BY ROSCOE FAWCETT

Portland and San Francisco might just as well have quit after one inning of their opening ball games yesterday. The score at the close of the initial stanza stood 5-1 in Portland's favor and that is how it ended, inasmuch as Byron Houck pitched rings around three Seal twirlers—"Indian" Smith, Olaf Erickson and "Indian" Johnson.

"Indian" Smith Bumped.

Jerry Downs, who manages the Seals now that Wolverton has nothing to do but draw salary, yanked Smith before the finish of the tempestuous first frame. Erickson pitched six innings until the eighth when Calvo batted for him. "Chief" Johnson, the big aborigine recently acquired by the Seals from Vernon, twirled the final inning.

Seals' Attempts Fly.

It wasn't in the cards for the Seals to win. Everything they tried floundered. If red hair was selling at $66.40 a cubic yard, Jerry Downs' would have fallen out or turned to pink. Jerome hit a line drive over second base in the first inning that ordinarily would have been safe. Sluggo happened to be covering and speared it. Downs later hit a ball that missed the left field home run boundary by 10 inches.

To cap the afternoon of misfits and misfortunes, Jerry pulled a "skull" in the ninth inning. Downs was on deck to bat when Malsel struck out. The pitch went wide and Fisher managed only to knock it down under Downs' soles. The obliging Seal manager thereupon scooped it up and handed said sphere to Fisher, amidst loud guffaws in the stands for umpire Finney immediately called Malsel out.

Wilies' Hit Scores Two.

The Seals scored their one run in the first inning on a double to left by Pick and Schaller's single to right. Holocheer opened for the Beavers by walking. Finelli bunted and advanced to second on Smith's overthrow to first. Willie scored both of them with a Texas leaguer over the pitcher's base. After Williams' out, Borton lined a single to right, scoring Willie. Origen made his home run by doubling to left, scoring a moment later on Pick's wild chuck to second base to catch Slign. Stiggy registered the fifth and final tally on Fisher's single through short.

About 1200 fans were out.

Score: San Francisco, 5; Portland, 1. Pitches: S.F. 107, P. 107. Errors: S.F. 1, P. 1. Double plays: S.F. 1, P. 1.
