

PROHIBITION FIGHT NOT NEAR ITS END

Differences in House and Senate Make Contest Likely in Conference.

LOBBIES ARE STILL POTENT

Regardless of Vote on Prohibition in Food Bill, New Effort Will Be Made to Submit Constitutional Amendment.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, July 12.—The prohibition fight in Congress is not ended, and it may not end when the Senate and House reach a final agreement on the prohibition provisions of the food conservation bill.

The House, in considering the food bill, voted for a "bone-dry" United States during the war. On the theory that by stopping the manufacture of whisky, beer and wine they would be conserving food products.

More Contests in Sight. With the House and Senate voting for different propositions the bill must be adjusted in conference, and after the conference committee reaches an agreement its report must be accepted by both Senate and House before it can be sent to the President for approval.

Any general attempt to withdraw this liquor from bonded warehouses will lead to another prohibition fight in Congress to prohibit the sale of whisky during the continuance of the war, for such withdrawal would be contrary to the professed intent of the Senate in adopting the Robinson amendment.

REGARDLESS OF WHAT CONGRESS ultimately does with the prohibition amendments to the food bill, there will be a renewed effort to get a vote on the resolution submitting a prohibition amendment to the constitutional amendment to the states for ratification.

From the prohibition standpoint, the lively fight in the Senate, and the switch of four Democratic and one Republican Senator on the whisky question demonstrated that the whisky influence is still potent in Washington.

It did not win everything; it could not head off the injunction against the manufacture of further whisky, but it did contrive to get authority to sell all whisky that has been manufactured to date, and with a restricted supply it can sell for fancy prices.

International Officials Indorse Agreement as Drawn and as Rejected by Local Union.

BUTTE, Mont., July 12.—That the Electricians' Union at its meeting last night not only took exception to one or two clauses in the agreement drawn up by its strike committee with the Montana Power Company, but made a flat rejection of the entire agreement in its present form became known today.

The union's vote will bring a very serious difference in labor ranks here is also acknowledged. The agreement was indorsed by the officers of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, the union's parent organization, as being favorable to the men as any agreement in the country.

NATION OBTAINS STEEL

AGREEMENT MADE WITH PRODUCERS OF BASIC PRODUCTS.

Manufacturers Assure Car Builders of Enough Steel for Speedy Construction.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Formal announcement was made by Secretary Baker today that an agreement had been reached with representatives of the American steel industry in conference here under which the entire production of the industry would be made available for the Government's war purposes at a price to be determined on the basis of a cost-of-production inquiry being conducted by the Federal Trade Commission.

On their side, the Government representatives assured the steel men that reasonable profits would be included in the price fixed, and that provision also would be made to care for the expansion of the industry to meet new demands.

Steel manufacturers, Secretary Redfield announced today, have assured railroad car builders of enough steel to insure speedy construction. There are now building in this country about 30,000 and some 2000 locomotives.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought joy to many childless women by restoring them to normal health. Here is a notable case.

Omaha, Neb.—"I suffered from female troubles when I was seventeen years old. At eighteen I was married and my trouble was no better so I consulted a physician who said that there was not much I could do and I could not have children. I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has proved worth its weight in gold to me for I am not only well but have a baby girl, so when I hear of any woman suffering as I was I tell her of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. —Mrs. W. HUGHES, 19 Majestic Apts., Omaha, Neb.

In many other homes, once childless, there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

Time and again ladies looking in our windows say, "Oh, if I had only seen these coats before I bought mine."
