

DETECTIVES SCOUT TONG WAR THEORY

Japanese Not Believed Guilty of Latest Killing of Chinese Clansmen.

GRAND JURY GETS FACTS

Slueth Appears Before Investigating Body by His Own Request—Low Soon Is Finally Given Up by Washington State.

Further sensational developments in the last tong killing of July 18 are expected hourly, as a result of investigations made yesterday by city and county officials. It became known yesterday that City Detective Tichenor, who had been placed in charge of the tong investigation by Mayor Baker, has appeared before the grand jury at his own request. It is known, too, that Detective Tichenor has advanced theories and statements of the latest tong murder to the effect that it was strictly a Bing Kung-Bow Leong killing.

Despite the sworn statements given to Chief Deputy District Attorney Collier by Miss Semler and M. L. Hochfeld, pawnbrokers, to the effect that the two rifles used in the latest killing were purchased from them by a Japanese, the detectives scout the Japanese theory. Semler, says the detectives, is known to be the favorite pawnbroker for the Chinese of Portland, and especially the Bing Kungs.

City Combed for Japanese.

Although they are placing little faith in the Japanese theory of the latest murder, city detectives yesterday combed the city for Japanese, answering the descriptions said to have been given by both Hochfeld and Semler. It is known that the Japanese put on Japanese under a grueling examination yesterday afternoon, but it was not learned whether he had advanced any information which might prove of value.

In scouting the theory that a Japanese did the killing, the detectives point to the fact that the sounds of the shots which killed Back Yee had scarcely died away before prominent members of the Bing Kung-Bow Leong tong appeared before city and county officials to advance the Japanese theory.

Although the officers of the Hop Sing and Suey Sing tongs have not yet been arraigned under the secret blanket indictment charging them with the murder of Chin Hong, E. W. Littlefield, of counsel for the tongs, said yesterday that unless some action were taken within the next day or two he would start habeas corpus proceedings to have them brought into court for arraignment.

Five Chinese Arraigned.

Five of the six Chinese indicted two weeks ago for the murder of Jan Joe, who was killed in the same gun fight which killed Chin Hong, were arraigned yesterday before Circuit Judge Gatson and given until Monday afternoon in which to plead. These Chinese are Yee Guk, Shee Fong, Lee Fong, Low Ju and Wong Yuen.

It was also learned yesterday that in addition to Littlefield and Maguire, the Hop Sing and Suey Sing have retained Henry McGinn as one of the counsel for the defendants and wealthy members of both tongs. It was also said that a prominent criminal lawyer in Los Angeles might be retained by these tongs.

Word was received from Tacoma yesterday that Chief Deputy District Attorney Collier had been successful in extraditing Low Soon, a member of the allied Hop Sing and Suey Sing tongs, to Portland to answer a charge of second degree murder.

AUTO GOES INTO CANYON

Empty Car Starts When Kliekkitt Sheriff Is Cranking Machine.

GOLDENDALE, Wash., July 24.—(Special.)—An automobile owned by Kliekkitt County plunged off the Big Kliekkitt grade at the head of Sheep Canyon on the road from Goldendale to Glenwood while Sheriff Henderson was on his way to the latter place. The officer had stopped to crank the car and while doing so the machine started suddenly and went over the bank before he could do anything to prevent it.

The car rolled several hundred feet down the side of the steep canyon and was demolished.

IDAHO SCHOOL FUND GROWS

State Auditor Distributes Almost Half Million in 1917.

BOISE, Idaho, July 24.—(Special.)—Clarence Van Dusen, State Auditor, has distributed a total of $496,355.80 to the public schools of the state during the first six months of 1916, according to a report made at the request of the State Land Board. This money is the proceeds of interest and rentals from the state school fund.

Appropriations in previous years have been as follows: In 1914, $222,370.78; in 1915, $340,838.08; in 1916, $364,347.

Be Careful in Using Soap on Your Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsified coconut oil, for it is pure and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Adv.

