divine Sciences. He is one of the international lecturers and organizers of the New Thought Alliance, at Washington, D. C.

Ex-Queen Thelma Gets Post.—Miss Thelma Hollingsworth, who was "Queen Thelma" of the Rose Festival here three years ago, has been appointed chief clerk in the local office of the Pennsylvania Railroad system, succeeding T. M. Bennett, who has enlisted in Company E, of the Eighth regiment Reserve Engineers, now training at American Lake. Miss Hollingsworth was filing clerk in the freight claim department of the O, W. R. & N Company for several years and has made a careful study of railroad work in general.

Company F.

Thirty-six members of Company F, Eighth Engineers, now training at American Lake, visited in Portland yesterday. Among them were:

- irst-Sergeant Winding, Sergeant Tomlinson, Sergeant Foster, Corporal Evans, and Privates Gentry, Crowe, G. E. Mead, S. A. Mead, Crawford, Bolton, C. F. Thompson, Victor Porter, Whitman, Clock, Alter, Chase, Malagamba, Frank W. Barton.

Coming down from American Lake boys serenaded most of the towns passed with the regimental song, Part of it goes thus to the tune of "Good Od Summer Time":

"We don't belong to the rank and file, But some one holds us dear.

BUFF JONES.

The first contingent of cowboys, cowgirls and stock for the Portland Round-up arrived in the city yesterday and Multnomah Field will soon begin to look like a bit of genuine old Wild West. Manager Clarence Adams, who had charge of the Albany Round-up on the Fourth, is with the riders and horses who were in the contests there. Among those who will arrive in the city today are Ollie Osborn, world-famous woman trick rider; George Fietcher (Niger George), one of the greatest of Round-up stars; Bille Clifford, who does the thrilling drunken ride, and little Prairie Mary, known as the youngest girl trick rider; Bertha Blancet, who is familiar to everyone who has visited the Pendleton Round-ups; Buff Jones, Broncho Bob Hall, Shorty Hall, Goldie Campbell, the famous "double" of Helen Helmes, the motion picture star; Silver Tip and about a score of Indians.

Tracey Lene, the cowboy poet and singer, also accompanies the contingent and will be heard on the grounds and probably around the streets next week. The Round-up opens Wednesday afternoon.

A peach of an act is that of Chadwick and Taylor, two youthful colored entertainers, who really entertain. They dance well and sing in an exceptionally melodious way, with pienty of pep and ginger in all they do. The Robey trio are two clever men and a fascinating girl who sing and dance delightfully. Their comedy interchange is joyous, too.
