

MUSICAL SERVICE
TREAT TO VISITORS

Patriotic and Religious Songs Sung With Fervor by Immense Audience.

ADDRESS BRINGS APPLAUSE

President Aley Declares Youth of America Is in Safe Hands Today and Great Army of Teachers Is Pledged to Service.

Visiting delegates of the National Education Association, with many Portland residents, filled the new public Auditorium yesterday afternoon almost to its capacity at the special musical service for Education Sunday.

And when, after the Auditorium orchestra, directed by Harold Bayley, had given two or three excellent selections, they arose to sing "America," that gathering tested the stability of the structure with their patriotic volume.

W. H. Boyer, who directed the song service, in which the festival chorus participated, protested that even more vigor could be stressed into the rendition.
Whereat all smiled tolerantly and attempted to follow. Several songs were sung in grand chorus—"Oh, Beautiful for Spacious Skies," "Faith of Our Fathers," and "Onward, Christian Soldiers."

H. W. Stone, President.
The service was presided over by
H. W. Stone, with Mayor Baker, President
Aley, of the National Education Association; Mrs. Aley, Secretary
Springer, of the National Education Association; Bishop Sumner and Rev.
Joshua Stanfield participating.

In offering the opening prayer Bishop Sumner petitioned that the educators assembled now in Portland might go forward with the work of enlightenment, and that they might be inspired to lend new vigor to those lessons of patriotism and high thought which are essential to the training of children.
And he prayed that victory may come to the Nation's arms in the strife for democracy, and that wars may cease.

Unusual in its angle of appeal, and convincingly eloquent was the brief address by Robert J. Aley, president of the National Education Association. It concerned the rendering of tribute to Caesar, with a modern and close-to-home application.

"I read an interesting story in an old book," said he, "the story of a great teacher, a teacher who taught a good many centuries ago. He did not please everyone, in his day."

Debt to Country Topic.
Simply, but with graphic detail, President Aley described the visit of the questioner, who brought their answer to that teacher with the query,
"Master, is it right to take tribute to Caesar?"

Came the counter query: "Whose image or superscription is this?" as the master considered the coin. They answered, "Caesar's."
"And then came that memorable
reply," said President Aley, "Render unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's, and unto God the things which are God's."

The debt that true patriots owe to their nation, and the debt which the fact, is Caesar's debt, for to their country they are obligated for a haven, for opportunity, for protection, for the enjoyment of freedom, for justice, and for participation in justice. He also declared that it is impossible to enumerate the debts of gratitude which are owed to Caesar, or one's country.

How might they be paid? By loyalty, he declared. Yet within the past few months had appeared the hypocrites who, accepting America's protection and blessings, had withheld tribute and had pledged their loyalty to the land that they were to say that this condition was changing for the better in the crucible of actual war.

Hypocrisy to Be Minus Signs.
"And we verily believe that in a few months," declared President Aley,
"there will not be left in this great land of liberty a single sign of hypocrites, they will only be minus signs."

He spoke of the readiness with which the workers of all classes had responded to the call for service, which implied increased industry at home as well as on the battle line if the war is to be won, and asserted that the loyalty of the people had been proved beyond mistake.

Conservation in every way possible constitutes the payment to Caesar, he continued, hazarding the belief that Americans throw into the dust of every year enough to sustain half of the country's population.

"We have come to realize," he exclaimed, "that the man who will not pay his debt to Caesar is the man who will not succeed in paying his debt to God."

Faith in Teachers Expressed.
"The teachers are going to see to it that our children know what they owe to Caesar and to God," said President Aley, with deep feeling. "And that they know how to pay the debt and pay it in full. With this army of earnest men and women willing to assume any and all the responsibility that the Government lays upon them, the future of the country is secure."

The musical services were marked by an agreeable informality, and by the enthusiasm of the delegates for the vocal numbers given by the quartet of the First Presbyterian Church and the selections of the orchestra. President Aley was repeatedly applauded in the course of his remarks, and W. H. Boyer's camaraderie with the audience chorus admitted him at once into their friendship.

