MILITARY HONORS MEMORY OF HERO

Robert J. Barron Is Laid to Rest While Entire City Pays Last Loving Tribute.

ENFOLDS CASKET

Student Aviator Who Gave Life to Save Friends Is Followed to Grave by Large Concourse and Salute Is Fired.

Calvary Cemetery yesterday morning with full military honors, with magwith the limitary honors, with mag-nificent floral pieces as testimonial to the loving memory of friends, with the Stars and Stripes entwined about his casket, while the flag on every public building in the city was struck at half-mast. Never did hero receive a more fitting burial.

The young cadet, who was so be-loved by all who knew him, gave his life in an effort to save two classmates in the Delaware River at Essington, Fa., recently. His act in thus sacri-ficing himself brought him the military honors bestowed yesterday by direct order of the War Department.

Mother Would Given Dozen More. It was the heroic and tragic termi-nation of a career fraught with the brightest promise, but his mother, after watching the body of her boy lowered into the grave, said that, had she a doz-en sons, she would bid them all to fol-con sons, she would bid them all to follow his footsteps in manliness, patriotism, gentility and heroism.

Nearly all branches of the Army and Navy service were represented at the funeral, which was held at 9 o'clock from St. Mary's Cathedral, with Rev. Father George Thompson officiating, assisted by Fathers O'Hara and Campbell. The sermon breathed patriotism and emphasized manhood, eulogizing the cadet as an exemplification of true heroism—the kind which fades not herolsm-the kind which fades not

The cathedral was filled to overflowing and the floral tributes were beau-tiful and numerous. Thirty-four mem-bers of Company K, Third Oregon In-fantry, under command of Lieutenant W. H. Ellenburgh, escorted the body to its last resting place, where a firing squad paid final tribute to the dead and of the Circuit Court.

Mr. Barron was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Barron, brother of Mrs.
Charles T. Whitney, and nephew of Judge and Mrs. M. G. Munly, of this city. He was a cadet in the aviation school at Essington, and was to have been commissioned ensign in two weeks and would have been one of the first to and would have been one of the first to go to France. He was the leader of his class, and his former tutor paid him a high tribute. He was engaged to marry Miss Marian Corney, of Boston. The flag which covered his coffin was sent from the aviation station, with flowers and a letter to his mother signed "His student friends."

Preparedness League of American Dentists Fix Recruits' Teeth Free So They Can Join Fighters.

The Portland unit of the Prepared-The Portland unit of the Prepared-ness League of American Dentists, re-cently organized with Dr. F. H. Wal-gamot as chairman and Dr. M. M. Bett-man as secretary-treasurer, is planning to raise a fund of $800 to purchase a dental ambulance and present it to the United States Army. The Government promises to furnish equipment. The Portland unit already has 40 dentists anrolled, so present indications are that the ambulance fund will be raised in the near future.

The Preparedness League of American Dentists is a Nation-wide organization, with more than 6000 active mem-bers. It is already rendering a vast service to the Government, in that it is examining and repairing the teeth of applicants for enlistment in the Army and Navy without charge to those who cannot afford to pay a dentist's bill, and would otherwise be barred from service. The league was organized under the auspices of the National Dental Association and the surgeon-general of the United States. The National headquarters are at Buffalo, N. Y. The insignia of the league is a picture of one of the first American dentists and "the first member of the Preparedness League of American Dentists"—Faul Revere.

Persons wishing to contribute to the dental ambulance fund, and dentists wishing to join the Portland unit, should communicate with Dr. M. M. Bettman in the Electric building.

GUARDIANSHIP IS FOUGHT

Mrs. Sarah Da Mert Files Contest Against Late Husband's Estate.

To return from an extended visit to Chicago and find that another woman had by order of court been made the guardian of her small son was the experience of Mrs. Sarah Da Mert, widow of the late Frederick Da Mert, Mrs. Da Mert has started a contest against the estate as well as the guardianship of her son.
