ROBBERY OF MODISTE SHOP OF MRS. M. BAGLEY CONFESSED.

Arch Miller, Another Former Offender, Sentenced to Nine Months in County Jall for Larceny.

Bart Lynch, arrested Wednesday in Astoria while attempting to steal a large quantity of merchandise from the Bee Hive department store, was returned to Portland Thursday night by City Detective Snow after he had confessed to the Astoria police that he had robbed the modiste shop of Mrs. M. Bagley, in the Fliedner building, here early last Monday morning.

Lynch told the detectives that he had visited the dental offices of Dr. Charles H. Bleeg, on the fourth floor of the building, on Saturday. As the elevator was not running at the time he left the office, he walked down and on the third floor passed the rooms occupied by Mrs. Bagley. He noticed the expensive display of gowns and returned to the shop Sunday night. He slept in the building that night and at 5 o'clock Monday morning climbed through the transparent of the support and took cowns. Bart Lynch, arrested Wednesday in 5 o'clock Monday morning climbed Private Interests to Take Time of through the transom and took gowns valued at approximately $700. Lynch was sentenced to Monroe Re-formatory, in Washington, in 1914, to serve from one to 15 years. He was paroled a few months ago, but will probably be returned to that state to complete the time. Another former offender, Arch Miller, arrested Thursday by Detectives Tich-enor and Mallett for the larceny of a motorcycle, was sentenced yesterday by Municipal Judge Rossman to serve nine months in the County Jail.

NEW PLAN SAID TO HAVE RE-DUCED EFFICIENCY.

Commissioner Bigelow Contends Department Had Too Many Men Which Made Change Possible.

While City Commissioner Bigelow with two armed poss-ontends that his reorganization plan Thursday afternoon. in the Fire Bureau has not reduced efficiency, reports are current that efficiency has been affected and may cause insurance rates to increase. Some say the efficiency of the Fire Bureau could not be kept at its former standard with the men getting one day off in four in place of one day off in six, unless one man was added to each company, which has not been oversupplied. Others contend that because of the reduced number of men the efficiency of some of the steam engines is lessened, there being not enough men to handle all the lines of hose the engines are capable of supplying.

Mr. Bigelow says this is untrue. He contends Portland's efficiency is still ahead of that in Seattle where the twoplatoon system is in vogue.

Fire insurance people are making no statements further than to say the business of the Underwriters' Equitable Rating Bureau is to watch the fire department efficiency and all other things which go to make up the fire hazard on which the rates are fixed.