Following the benediction, pronounced by Dr. Stanfield, many of the delegates attended the reception at St.
Mary's Academy and College.

Why You Should Never Pare a Corn

If you are troubled with corns or calluses, do not try to pare them. Statistics show that many deaths have occurred from this seemingly innocent practice of paring corns.

KEY GIVEN TO ALL MEETINGS OF NATIONAL EDUCATION ASSOCIATION AND AFFILIATED ORGANIZATIONS.

The N. E. A. programme is complex, comprising numerous meetings of the association, as well as many meetings of affiliated organizations. By dint of considerable application the seeker after information is able to wade through that which is desired from the official programme, which, though admirably assembled, is naturally of formidable size and ramification.

The following table, prepared by the publicity bureau of the association, summarizes the various meetings, both of the N. E. A. and affiliated organizations, giving the meeting place, the time, whether morning, afternoon or evening, and whether the meeting is at luncheon or dinner.

Table with columns: NAME, PLACE, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday. Lists various meetings like General Council, Elementary, Higher, Normal, Vocational, Music, Business, Physical, School Administration, etc.

Key—M, morning; A, afternoon; E, evening; L, luncheon; D, dinner.

Men May Give Way at This Election—Roses Enjoyed.

Miss Eleanor S. Cohen, of Baltimore, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Benjamin I. Cohen, of 708 Gilliam street.

Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Wells, of West Woodburn, entertained recently for the pleasure of their piece, Miss Ruby Wells, of Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Hixcox, Miss Florence and Master Herbert Hixcox, have gone to Seaside for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Fox and his family have retired from politics for this convention, and there is every indication that the women delegates will be permitted to name their own candidates.

The candidacy issue largely will be settled today in the state headquarters building, which are to be held at 5 o'clock in the Multnomah, for the nomination of candidates for appointment of the committee of nominations. Each delegate will be instructed as to the desires of the state members.

Nominations Due Thursday.
And the committee on nominations will assemble in the tea garden at the Multnomah, this morning, July 12, at 9 o'clock. It is forecast that the fateful recommendations of this committee will be adhered to without dissent at the annual meeting of active members for the election, to be held in the Auditorium on Friday morning, at 11 o'clock.

Delegates have been enthusiastic over the plentiful and beauty of Oregon's roses and wild flowers, and are eagerly awaiting the exhibit of wild flowers of Oregon and Portland roses, which will open today in Room B, the Public Auditorium. Convention delegates have not lacked for tributes of flowers since their arrival, as the local committees have held out to them a choice and constant supply.

As a business day, compared with those which follow, today is "light." And, even at that, it is rife with important assemblies. The general session opens at the Auditorium at 2 o'clock, and convenes again at 7 o'clock. The National Council holds its business meeting at the Multnomah in the forenoon, while the annual meeting of directors also is held there in the forenoon.

Luncheon to Meet President.
College alumnae and Mills College graduates are to meet with President Reinhardt, of Mills College, from 4 to 5 o'clock today, at the home of Mrs. Ekin Starrett, 729 Sherwood Drive.

A community song fest will be held at the foot of the Statue of Liberty in the First Blocks tonight, immediately following the general session of the National Education Association in the Auditorium. The Oregon Regimental Band will furnish a concert, beginning at 9 o'clock, and lead the community singing. The community song fest will begin about 9:30 and continue for an hour. The public and all visiting delegates to the National Education Association are invited.

The N. E. A. likes Portland, and says so with charming frankness and many neat compliments. It is positive that

NO HOSPITALITY IN ITS 55 YEARS OF EXPERIENCE HAS EVER BEEN MORE CORDIAL AND THOROUGHLY TO BE ENJOYED. YET IN THIS WEAVE OF WELCOME, THERE IS AT LEAST ONE THREAD, OF WHATEVER ONE CHOOSES TO CALL IT, THAT HAS PROVED PUZZLING.

