"Chief" Johnson got better support than Brenton and was returned victor in the second, 5-3. Approximotely 4000 fans saw the double

Charley Hollocher had a field day at bat, getting three hits in each encounter. Siglin surprised himself by obtain-ing four hits in four trips against Baum in the opener.

Downs Is Down-hearted. Jerry Downs said last night that if the Seals hadn't won the second game, after losing six straight, he would have pushed someone off the Broadway Bridge, burned an orphans' home and then committed suicide by inhaling a bundle of barbed wire.

And Jerry looked the part along about 3 P. M.

"They outlucked and outplayed us all week up to the final game," said Manager Downs last night, as he boarded the train for Los Angeles.

The Seals scored their only run in the first game on an error by Griggs. Fincher pitched beautifully, holding the visitors to four lonely hits, as against a lusty 13 off Baum. The Beavers ran the bars until their tongues were hang-the bags until their tongues were hang-ing out like a panting spaniel's. Ralph Pinelli enjoyed the unusual distinction of coming through with four sacrifices in one game, three of them bunts and one a long sacrifice fly. Of-ficially he appears at bat only once during the first game. Seals Get to Brenton.

In the second affair the Seals got to Brenton in the third inning for three runs. Baker walked; Fitzgerald doubled; Holly and Pinelli gummed up Pick's grounder, treating it like a ma-laria germ, and scored one, and Calvo punched the other two home on a single to centerfield.

Calvo's single and Schaller's two-bag-ger added another in the fifth, and Schaller's double and a passed ball by Baldwin sent home the fifth and final Portland got the jumps on the Seals in the first inning and everybody thought the Beavers were due for their seventh straight win. Holly singled infield but was doubled out. Wille cracked a two-bagger to center and Williams scored him with a line drive

The Seals forged ahead, 3-1, in the third and 4-1 in the fifth, but, if the coacher had used good judgment on third base in the sixth the locals might have overcome this lead. Hollocher be-gun by lacing a triple to left; Pinelli scored him by doubling to right cen-ter, and, after Williams' fly to Fitzd, moved along to third, Borton walked.

Griggs thereupon came through with two-bagger to centerfield, scoring inelli. Borton should have been held Pinelli. at third but, Ken Penner elected to send him home, and Downs' throw had him a city block.

Baldwin's passed ball further scrambled the situation in the eighth.

Billy Sullivan, former Chicago catcher, drove to town in his flivver yesterday, and sat on the Seals' bench a part of the time late in the afternoon. The Beavers blame Billy for breaking the stell they had exercised over the the spell they had exercised over the Scores:

Sometimes it's hard to convince a man that there's a better way of doing something. The first typewriter didn't get a very warm reception. Rubber shoes were laughed to scorn when Goodyear introduced them. The man who invented the umbrella was considered a harmless lunatic - but people tried these things and they made good. Here's a better Shaving Cream that's different—and makes good. It beats old-line shaving soaps—like the typewriter beats the pen. You'll get a better, easier, quicker shave-if you'll try
