

I. W. W. FLIT AWAY FOLLOWING FIZZLE

Officers of Organization Instruct Members to Depart From Spokane.

HABEAS CORPUS UP TODAY

Court, However, Warns Attorneys for Prisoners That He Will Not Interfere With Authorized Officials of Army.

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 22.—(Special.)—Since the fizzle of the general I. W. W. strike for the Northwest, called for last Sunday, orders have been given by I. W. W. officers for a general exodus of members from Spokane.

Five aliens, two of them Germans, were among the 27 men arrested. They will be turned over to the Department of Justice, he said. Among the prisoners is also an American who could show no registration card.

Department of Justice officials were investigating activities of I. W. W. here for three weeks before the arrests, it developed today. As a result, it was stated on good authority, formal charges probably will be filed shortly against many of the prisoners.

Authority Showing Needed. Hearing of a petition for a writ of habeas corpus for the release of the J. W. W. members held in the County Jail following the raid on their headquarters last Sunday by a company of soldiers was continued until 2 o'clock tomorrow. Judge Oswald stated:

"The moment it is shown that Major Wilkins is holding these prisoners as an officer of the United States Army, with a color of authority, then my jurisdiction will cease and the matter be dropped."

Five more of the men arrested at I. W. W. headquarters here Sunday will be released as the result of investigation of their cases today by Major Clement Wilkins of the Idaho National Guard. Two were liberated today.

The work of James Rowan, district secretary, who signed the strike call, has been assumed by Arthur Smith, secretary at Missoula. Smith is quoted as having said that the investigation of the construction-workers is being taken on the strike call.

Colonel Dentler Is Target. Telegrams were sent tonight by a committee of the Central Labor Council, which Monday night submitted resolutions demanding the release of the prisoners, to President Wilson, Secretary of War Baker and President Samuel Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor.

The telegram to President Wilson demanded a general investigation of the arrest; that to Secretary Baker demanded the resignation of Colonel Dentler, commander of this district, who was reported to have caused the arrest, and that to Mr. Gompers suggested a general strike if any further arrests were made.

MORNING PICTURE NEWS

WILLIAM DESMOND IN "TIME LOCKS AND DIAMONDS" AT THE LIBERTY THEATER.

TODAY'S FILM FEATURES.
Liberty—William Desmond, "Time Locks and Diamonds."
Peoples—William Russell, "The Shackles of Truth."
Sunset—William Duncan, "God's Star—William Courtenay, "The Recall."
Columbia—Pauline Frederick, "Her Better Self."
Majestic—Valeska Suratt, "The Siren."
Circle—"The Railroad Raiders," Chapter 8.

THE life of an absolutely unscrupulous woman is portrayed in William Fox' latest photoplay, "The Siren," in which Valeska Suratt plays the leading part, appearing at the Majestic today. She is an unredeemed woman who goes to her death steeped in the sin which has characterized her life.
Her name is Vivian Courtney, though five years earlier she adopted the name of Cherry Millard, and is known only by that designation. She has made the change after ridding her life, as she thinks, of a man known only as the Stranger. He came home unexpectedly one night and found another man with her. He killed the man, was arrested and Vivian, instead of staying to testify in his favor, escaped, changed her name and disappeared, brought justice to the woman finally brought justice to the woman is the final theme of the play.

Liberty.
William Desmond will be seen in the latest Ince Triangle drama, "Time Locks and Diamonds," at the Liberty today. This is a cunningly contrived gentleman-crook story, with many bold and daring situations. These are so woven into the story that it is hard for anyone to solve the mysteries until the very end.
"Silver Jim" Farrell, as he is known to his accomplices, is the world's most criminal. His daring robberies are confined to one locality, but extend from New York to Rome. The police and international detectives are constantly on the alert to apprehend him. He is well-considered, bold, and proved to be his greatest safeguard. A beautiful love strain running through the entire drama is responsible for the happy ending.

Columbia.
Pauline Frederick has temporarily forsaken her customary "heavy roles," and in her latest picture, "Her Better Self," appearing at the Columbia today, is seen as a young society butterfly in love with a serious young doctor. The story deals with a young man who is a daughter of wealthy parents, who successfully bridges the vast gulf of poverty which yawns between her and the man she loves, who is a charity doctor. Pauline Frederick has given an exceptionally fine interpretation of this difficult role and is ably supported by a splendid cast, including Thomas McElhann, who has been seen with Miss Frederick in her most recent productions, Franko Rhein, Alice Hollister and Maude Turner Gordon.

Sunset.
"God's Country and the Woman," appearing at the Sunset today, is a drama of the great Northwest. It is adapted from the story written by James Oliver Curwood. It is the story of a man's great love for a woman he loves so great that he agrees to follow her wherever she goes, doing everything she asks, with no reward but her undying gratitude. The woman has always lived in the heart of the timberlands of the north, and the man comes there to spend a year. He becomes interested in her first because he wants her to confide in him a great sorrow which she seems to have. At first she will not listen to him, but sees that he is now going to give up and tells him that if he wants to help her, he may follow her wherever she goes. He does this, often wondering if his faith has been misplaced. How he finally wins out and the woman tells him that she has always loved him form a happy ending to the picture.