SOCIETY NEWS

SOCIETY BELLE WHOSE WEDDING TODAY WILL BE NOTABLE EVENT OF THE SEASON.

MISS HELEN LADD.

The marriage of Miss Helen Ladd and Alan Green at 5 o'clock today will be the all-important event on the social calendar for the summer. The ceremony will be solemnized in the garden of Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett's residence. Bishop Sumner will read the wedding service and the setting for the ceremony will be quite simple—no artificial flowers or specially built marquees will be erected for the occasion, but one of the alluring, shady nooks of the stately, delightful garden will be the setting.

The guests will be the friends of the bride and groom. Mrs. W. Denison Clark, sister of the bridegroom, will be the matron of honor and Donald Green will attend his brother. There will be no retinue of maids or ushers. Rare old lace, an heirloom of the Ladd family, will adorn the bridal gown. There have been many and very handsome gifts showered upon the couple. The bride is an earnest and loyal worker in a number of charitable organizations and here acquaintance is wide. Both bride and bridegroom are members of prominent families. Miss Ladd is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Westley Ladd. A short wedding trip will follow the ceremony.

Miss Florence Knapp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Knapp, has as house guests two lovely California girls, Miss Roseline Beach, of San Jose, and Miss Geraldine McKnight, of Los Angeles. A week-end trip to Government Camp was planned last Saturday and Sunday for the visitors and for the coming week-end there will be a trip to Cloud Cap Inn. The girls are being entertained at numerous informal festivities and delightful outings. Mr. and Mrs. Charles King, of New York, also are guests of the Knapps. The Misses Knapp, McKnight and Beach are all members of Pi Beta Phi Sorority and shared in the festivities planned for the National president of that society, Dr. May Lansfield Keller, who visited here for several days.

Dr. Keller was honored at a luncheon at the University Club and at a dinner at the Benson. At the latter affair Mrs. Burton Beck was hostess. A trip out the Columbia River Highway with luncheon at Multnomah Falls and dinner at Eagle Creek, was another outing of the pleasure of Dr. Keller and the other guests.

On Friday last Mrs. Fletcher Linn entertained at quite a smart and interesting tea at her home on Portland Heights. She was assisted by Mrs. Frank L. Knight, Mrs. Burton Beck, Mrs. John R. Turner and Miss Betty Blackmar, all of whom are prominent local Pi Beta Phi's. Dr. Keller, besides being National president of this well-established society is dean at West Hampton College, Richmond, Va. She is a graduate of Goucher and took additional work and received degrees from Georgia and Heidelberg Universities. Accompanying her on her visit to Portland were Mrs. G. W. Tannahill, of Lewiston; Mrs. Harvey Beckus of Seattle; Mrs. Ford J. Allen, National vice-president; Miss Maude Shaefter, dean of women of the California State Normal of Fresno.

The visiting celebrities in the sorority world, installed the chapter at Corvallis and initiated the O. A. C. girls into the sorority. The officers left for California late Monday to install a chapter in Southern California and another in Arizona.

Mrs. Fred Livesey, of Winnipeg, is a visitor in Portland. Mrs. Livesey is the author of the book on Ruthenian folk songs. The volume is called "Songs of Ukraina." At one time Mrs. Livesey was society editor of the Ottawa Journal and later went to South Africa to the Boer concentration camp, where she wrote for various papers. Her knowledge of the Ruthenians came from the servants and others in her home city.

A marriage of interest Monday last was that of Miss Irene Johnson and Jackson Lee Morrow, which was solemnized at Trinity Episcopal Church. Rev. Dr. A. A. Morrison officiating. Mr. Morrow is a member of the Oregon National Guard and is popular among his many friends. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Morrow. The bride is a graduate of Lincoln High School and is socially charming.

A dancing party for the benefit of a company will be given on Friday night in the U. W. Hall, Fourth street, between Washington and Alder streets. The auxiliary to the company will entertain. Mrs. Victor Brown is president. Mrs. Harper secretary and Mrs. Warner treasurer. Miss Laura Shay, who has donated her services for Guire was another popular soloist. Inez Chambers played violin solos and Halfred Young, cornet solos. Lucile Jackson, a little girl in Quaker costume, gave a character song. Pretty Red Cross maids took up the silver offering.

