GRADE TEACHERS BUSY

BISHOP SUMNER AT LUNCHEON AROUSES AUDIENCE

Speakers Take Exception to Declaration That They Should Advance to Higher Offices.

The presence of many distinguished guests, an atmosphere of friendliness and congeniality, eloquent addresses by men and women leaders in the educational world, inspiring music, artistically arranged roses adorning the festive board, a general expression of oneness as East and West clasped hands—these were the outstanding features of the luncheon given yesterday by the Portland Grade Teachers' Association in the crystal room of the Hotel Benson.

Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, veteran women educator, ex-superintendent of schools of Chicago, was the principal speaker, introduced by Miss Jessie McGregor, president of the Grade Teachers' Association, who presided.

Bishop Sumner paid tribute to Mrs. Young. In his address he said: "She always knew her job. She had a good memory, a marvelous memory and always was progressive." The bishop in advancing the advice that teachers should not be content to stand still was taken literally by several of the speakers that followed. They took exception to his statement, and after he had accompanied Mrs. Young from the room, Miss Sarah Helena Fahay, of New York, who was called upon for a speech, said: "Bishop Sumner aroused me when he said the grade teachers should advance to other and higher offices. I hope the time will come when the grade teacher will be recognized for her ability and paid as well as the teacher in the higher classes. Here is the important work, molding the character of the young children of the country."

Seated at the president's table were Miss Jessie McGregor, Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, Bishop Sumner, Edith Knight Holmes, D. A. Grout, President Aley, E. R. Alderman, Katherine Beveraux Blake, C. A. Rice, Ruth Miller, Sara Helena Fahay, Mary C. C. Bradford, Dr. E. A. Sommer, Viola Ortschold, Wil-

EXTENSION WORK OF VALUE

Educators Show Assistance Given Country in War Time.

Extension education was considered at two conferences yesterday at the Lincoln High School, and further sessions will be held today. C. W. Pugsley, director of extension work at the University of Nebraska, who is president of the conference, gave an address yesterday morning, which was followed by sectional conferences. In the afternoon various phases of extension work were discussed.

The importance of this work was brought out and the fact emphasized that the war is showing the value of this work, which means more and better production of all kinds of foodstuffs.

O. M. Plummer, of Portland, was on the afternoon's programme.

MERMAIDS TO MAKE TRIP

Multnomah Club Girls Will Join "Honk-Honk" Tour to Beaches.

Among the 150 or more who participate next week-end in the annual "honk-honk" tour of the Dealers' Motorcar Association of Oregon will be 10 of the star women swimmers of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club, who are to be featured in the bathing girls' parade on the Seaside beach Sunday afternoon and who are also to appear in fancy swimming exhibitions.

The women swimmers are to be the guests of the association, and will be provided with chaperons. M. O. Wilkins, president of the association, said yesterday that he expected at least 30 or 40 machines to make the trip.

BATTERY B GAINS MEN

SIX MORE RECRUITS OBTAINED FOR FIELD ARTILLERY.

Third Oregon Also Is in Need of Volunteers to Fill All Vacancies Before Draft.

The patriotic slogan, "Be a volunteer," is bringing in many recruits for Battery B, the new field artillery unit being organized in the Oregon National Guard for service in France. An effort will be made to speed up the recruiting still faster, however, so that the new battery may have the nucleus of a fine outfit before the draft goes into effect. This is expected to be within the next few days, so there is every incentive to hurry for the man who feels a patriotic call to join the colors and prefers to be able to select his own military outfit, instead of being arbitrarily drafted into one branch of the service or another.

Six more recruits presented themselves yesterday to Lieutenant Charles C. Johnson, First Lieutenant of Battery A, for enlistment in Battery B. The National Guard recruiting station is at 104 Fourth street.

Recruits are also wanted to fill the ranks of the Third Oregon Infantry to full war strength. The Third Oregon is only about 50 men short.

DEANS OF WOMEN CONFER

Subject of Secret Executive Session Not Disclosed.

After their preliminary meeting yesterday, in which the set speeches were disposed of, the National Conference of Deans of Women, meeting at the Multnomah Hotel, as one of the conferences in connection with the National Education Association Convention, went into executive session and refused even to divulge the subjects of its deliberations to J. W. Searson, the publicity argus of the convention.

Miss Rhoda M. White, dean of the State College of Washington, and chairman of the resolutions committee, declared that their findings will come to light when the committee reports today. The speakers were Eliza R. Butler, of

GASTON IN NEED OF RAIN

Hay All in and Grains Show Lack of Moisture.

GASTON, Or., July 10.—(Special.)—A good soaking rain of several days' duration is badly needed in this part of the valley. Most farmers have their clover hay in the barn, and their vetch not yet cut. Winter wheat and other grains are heading out and a good rain would help it to fill. Spring wheat is very short and needs rain badly. Pasture is also beginning to dry up, and corn, potatoes, root crops and all garden stuff are suffering for want of moisture. Many dairymen are waiting for rain so as to put out their kale.

MARSHFIELD GUARD READY

Eleventh Company Coast Artillery, However, Needs Recruits.

MARSHFIELD, Or., July 10.—(Special.)—The Eleventh Company, Coast Artillery, organized last year, is ready for mobilization and unless the orders are changed will be mustered into the Federal service July 15. The company is officered by Captain Fred K. Gettins, First Lieutenant Frederick W. Smith and Second Lieutenant James Mills.

When the orders came for those with exemptions to present their claims, the company lost 12 of its ablest men, but their places have since been filled, but can be recruited here if necessary in a few days.

$60,000 PAYMENT IS MADE

Final Installment of $150,000 Paid on Queen of Bronze Mine.

MEDFORD, Or., July 10.—(Special.)—The final chapter in a mining deal of importance came today when the last payment of $60,000 cash was made on the Queen of Bronze mine by John Hampshire, representing the purchasing syndicate.

The purchase price was $150,000, the syndicate being formed by Colorado Springs mining men. A corporation will be formed and the property operated on an extensive scale. According to the owners $250,000 worth of ore was shipped from the mine in the past year.

forces on the Willamette-Pacific have departed and the railroad is considered finished.

C. R. Broughton, chief of the bridge building, and who directed the construction of the bridges here, at the Umpqua and on the Siuslaw River, was the last to leave. He went to San Francisco for a new assignment. Mr. Broughton was the victim of an accident in the Schofield-Creek tunnel while on this work and lost a leg.
