(Special.) — When the Government needs soldiers, it conscripts them without giving the men any option in the matter, but when it needs money it asks for volunteers to give the use of their money at 3½ per cent, Dr.
Andrew Johnson, of Philadelphia, tonight pointed out to 2000 persons who listened to the first lecture of the 13day Chautauqua session, which opened today.

Dr. Johnson hastened to explain that he strongly favored the conscriptive method because, he said, "any man who is not ready to give his life for this country is not entitled to its protec-tion."

Courses Are Outlined.

The afternoon session today was devoted to outlining the proposed courses of lectures and study within the smaller circles of the Chatauqua and making the preliminary announcements.

Jack Larson, employed as ticket salesman at the auto entrance, was overcome by what he said was the effect of the sun's rays. He was revived after emergency first-aid was given him by visitors in the park.

In his decidedly humorous lecture, entitied "Ell and Ennis," Dr. Johnston showed that progress of much of the world is apparently blocked by the failure to distinguish between service and money standards.

In brief, Dr. Johnston's contention is that Americans put the dellar mark

INJUNCTION AGAINST HOOD RIVER CONCERN IS DISSOLVED.

Decree Is Issued by Judge Morrow and Plaintiff's Attorney Says Appenl May Be Taken.

HOOD RIVER, Or., July 10.—(Special.)—Decree of dissolution of the temporary injunction asked by the plaintiff's concern which sought to restrain the defendant, the co-operative sales agency, from the distribution of an $30,000 surplus fund and from the purchase of storage plants of the Hood River Apple Growers' Union, signed by Circuit Judge Robert G. Morrow, of Portland, was entered here today in the case of Hood River Orchards Company versus the Apple Growers' Association. Having been one of counsel for defendant, Judge Fred W. Wilson, of The Dalles, who succeeded Judge Bradshaw, was unable to sit in the case.

The decree of Judge Morrow em-podies practically the same points noted in the tentative findings of facts and a decision informally announced by the late Judge W. L. Bradshaw, of The Dalles, who heard the case, but who had failed to sign a formal decree be-fore his sudden death recently in Port-plaintiff fruit shipping concern, which is owned by H. F. Davidson and which asserted a right to a portion of the surplus fund after withdrawal from the fruit sales agency, basing the claim on tonnage earnings, says he is not in position at present to make a definite statement, but thinks it likely that the case will be appealed to the Supreme Court.
