Dur-ing the night it reached two resi-dences, those of R. Rae and L.C. Hutchinson, employed at Aloha, located nea Joe Creek, and both were destroyed. During the afternoon the wind again shifted to the northwest, and it was feared this evening the fire might b fanned into dangerous proportions

Fire started nearly two miles from the other in the Aloha Company's log-ging works this afternoon on the windward side of the works and of the cut timber. Indications are it was set, though it may have been accidental. The wind was carrying it toward the down timber, but opportunities for fighting it were good tonight and it was believed it would be kept out of the logs. The company has about 1,500,000 high-grade spruce and cedar down and if the fire got into it the ward side of the works and of the cut 1,506,000 high-grade spruce and cedar down and if the fire got into it the loss would be heavy.

MISSOULA, Mont., July 23 .- Six fires in the Yak River Valley, in Northern Montana, declared to be incendiary, have greatly aggravated a forest fire situation which is threatening millions of dellars worth of timber in Montana and is said by Federal officials to be the most menacing in several years, An army of 1200 men is fighting the fires in Western Montana and Northern Idaho. Parched by the most severe drouth in 25 years, the forests in West-Montana and Northern Idaho are ared to be dryer than they were in 1916, when a general conflagration swept through the Cocur d'Alene country, destroying timber worth $15,000,000 and costing nearly a hundred lives. District Forester F. A. Silcox today said that the indications point toward a disaster as serious as that of 1910. As far as is known here, no one has been killed by the fires.

The fire has been burning for several days and was corralled several times, but broke forth with renewed fury Sunday night. It has burned over an area of about 200 acres and has now entered a section of the National forcest reserve, which embedies several bundred acres of the best timber in this part of the state. The timber also acts as a natural protection of the snow on the slopes of Mount Ashland, which says be cleared to the transport of the sunce of Ashland's water supply, with water.

Portland-Owned Steamer Here on Her Maiden Voyage for Lumber.

On her first trip to the scene of her building, the new steamer Ernest H. Meyer, owned by the Broughton & Wiggins Navigation Company, entered the river at 9:45 o'clock yesterday morning from the Golden Gate and went to St. Helens for a lumber cargo. She made more than 12 miles an hour on her trial trip last week and is cated among the fastest of her type on the Coost. The vessel was built at Astoria, Wilson Bros. having had the contract, and, though ordered by the Charles R. McCormick Company, was purchased by her present owners. The machinery was installed in the south. Stockholders in the company are all Portlanders.

ELEVATOR SITE NOT CHOSEN

Dock Body Falls to Pick Location at Executive Gathering.

Yesterday's executive session of the Commission of Public Docks failed to bring the members to a point of fixing on a selection of one of seven sites under consideration on which to erect the proposed grain elevator. The gathering convened at 10 o'clock and did not adjourn until after 12. There will be a regular meeting of the commission to-morrow morning, when the subject may again be taken up.

It was said that more reports were desired yesterday covering some of the sites and it was assumed that all of the members have not the sam views as to the property. It is thought there is a strong probability that steps will be taken tomorrow to expedite the sale of $1,000,000 of $3,000,000 bonds authorized by the voters in June, so that money may be available as soon as possible, as it is believed a site selec-tion will be made before the week ends.

TACOMA, Wash., July 24 .- (Special.) -Captain David W. Corning, retired shipmaster, aged 77 years, and known to seafaring men all over the world, died at his home here today. Captain Corning had been a resident of Tacoma for 11 years, but first came here as master of the British bark Howard D. Troop in 1900. Having one daughter, Mrs. J. C. Todd, a resident of Tacoma, and finding the city, in his opinion, an ideal place for a home. Captain Corning retired from the sea to make his residence here. As a shipmaster Captain Corning was one of the mariners of the old school and practically grew up on shipboard, which placed him in com-