Above a certain pawnbroker's shop, on a street from the East, in the headquarters, swings a banner with foot-high lettering.

"Welcome, N. E. A.!" it runs.

SOCIETY

An engagement of interest was announced in Spokane a few days ago when Miss Eleanor Merrill told of her betrothal to Herbert Houghton Clarke, son of D. D. Clarke, of the Portland Water Bureau. The bride-to-be has just completed a year's study in the Oberlin Conservatory of Music and is now operating fruit farms near Central Point, Or. The wedding will take place in Spokane this month.

Miss Elizabeth E. Matthews, the well-known kindergarten, has returned from a fortnight's stay at Neah-Kahnie and will entertain a house party of kindergartners from the East, whom she made the Froebel pilgrimage in 1911.

Robert G. Kendall, of Worcester, Mass., is spending the summer with Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Holt at their home in this city. Mr. Kendall is the son of Wesley L. Kendall, prominent in Portland 25 years ago.

Miss Adella M. Parker and her mother, Mrs. William Edd Eldridge Parker, of Seattle, will be in the city for several days as the guests of Mrs. Frederick M. Chapel, at the Hotel Apartments.

Miss Eleanor S. Cohen, of Baltimore, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Benjamin I. Cohen, of 708 Gilliam street.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Hixcox, Miss Florence and Master Herbert Hixcox, have gone to Seaside for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Fox and his family have retired from politics for this convention, and there is every indication that the women delegates will be permitted to name their own candidates.

NEW DIVISION FORMS

ADDITIONAL RECRUITS FOR NAVAL MILITIA ARE SOUGHT.

Third Division Will Leave July 25 for Training Station at University of Washington.

The way is opened for additional recruits to join the Oregon Naval Militia, three divisions having been authorized, and the first of the new units, or the Third Division, is now forming under the direction of Ensign Frank B. Upshaw at the O. N. G. recruiting office, 106 Fifth street.

The first two divisions of the Naval Militia were mobilized the day after war was declared and were placed immediately aboard warships. They are now serving in the first line of the country's defense. Young men of this state will have the added advantage, in enlisting in this unit, of the naval force of being exempt from the provisions of the draft and, moreover, they will be enlisted only for the period of the war. Usually, naval recruits sign up for four years' service, but in this case they enlist for the war only.

The division now forming here will leave for Seattle about July 25. It is expected, and will assemble at the training station now being established at the University of Washington. There they will go through training for a period of from three to six months, when they will be ready for active duty.

The University of Washington has a splendid equipment for this training course. The station has an ideal location, is provided with pure water, excellent drainage and sanitation and is directly accessible by water from the sea through the Lake Washington Canal.

ASTORIA GETS PAPER MILL

Fifteen Tons Daily Will Be Output at First, It Is Announced.

ASTORIA, Or., July 8.—(Special.)—C. F. Hendrickson has been chosen president of the Astoria Pulp & Paper Company, just organized here. L. E. Leadbetter and Charles H. Leadbetter, vice-president and secretary, respectively, together with J. M. Anderson as treasurer, comprise the list of officers.

The paper mill will begin operations within 10 days, it is announced, and at first 15 tons of paper a day will be the output. Provision is made to use wood pulp, but at first waste will be utilized.

HELP TO ALIENS TOLD

Citizenship Convention to Meet July 11 and 12.

SCHOOLS NOV/ DOING WORK

Sessions Will Be Held in First Presbyterian Church, Twelfth and Alder Streets—Prominent Educators to Speak.

An interesting feature of the fifty-fifth convention of the National Education Association will be the second citizenship convention of the Bureau of Naturalization of the United States Department of Labor, to be held Wednesday and Thursday, July 11 and 12, in the First Presbyterian Church, Twelfth and Alder streets.

