

SUGGESTION IS LATE

Mayor Ahead of Mr. Kellaher on Police Reorganization.

COMMISSIONER IS REBUKED

Mr. Baker Stops Criticism of Preceding Administration—Council Called to Consider Plan for Pruning Bureau.

When Dan Kellaher, Commissioner of Finance, attempted to tell Mayor Baker what to do with the police force yesterday at an informal conference of the Council in the Mayor's office, he was promptly told that he was too slow. An attack by Mr. Kellaher upon the preceding administration of police affairs was also rebuked by Mr. Baker.

"What you want to do with the police force is to cut it down hard," volunteered Mr. Kellaher. "It's fierce the way it's been run for four years, there are dozens of them standing around on the streets looking for something to do."

"Say, Dan," replied Mayor Baker, "I beat you to it on that stuff; I have been arranging for that for a long time. I propose to run for four years, but not so much so that it will be inefficient."

Mr. Kellaher refused to be silenced, however, until he had taken a fling at the preceding police administration. "It was fierce," he said. "It piled up a lot of old political barnacles that should be cut off."

"I am not criticizing my predecessor in office," replied Mayor Baker. "He had a mighty hard job, because it is not possible, under civil service and charter restrictions, to do just what you want to do."

"Well, he didn't have to put on an additional force of 25 or 30 more men," snapped Mr. Kellaher.

"Oh, well, there's a lot of things you don't know," retorted Mr. Baker. "But I hope the newspaper boys hear what you say; it would be too bad to do all of that talking and nothing to show for it."

"I'm not talking for publication," said Mr. Kellaher, amid the laughter of the Mayor and the other Commissioners.

Mayor Baker laid before the Council his proposed ordinance creating a police pension fund. Each Commissioner was given a copy and will study it and make any suggestions deemed wise.

Commissioner Kellaher advocated elimination of the sick relief and accident features and transferring that part to the state accident fund. His idea appealed strongly to the others and Mr. Kellaher was instructed to confer with Chairman Beckwith, of the State Commission on the subject, and to inspect the police system here and later will meet with the Council to go over the situation.

Mayor Baker announced that he figures on reducing the police force perhaps 15 men over and above those who are put on the pension list. He said he expects to cut the detective division about nine men and to lay off the balance from the patrol service, but made it clear that he has no intention of going so far as to cripple the efficiency of the service.

Upon recommendation of Chief Johnson, Mayor Baker asked the Council to consider appropriating about $4000 to install a new signal and reporting system.

FUEL FAMINE HITS BAY

LACK OF COAL IN SAN FRANCISCO SERIOUS.

Scores of Retailers Will Have to Close Their Yards If Relief Does Not Develop.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—(Special).—A coal famine in San Francisco is a stern reality at this time. So declared J. F. Mullen, secretary of the Retail Coal Dealers' Association, today to the San Francisco County Council of Defense.

Unless a remedy is found immediately, Mullen said, whereby coal could be brought into the city, 30 retail dealers will have to close their yards within a week, and scores more later.

Mullen said the wholesale yards are empty of coal, and, while plenty of coal is in northern ports, there are no ships to bring it here.

Judge Thomas F. Graham, chairman of the Defense Council, immediately took the matter up with A. H. Nafziger, of the State Council, and he would take it up at once with Governor Stephens. An effort will be made to secure both railroad cars and ships to bring in more adequate supply.

Ordinarily in the middle of Winter there is a temporary shortage of coal here, but there never before has been a lack of the commodity in the middle of Summer. It is feared the situation will become grave when the rainy weather sets in, unless something is done to bring relief.

BOND ISSUE AWARD WAITS

Tillamook County Court Postpones Action for Lumbermen's Trust Co.

The County Court of Tillamook County has postponed awarding its $2500 bond issue until the Lumbermen's Trust Company, the highest bidder, has had an opportunity to obtain an opinion from its attorneys as to the regularity of the proceedings under which the bonds were authorized.

Bids for the bonds were opened last Friday. The syndicate represented by Morris, of Portland, had the second highest bid, and had already obtained an approving opinion of its attorneys. Some sentiment was in favor of making the award to the Morris Bros. syndicate, although its bid was some $600 less than that of the Lumbermen's Trust Company. It is expected the matter will be determined promptly.

SOLDIER IS ACCUSED

Vancouver Private Named in Davis Divorce Suit.

MARRIED BLISS BRIEF

Husbands of One and Six Months Declare Wives Untrue to Vows.

Third Try at Marital Happiness Ends With Grief.

There have been more than a score of "war brides" in Portland during the recent weeks of mobilization of Oregon troops, but the first instance of a soldier's part in the submerging of the good ship Matrimony was brought to light yesterday when Edgar Scheff, a private stationed at Vancouver Barracks, was named co-respondent in a divorce action filed by Harold F. Davis against Ernestine Davis, a bride of six months.

The young wife is accused of carrying on a serious flirtation with the soldier youth under the name of Miss Ernie Meyers. She has been in frequent company with him both at Vancouver and Portland, the husband declares.

It was at Vancouver, February 6, last, that the young couple were married, Davis states in his complaint. Desertion is the basis of a divorce.

Further Hearings Are Held, but No Decisions Are Given Out.

Further hearings of cases on appeal were held yesterday by the district exemption board, but no definite decision was made public in any of the several cases which had been continued from Saturday. It was learned, however, that the case of Walter Domeyer was up for consideration.

Domeyer sought exemption on the grounds that he has relatives who are Germans, although he himself was born and raised an American. Domeyer has been granted an exemption of three months because he is a farmer, but his case will come up for further investigation at the expiration of his exemption period, it is understood.