Screen Gossip.
Ethel Clayton's next play for World Pictures is due to be published late in September. It is called "The Woman Beneath," and the heroine is a society butterfly till the pinch comes, when she turns out to be true blue. There is some unusually clever comedy in this piece, to offset the powerful dramatic situations.
Dustin Farnum is the living proof that one doesn't have to be a Westerner to be a cowboy. He was born and reared in Levee, England. But he is one of the most fearless horsemen in the country, as his work in the William Fox production, "Durand of the Bad Lands," will prove.
Vola Vale is the latest member of filmdom to don the wide sombrero and do "westerns." Miss Vale's first appearance in such a role will be opposite Charlie Ray in his first art-craft release now in the process of production at the Thomas H. Ince studio.
George Fisher is the newest member of the Shooters' Club at Santa Barbara, which has organized for weekly practice in anticipation of the duck season. The club comprises exclusively members of the American Film studio.
"The Marriage Market," shortly to be published by World Pictures Brandy, will have one of those star casts for which this producing concern has become well known. This will include Carlyle Blackwell, June Elvidge, Arthur Ashley and other very well-known

PEACE PLAN LIKED

Chancellor Denies Pope Was Inspired by Germans.

CENTRAL POWERS CONFER

Suggestions Meet Approval Because They Are Along Lines "Of Our Own Expressed Attitude," Reichstag Is Informed.

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 22.—A Berlin despatch quotes Chancellor Michaelis before the main Reichstag committee Tuesday in part as follows:
"It is easily understood, in view of the attitude of our enemies, that, as the German press maintains, it is impossible for us to make fresh peace proposals."
The Chancellor here quoted the Berlin Vorwarts as stating that it is not such a situation as this that I now submit to you the peace proposal contained in the Pope's note. The contents of the note, I believe, are known to all of you.
"I think," he continued, "this is the general feeling of our people. It is such a situation as this that I now submit to you the peace proposal contained in the Pope's note. The contents of the note, I believe, are known to all of you."
"I cannot take up any definite proposition regarding the material tenor of the proposals or go into any details concerning them until an agreement is reached with our allies."
"It is only possible for me to explain my views in general terms. It is the opinion that the Pope's proposal was inspired by the central powers. It was due to the spontaneous decision of the bishops of the Catholic Church."
"If I must speak with reserve with regard to detail I can say that it corresponds generally to our own expressed attitude. We are sympathetic to every attempt to inspire the thought of peace among the war-weary people, and we especially greet the move of the Pope, which, in my opinion, was based on an earnest desire for impartiality and justice."
"Honorable Peace Desired."
"I sum up in this way:
"The note was not initiated by us, but was advanced on the spontaneous initiative of the Pope. We greet with sympathy the Pope's efforts by a durable peace to make an end of the war of peoples."
"Regarding the answer of the note: We are communicating with our allies, but the negotiations have not yet been concluded. For the present I am unable to enter upon a close discussion of the material points, but I am ready to discuss the matter further with the committee until the answer is ready. I express the hope that common labor will bring us nearer the realization of what all desire—an honorable peace for the fatherland."

The Danger of Imitations.

AN OHIO druggist writes to "The Practical Druggist," a prominent New York Drug Journal, as follows: "Please furnish formula for Castoria. All the formulas I have worked with are either ineffective or disagreeable to administer."
To this "The Practical Druggist" replies: "We do not supply formulas for proprietary articles. We couldn't if we wanted to. Your experience with imitative formulas is not surprising, but just what is to be expected. When Castoria is wanted, why not supply the genuine. If you make a substitute, it is not fair or right to label it Castoria. We can give you all sorts of laxative preparations for children, but not Castoria, and we think a mother who asks for Castoria would not feel kindly toward you if you gave her your own product under such a name."
No mother with a spark of affection for her child will overlook the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher when buying Castoria.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Extracts from Letters by Grateful Parents to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Mrs. Wm. Palmer, Sterling, Ill., says: "Your Castoria has been my friend for twenty years. I could not keep my children well without it. I cannot speak too highly of your wonderful remedy."
Mrs. Frank H. Caffery, of Providence, R. I., says: "If all young mothers would use Castoria it will bring up their child. My nurse and doctor can also tell what your Castoria can do."
Howard A. Banks, of Hickory, N. C., says: "Your Castoria is the only physic we ever give our three babies. The fact that we use it promptly is probably the reason we never have to use any other."
Mrs. A. J. Nelson, of Waco, Texas, says: "Enclosed you will find a picture of 'Our little Castoria boy.' When a week old I ordered your Castoria for him, and I have never been up a night with him since."
Mrs. Eva Ott Mehn, of Jersey City, N. J., says: "I attribute the present excellent condition of my baby to your Castoria which he has been using since he was three weeks old. I have not lost a night's sleep in seven months."
