BY ROSCOE FAWCETT. Not content with yanking the Oaks out of fourth position the Portland Beavers struck out for higher honors yesterday, trimming the San Francisco league leaders for the fourth consecutive afternoon. Score: Portland 3,

If Jerry Downs doesn't stir his Seals about a bit they'll be acting a slient part in the pennant race before long. This week the visitors have been about as much use to Hennery Berry as a lawn mower to the street-sweeping department.

Nobody forgot to run home from third base yesterday. San Francisco lost because the Beavers picked on Southpaw Oldham in one inning, the second, and by a sudden and overwhelming attack, rushed three runs across the plate in a gang.

Oldham Pitches Good Ball.
Oldham pitched good ball after that, allowing eight hits all told, as against the same number off Kenneth Penner. His teammates couldn't quite accumulate enough safe hits off Penner's trajectories, however, to overcome the three-run handleap.

Kenneth Williams, toe, contrived to insert a wonderful one-hand circus catch, robbing Caivo of a second two-bagger, and this helped to take the heart out of the slipping, sliding, skidding hostiles from the gin phiz oasis to the seuth of us.

To them can be attributed a goodly share of the credit for the sudden spurt against the husky Seals. Hollocher played his usual brilliant game, and Pinelli, Siglin and Baldwin all came through with hits when called upon. Baldwin also nalled Corhan at second by a great throw for the third second by a great throw for the third out in the eighth, when the game was settling down to a crisis.

Attendance Is Small.

Attendance Is Small.

It was Friday, the thirteenth, and there were just about enough paid admissions to furnish one to each numeral. No Sherlock Holmes is needed to deduce that unless the fans pile out and support the club a little better there'll be no baseball at all after a while.

Although the weather was ideal for baseball there weren't 800 paid fans in the stands and bleachers. Women, of course, are admitted free the first four games of each week, so the several hundred feminine fans didn't swell the finances any.

Borton led the attack that resulted in giving Portland the three runs in the second inning. After his single to center, Griggs singled to the same hole. Siglin doubled to the left field fence and scored Borton. Baldwin singled over second base, scoring Griggs, and on Penner's grounder into a double play at short Siglin scampered home with what proved to be the winning registration. ning registration.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 13.—(Special.)

The fans were expecting Bill Cunningham to be the first to get a crack at the big show, with one or two others as second choice. But none suspected that Long Tom Cunningham the Scattle backstop, would graduate. That is just what happened. Dug declared that the big catcher would leave for Brooklyn to join the Dodgers with Bill Leard after Sunday's game.

Just how it all happened none knows, excepting that the Dodgers wanted a catcher and Dug said Tom was the main and Tom will get the chance.

Pat Eastley, Seattle's reliable twirler, could finish the season with the Lincoln Western League team if Pat desired to make the trip, but Eastley has his eyes on bigger game. Pat believes he is capable of pitching class Aa ball and he turned down Dug's offer. If Eastley doesn't go to the Coast, he probably will work in the Shipbullders' League.
