THE NEW CHANCELLOR'S SPEECH

Chancellor Michaelis' speech to the Reichstag confirms the worst impressions in regard to the crisis which put him in office. He repeats the same falsehoods about responsibility for the war which have been uttered by Germany from the first.

When we construe the word "guarantee" in the sense in which the Pan-Germans who put Dr. Michaelis in office, the first of those three sentences is flatly contradicted by the last.

Germany did not desire the war in order to make conquests and the victors will not continue the war a day longer merely to continue the conquests.

What was this peace offer? Without stating any basis, Germany on December 12, 1916, invited the belligerents to enter a peace conference.

MOCK MORALITY. A sage contemporary remarks that it is safe to say that Warden Murphy feels easier in mind today because he was not called upon to spring the trap under William Branson and that if Branson and Mrs. Booth are innocent

WE deny the accusation that submarine warfare is contrary to international law and violates the rights of humanity.

INTERNATIONAL law requires visit and search of merchant ships and provision for safety of noncombatants.

THIS statement is flatly contradicted by the reports of Britain, which has shown more than sufficient evidence of the worst about its losses and blunders.

THE submarine is accomplishing all and more than it is expected to. It impairs England's economic life and the conduct of the war month by month in a growing degree.

FROM the beginning of the war to December 31, 1916, the tonnage of all nations destroyed exceeded the tonnage built by only 377,827.

HOW slightly England's economic life is affected can be judged from the statement of Kennedy Jones, British director general of food economy, that "it is certain we will be able to start the new cereal year with nearly seven months' stocks."

WE look without serious concern upon the optimistic sentiment in the entente countries caused by America's intervention. It is safe to reckon how much tonnage is necessary to transport an army from America to Europe, how much tonnage is required to feed the army, France and England are severely straitened for supplies.

THE United States has already transported a division of troops to France without the loss of a ship or a man. It is producing ships at a rate which will enable it a year hence to have in every physical emergency all the tonnage necessary to supply the army.

What an added attraction to the vast outdoors of America it would be to have ten thousand guides equipped as the veterans of Long's Peak! One can easily visualize a steadily increasing stream of Americans from every city in the country flowing toward the West.

It has been found that women excel in the making of maps and wing surfaces for airplanes—in fact, that their work in this regard is so far superior to that of men that they practically have a monopoly.

IS WIFE AT WORK DEPENDENT? Point Not Specifically Covered in Regulations Governing Draft.

PORTLAND, July 22.—(To the Editor.)—Both my husband and I are employed. We have applied for exemption in military service for him on the ground that I am dependent. The affidavit requires that I give the approximate amount of money received for the last year exclusive of that which I have received from my husband, and I am in a quandary as to how to state the amount of my salary or if it is meant for other independent income such as from an estate, etc.

GERMAN KAISER'S NUMBER IS 6. Uncanny Recurrence of Figure in War Events Leads to Prophecy. (Published in a North Dakota paper and signed "Anonymous.") I have never been much of a believer in astrology, necromancy, "spirits that peek and mutter," and such like, but recently I came across something so curious and uncanny I thought your readers might like to see it, too. Here it is: "Bohemian" Kaiser's number is 6? The Kaiser is the man who started the war in Serbia in the country where the war started. There are six letters in each of these words, and if written together in the order in which they appear, the child or children."

Probably Tapeworm. M. H. writes: "I have been in poor health for 10 years, having great stomach and intestinal trouble, being particularly troubled with constipation. A doctor has diagnosed my trouble as ulcer of the stomach up until a few months ago, when he stated that the trouble was either 'tapeworm' or gall trouble. I believe I also have a tapeworm. If I have a tapeworm, what shall I take to kill it? (1) EATING OF THE MEAT OF THE TAPEWORM IN NATURE'S WAY OR MUST I TAKE OTHER MEANS TO BE RID OF IT? (2) Would it be possible for a tapeworm to be present for several years? (3) What causes tapeworms and what shall I do to avoid being so afflicted in the future?"—REPLY.