The Grand Army's annual picnic will be held on Saturday at the Oaks. The members of the Woman's Relief Corps and the Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic will take full lunch baskets and all the "boys" in the G. A. R. will have a plentiful supply of goodies and a substantial repast. The picnic will be an all-day affair, with dancing and a programme included. Coffee, cream and sugar will be provided. Commander Gordon, of George Wright Post, is chairman of the committee on arrangements. Mrs. Margaret Reed is chairman of the coffee committee. Tom McDevitt is chairman of the dance committee.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

THE grillroom of the Seward Hotel luncheon on Saturday. The State Woman's Press Club entertained in honor of Mrs. Hessel and Mrs. L. Bronson-Salmon. Mrs. Hessel, formerly Edna Protzman, was the first corresponding secretary of the Press Club; she was at that time a member of the staff of the Evening Telegram. Mrs. Bronson-Salmon has just returned from an extended visit to her son, Professor Bronson, of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Hessel spoke of her work in the Presbyterian Church of which her husband is pastor. She lives in the town in California where Bret Harte first taught school; the house in which many of his stories were written still standing. She limits her writing to religious and some lines of social welfare work. The house was given over to the work of a few of the members present. Mrs. Lucia Faxon Addison, the president, has written 11 treatises on "Social Science," all of which have been distributed in every state of the Union.

The Mustard Seed—a little publication printed on yellow paper, came in for commendation from those present. Miss Helen Sayr Gray is the editor.

Mrs. L. B. Bartlett, who has done so much to preserve the music and legends of the olden times, has completed her Indian drama, "Wah-Mah-Wah-Lah." She will put it on the stage in Portland in the near future.

Mrs. Frances Marian Hawkes has written some well-received articles on the "Feminist Movement."

Miss Eleanor Baldwin has written a work on "Money," which was published from a visit of several weeks in the East. Miss Samuelis was entertained at smart affairs in Chicago and other large cities.

St. Roe Court, Women's Catholic Order of Foresters will entertain at a lawn social tomorrow night on the grounds of St. Stephen's school, East Forty-second and East Taylor streets. Cards and music will be features and a joyous evening is predicted.

Miss Amel Samuelis, an attractive and popular Portland girl, has returned from a visit of several weeks in the East. Miss Samuelis was entertained at smart affairs in Chicago and other large cities.

Mrs. Clifford B. Smith and young son, Gilbert, guests of Mrs. Julius M. Johnson, and Miss Ethel Albright are visiting friends in Oregon City. Mrs. Johnson will entertain for Mrs. Smith at a luncheon at Hotel Benson this week.

Judge Guy C. H. Corliss and Miss Mildred Corliss, of Portland, with Miss Harriet Allen, of St. Paul, are enjoying an outing at the Club House Manzanita, near Neah-Kah-Nie Mountain. Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Blood and daughter, Laura and son Edgar, Miss Katherine Erdner, Mrs. Winkelman, Mrs. George Weister, all of Portland and Miss Sarah Champion of Natal, South Africa, are part of the club house family. All are enjoying the sleeping porches in the pine and the delightful weather.

FORESTER RESORTS TO POETRY TO CAUTION CAMPERS.

A. G. JACKSON PUTS ESSENTIALS OF PROPER CONDUCT IN WILDS INTO VERSE.

VARIOUS devices have been employed to urge the public to greater consideration for the cleanliness and safety of the forests, but it remained for A. G. Jackson, forest examiner in charge of educational work of the United States Forest Service, to warble a warning.

Seated before his typewriter on the fourth floor of the Beck building, Mr. Jackson whacked out the following verses, which he holds to contain the essentials of proper conduct in the National forests:

One moment, please—
Did you wash the pots
And pans you used when you cooked your lunch?
Clean and in order for supper time—
Doesn't that sound like a pretty good lunch?