Naturalization, since the inauguration of the Bureau's system of education for citizenship, has become a much more significant matter than ever before in the history of the country. The public schools of more than 1700 cities and towns, in response to the request of the Bureau of Naturalization, have formed classes for the education of aliens. The present convention has been called for the purpose of considering the best methods for carrying on this work.

John Speed Smith to Preside.
John Speed Smith, chief naturalization examiner for the Seattle District, will preside. Mr. Smith has charge of naturalization matters in Oregon, Washington, Montana and most of Idaho.

Mayor Baker will deliver an address of welcome. Superintendent Alderman, of Portland, will follow, speaking on the subject of "Compulsory Education for Aliens." Very much to the point and in line with the Bureau's policy, Mr. Alderman will speak on "Seattle's Public Schools in Co-operation With the Bureau of Naturalization. These will occupy the morning session on Wednesday.

Schools Are Aiding Aliens.
In the afternoon, Charles C. Kelso, Director of Social Center for the Los Angeles High School, will summarize "Co-operation Between the Bureau of Naturalization, the Public Schools and the Courts," showing how aliens in Los Angeles are assisted by the three agencies which are now almost equally interested in the great work of making new citizens for the Republic. The principal of Denver's unique and widely known school for those who want to learn the things that will immediately fit them for the business of earning a living—Miss Emily Griffith—will tell of the picturesque and practical work done under her direction in "Education for Citizenship in Denver Public Opportunity School." "Night Classes for Adult Foreigners," will be discussed out of an abundance of personal knowledge of the subject by Linden McCullough, La Grande's Superintendent of Schools. "Women's Organizations in the Americanization Work" have been a significant factor. What they have done will be told by Mrs. Grace H. Bagley, the chairman of the Americanization committee of the National American Woman Suffrage Association.

Justice McManis to Speak.
Wednesday night, at 8 o'clock, Henry B. Hazard, Naturalization Examiner in Portland, will give some account of the work of his service, drawn from 15 years of experience. He will tell of "The Friend of the Court and the Alien," "The Importance to Community and Country of Night Schools for Adult Foreigners" will be developed by E. C. Hartwell, the Superintendent of Schools in St. Paul. Justice McManis, of the Supreme Court of Oregon, knows better than almost any man the meaning of Citizenship, and can more adequately present it to an audience. Governor Withycombe will appropriately close Wednesday's session by sounding the note of the hour: "Citizenship and Patriotism."

The Thursday program will be announced later.

USE BREAD AND WHEAT FOODS ONLY TWICE DAILY, IS PLEA.

Dr. Charles R. Van Hise, Representative of Herbert Hoover, to Address N. E. A. Convention.

Eat bread and wheat products only twice a day. Cut out 25 per cent of your sugar consumption. Eat meat only once a day. It will be necessary for every American family to observe these injunctions absolutely to the letter if the United States and her allies are to win an early victory in this war, declared Dr. Charles R. Van Hise, president of the University of Wisconsin, at the First Presbyterian Church last night.

Dr. Van Hise has come to the N. E. A. convention as the personal representative of Herbert C. Hoover, the Federal Food Administrator, and he expects to tell not only the teachers, but the people of the Northwest generally of the important part that food conservation will play in the world conflict.

He urges the people to learn how to can and dry their fruits and vegetables and advised them to make use of the information compiled and distributed by the state agricultural colleges and the United States Department of Agriculture on these subjects.

He also points out that a substantial saving in the wheat supply can be accomplished by substituting barley, rice, corn or oatmeal for bread at one meeting a day, and by using the crusts and the broken slices.

He's telling her that nothing he received from home brought more joy, longer-lasting pleasure, greater relief from thirst and fatigue, than

WRIGLEY'S THE FLAVOR LASTS

She slipped a stick in every letter and mailed him a box now and then. Naturally he loves her, she loves him, and they both love WRIGLEY'S. Chew it after every meal.

Justice McManis, of the Supreme Court of Oregon, knows better than almost any man the meaning of Citizenship, and can more adequately present it to an audience.
