

RUSSIAN ARMY MAY BE COULDED UPON

Major-General Hugh L. Scott Is Eye Witness of Battle on Rumanian Front.

SLAVS FIGHT WITH SPIRIT

Accuracy of Russian Fire and Effective Concealment of Batteries Most Noticeable to American Observer.

PETROGRAD, July 8.—(Delayed.)—The Russian army is going to fight. The spirit among the troops everywhere is excellent. The advance so brilliantly begun has every chance for successful continuation.

Tremendous Bombardment Seen.—We journeyed from Tarnopol to the firing line in automobiles and were immediately escorted to the trenches. A tremendous bombardment was in progress and the Austrian lines were being battered by a continuous shower of shells.

The precision and exquisite working of the Russian machinery was a marvel to me. Every man was in his place, and there was not the slightest sign of insubordination or reluctance among the men.

Many Austrians Surrender.—We spent the night at the headquarters of the Sixth Corps of the Eleventh Army, but early in the morning of the 7th we returned to the trenches. Clambering out of the trenches into a wheat field on the summit of a ridge overlooking the Austrian positions, we watched the end of the battle.

The artillery preparations ceased suddenly, the order to advance was given and the whole Russian line swept forward in perfect unison. I was somewhat dismayed when, in a short time, I saw thousands of men pouring back again.

The Russian casualties were comparatively slight, as it was possible to judge by the number of ambulance wagons which the Russians sent forward.

Russians Will Go On Fighting.—General Scott said that the spirit and discipline of the Russian troops during this engagement was merely a sample of that which he found at other points on the front.

After a stop at Czernowitz, the capital of Bukovina, the Scott party went direct to Jassy, the seat of the Rumanian government, where a luncheon was given in their honor by the King and Queen of Rumania, who expressed pleasure over America's entrance into the war.

Except for a few informal conferences with the members of the Russian government, the work here of the Scott commission virtually has been concluded.

Cincinnati Explosions Kill Five.—CINCINNATI, July 9.—Five men are known to be dead, a number injured and others believed missing in the ruins of a building at 135 East Third street, following two explosions late today at the plant of the Interstate Sanitation Company.

TROUBLE THOUGHT ENDED

Kingman Authorities Believe They Have Control of Situation and That Quiet Is Restored—Denial of German Help Made.

GLOBE, Ariz., July 8.—James Chapman, local leader of the Industrial Workers of the World, announced tonight that he had received a telegram from the Pacific Coast asking all the marine transport workers on the Pacific Coast to go out on strike to aid the metal miners with their strikes.

KINGMAN, Ariz., July 9.—County authorities expressed the belief tonight that the strike situation in Mohave County had passed the critical stage.

The men were sought on warrants charging unlawful assemblage and attempts to interfere with mining operations, but up to night none of the 15 had been apprehended.

Mine to Remain Closed.—The Union Basin mine, ordered shut down by the management following a walkout of pumpmen Saturday night because they did not want to be called "scabs," will remain closed until the strikers' pieces are filled and probably until the mine troubles are over, it was announced.

Miners at Chloride, Ariz., it was announced today, agreed at a meeting held last night to reject strike proposals of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers industrial day the union members would ignore the strike movement.

I. W. W. Reported Chased Out.—Reports that citizens and miners at Chloride and Oatman, Ariz., had escorted the I. W. W. members from the camps were received here through unofficial sources, regarded as reliable, but had not been confirmed officially.

JEROME, Ariz., July 9.—Miners coming off shift late today at the United Verde mine reported that the pickets of the Metal Mine Workers Industrial Union of the I. W. W. were stopped by officers with drawn revolvers before any serious trouble occurred.

The miners said they were being called "scabs" by the pickets, who have been stationed near the United Verde since the Metal Mine Workers ordered a strike last Friday.

Rocks Hurlled at Pickets.—Rocks were hurled during the chase, but no one was injured. The picket line was re-established a short time later by the I. W. W. members, but it was said the number on duty was reduced to about half what it was before the outbreak.

A request for a "closed shop" to control the situation was presented to the mine operators tonight by representatives of the International Union. In the strike settled June 3, last, the men could recognize a number of the world and that guns or ammunition had been cached in mining camps and elsewhere to arm the members.

GLOBE, Ariz., July 9.—Categorical denials were made today by the representatives of the Industrial Workers of the World that their organization was under German influence, that a revolutionary movement had been planned by the Industrial Workers of the World and that guns or ammunition had been cached in mining camps and elsewhere to arm the members.

BISBEE, Ariz., July 9.—The Shattuck-Arizona mine here, closed since the beginning of the strike of the Metal Mine Workers Industrial Union two

NEW ATROCITIES REPORTED

Aged Financiers Deported by Germans as Act of Reprisal.—SEATTLE, Wash., July 9.—The deportation by Germany of more than a score of aged and infirm financiers of the United States, including Count Louis d'Ursel, a member of the Belgian war commission, was reported today to Baron Moncheur, chief of the commission, in a cable from Baron Beyens, Belgian Minister of Foreign Affairs.

The men taken all were men of more than middle age and active in financial and commercial affairs, who, because of their age and training, could be of no possible value to the Germans for the purpose of labor.

The Belgian mission finished a two days' visit here tonight with a public dinner, after which they left for Portland. General Leclercq, military leader of the mission, was gratified over today's report that the Belgian front and declared the activity in Galicia would play an important part in the war during the present summer.

Their first week of travel has been highly satisfactory to Baron Moncheur, head of the mission, and General Leclercq, who said today they were greatly affected by the receptions they have received and by evidence of friendship shown by Americans all along the way.