One moment, please—
Did you burn the scraps
And cover the grub away from the flies?
The view of a camp site spick and span is pleasant, indeed, to a sportsman's eyes.

One moment, please—
Is your campfire out,
So no blaze may start and destroy these trees?
Just a spark or an ember is menace
enough
When fanned into flame by the whispering breeze.

Michigan Iron Miners Strike.
IRONWOOD, Mich., July 24.—A general strike on the Gogebic Iron Range was threatened today when miners from two pits struck demanding a $8 wage for a six-hour day. The workers, it is claimed, are being organized by the Industrial Workers of the World.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE

BY LULIAN TINGLE.

PORTLAND, July 24.—Will you please give me a list of the best recipes for canning oil? Shall I look for it in the Sunday Oregonian. Thanking you very much. MRS. K.

I have at present no satisfactory recipe for putting up peppers in oil. Perhaps some reader may know of one. I believe that we have tried canning them in vinegar, but we have also had good results with the former. Do not remove the skin, as that contains oil that helps to keep the product moist. You should "scald" it, however, as a part of the "cleaning" process.

Canned Salmon (O. A. C. method.)—Make a brine of salt and water that will support a potato and after cleaning the fish properly place in brine for one-half hour. Remove from the brine, cut into convenient sections and pack in glass jars with the skin toward the outside. Add one level teaspoon salt to every quart. Adjust the rubber and cap, but not quite tight. Put on a rack in a washboiler in hot water to cover and boil three hours, counting from the time when boiling actually begins. Remove the jars, lighten covers. Invert to cool and to cool the brine. Wrap in paper to prevent bleaching. Store in a cool place.

JULY 19.—In making cherry olives it is necessary to seal until there is no leak when it is inverted.

I have trouble getting my lids on jars to seal. I used your recipe given in the Oregonian recently. Thanking you for the many helpful suggestions. MRS. J. B. W.

I fear the cherry pickles may not keep, if your jars are not air-tight. It would be better to open them and use for inequities, on the jar or cap, that may possibly be curable with a knife or file, and after noting whether the cherries are all sound repack with fresh brine and seal them airtight, with sound rubbers. Too thin rubbers may possibly be the cause of the leakage. I am glad you find this column helpful.

PORTLAND, July 18.—My dear Miss Tingle: Please give us as soon as possible the sweet-voiced soprano, was heard in a sweetly used in making a similar prod-

Come to Breakfast

IT'S not the breakfast bell that tells you the bacon is out of the pan, the egg is boiled, the toast is golden hot—

Yes, what is it?

To your nostrils comes an aroma, as you take a last stroke with the Gillette.

Co-f-f-e! Some coffee! Wife says it's made from "Dependable"—and I second the motion, for it's a good coffee to depend on.

Chock-full of energy and vim for the new day. You'll look forward to it as most men look forward to that after-dinner Havana.

And you won't need a "ring 'em again" for this breakfast call. Tell wife to set the scene for tomorrow.

Try a tin of "Dependable" at our risk. If it doesn't delight you, ask for your money back, no matter how much of it you've used. We'll pay the grocer.

"Oh Dear, That Cow's Head Looks Bigger Than Its Whole Body"

You've seen pictures of that kind. And you've also seen pictures of cows that were perfect classics; and yet you've heard people say that it "doesn't make any difference where you get your Kodak—they're all alike!"

The real truth is that your Kodak pictures depend on the kind of instruction you get when you buy your camera. If you buy of our Mr. Bergman, he'll see to it that you don't produce any big-headed cows and other distortions. He'll explain focus and light to you so clearly that you'll get good clear pictures from the very start. And then he'll see to it that your films are evenly and beautifully developed. It won't cost you any more to buy a Kodak here than a from some soda fountain clerk, but there will be all the difference in the world in the kind of pictures you'll get. Come in and see samples of what other beginners have done under Mr. Bergman's system of instruction.
